HOOVER FIRES OPENING GUN

Outlines His Policy in Campaign for Republican Presidential Nomination

Withdraws Name as Candidate of Any Other Party—Always a Republican

Explains Why He Urged Support of Wilson in Last Campaign

NEW YORK, April 3.—Herbert Hoover, who has announced he is ready to accept the republican presidential nomination, if it is demanded of him, issued a statement today in which he requested he be not further embarrassed by suggestions of some independent candidates that his name be placed before any other party, as "a primary sense of team work in any party organization would preclude such a possibility."

Mr. Hoover said he had no great record of partisan activity and "admitted" that his political activity was confined to membership in a prominent republican club and allegiance to the party over a period of years. He added that, because of his profession of a mining engineer, continual shift of residence had prevented him from exercising as much as he desired the privilege of every citizen at the polls.

Asserting that his administrative duties in various relief organizations would prevent him from making a personal canvass for the nomination, Mr. Hoover said he expected Hoover organizations throughout the country would have to expend certain amounts for printing and other expenses, but that he hoped they would confine themselves to minor subscriptions and expenditures and would be prepared to open their books to public inspection.

Mr. Hoover requested that men and women advocating his nomination, "bear in mind that personal criticism of the other names before the party is chiefly of service to the opposition."

"All these men," he said, "are patriotic, honorable Americans. They have all served the country well and are entitled to respect."

Because he had refused to allow his name put into the primaries, Mr. Hoover declared that there was "little organization" on his behalf and, at this late date, no organization is possible that could compete with other organizations. He urged that his supporters confine their energies "to promotion of their views to the country and the delegates already named, with full respect to their prior pledges."

Mr. Hoover said that he had no expectation that his entrance into the presidential race would be welcomed by the "type of person who conceives that fitness for office, patriotism and citizenship, depend upon placing sheer

CALL FIREMEN WILL GET PAY

Writ of Mandamus Entitles Them to Wages for Past Two Months

City Council May Be Asked to Declare Call Force Abolished

The 11 call firemen who are to be restored to their positions in the local fire department as a result of the issuance of writs of mandamus by Judge Pierce in the supreme court yesterday will be entitled to their pay from Feb. 1 of this year up until the time they are restored to their places in the department by Commissioner John F. Salmon.

This will cost the city approximately $150. If the men are restored at once. During the two months that they were supposed to be no longer members of the department some of the callmen have continued to respond to alarms, but Commissioner Salmon instructed Chief Edward F. Saunders to give them no orders and to ignore them whenever they appeared at fires. Only one of the 11 men turned in his badge to the commissioner.

Mr. Salmon was not at city hall today and could not be located so that his plans regarding the restoration of the men might be known. However, the decision of the court gives him little choice of action. The men must be reinstated and then if further action is to be taken the municipal council may be called upon to declare the call force of the city abolished and to instruct the commissioner again to notify the callmen of their discharge.

Couns. 4 for the firemen at the hearing yesterday stressed the point that the abolition of the firemen was a matter of policy to be decided by the municipal council as a whole and not by any one commissioner. This together with the charge that the notices sent the firemen were not legally drawn is said to have been the point that decided the case.

As a result of recent legislation, the legal form of notice of removal of a city employee has been changed from what it has been for a number of years and when the notices were sent to the callmen they were drawn according to the old form instead of the new, it was said today. Furthermore, the law department was not called upon to pass on the legality of the notices when they were issued. City Solicitor William D. Regan says.

Whether Commissioner Salmon will ask the city council to pass a vote abolishing the call force of the fire department could not be learned today, owing to the commissioner's absence. However, one fact is assured—the callmen are entitled to two months' pay for which they are supposed to have done no work.

Partisanship above national interest or who requires years of demonstrated participation in work with mechanical politicians."

"I cannot assist these people with explanations trying to prove that I belong to their class," he added.

"Some people of this sort feel great trouble of mind that in a letter addressed to a friend last year I expressed my alarm at the then growing partisanship and pressed the need for unity of action between legislative and executive branches of the government, while we were still faced with the problems of war. It was obviously my duty as an important war official to support the president without thought of any political interest to myself from the day I entered the administration until I left it, and I put no qualifications upon or apologies for loyalty to one's chief in office."

CHICAGO, April 3.—Three more republican candidates for the presidency are planning to open headquarters and join the Wood and Lowden forces on "Presidential Row" in a downtown hotel, it was announced today.

Rooms have been reserved by friends of Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university; Governor Coolidge of Massachusetts and Senator Miles Poindexter.

The Harding and Hoover forces also are expected to open their headquarters here prior to the convention, June 8th.

LOWELL PREPARED FOR EASTER OBSERVANCE

Easter Sunday, one of the greatest days of jubilation on the ecclesiastical calendar, commemorative of the resurrection of Christ, will be observed in Lowell tomorrow under auspices of a most favorable nature, from present indications.

The weather man's outta board has spelled out fine spring weather for tomorrow, the churches have arranged programs expressing the rejoicing prevalent everywhere on Easter Sunday.

BILLERICA MAY BUILD AUDITORIUM

At a recent town meeting in North Billerica, a committee was appointed by the assembly to meet a representative committee of the American Legion Post 116 at that section, to discuss the proposition of the erection of an auditorium in the town. This proposition has been floating in rumors about the town for some time and it is now thought that the committees appointed will bring quick decision whether it is advisable to build such a structure.

As expressed by some of the residents of the town, the legion will vote favorably for an auditorium near the town centre. Considering the fact that the North Billerica post of the legion is quite large, some of the members expressed the opinion that it would not be too ambitious an undertaking to erect an entirely new building instead of purchasing a structure which would need constant repairs.

Just how the funds for such an auditorium will be obtained has not yet been mentioned, but it is thought that the town authorities will back the entire project.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

Convicted of a statutory offense, Harry Nichols of this city was sentenced to one year in the house of correction by Judge Enright, in the municipal court today. He appealed and was held in $1000 bonds for superior court. Nichols Christos, arraigned with Nichols on a similar charge, drew down a three months' sentence. He also appealed and was ordered to furnish $500 bonds.

The arraignment of the pair resulted from the arrest several days ago, of two Manchester girls, Helen George and Minnie Gauthier, charged with statutory offenses.

The two girls, who recently left their homes in Manchester to come to Lowell, gave considerable testimony in connection with meeting the two men at a local theatre and their subsequent relations with them.

In discussing the case Judge Enright expressed in an uncertain tone his opinion of the conduct of the two men, one of who was married. The father of one of the young women had visited him recently, he stated, and it was only after considerable persuasion that he had agreed to return to Manchester without attempting to do bodily harm to one of the men arraigned.

A suspended sentence to the woman's reformatory was ordered in the case of the George girl. The other girl was placed on probation.

Charged with drunkenness, George Leblanc of Nashua was found guilty and finally placed on probation with the understanding that restitution would be made for some damages to the window of a local lunch cart, said damage having been caused by George pushing his good right arm through the glass yesterday afternoon.

SUNDAY SPORTS BILL

Must Be Accepted By City Council Before Becoming Operative

Before the Sunday sports bill signed by Governor Coolidge late yesterday can become operative in this city it will have to be accepted by a vote of the municipal council, it was learned today.

If the council sees fit not to accept the bill then Lowell people will not be allowed to enjoy outdoor sports on the Sabbath but present indications are that the council will accept the act without dissent.

The only possibility of any opposition to the bill here in Lowell lies in the attitude of one or two of the local churches. When the war activities were at their height here in 1918 and Sunday baseball was allowed providing that the members of one of the contending teams were service men, one of the local ministers protested to Mayor Thompson against such playing on the Sabbath but as there was no united protest, no action was taken and the Sunday games went on.

The passage of the new bill is particularly pleasing to members of the local park commission who have agitated its enactment for the past three or four years and Clarence M. Wood, chairman of the commission, has given much of his time appearing personally at the state house in favor of the project.

With the attitude of the park commission known to be favorable toward the proposition there is little doubt but what the municipal council will accept the act and Lowell will be wide open for the enjoyment of Sunday baseball and other sports.

The South common has been the nucleus of Sunday baseball for the past few years when games have been allowed provided service men participated. However, with the acceptance of the new act it is very probable that every common and park in the city will have its Sunday afternoon games to furnish recreation and enjoyment to thousands of the city's residents.

The regulation of Sunday sporting activity will be in the hands of the park commission working in co-operation with the police department. The park department will issue permits for the use of the various commons and playgrounds and will have general supervision as to what teams shall use them, etc. The police department will be called upon to maintain order appropriate to the spirit of the Sabbath.

FIRE PROTECTION FOR THE HIGHLANDS

Further fire protection for the Highlands will be forthcoming next Monday when a second new piece of motorized apparatus within a few weeks will be installed in that section of the city. The new chemical and ladder truck recently ordered by Commissioner John F. Salmon is due to arrive here Monday and will be put in the Branch street house. A short time ago a triple-combination pumping engine was installed in the Westford street house, thus giving the Highlands two up-to-date pieces of motorized apparatus in addition to the old equipment previously there.

AMERICA AND ARMS

London Paper Says U. S. Revolted on Treaty Her Representatives Helped Draft

LONDON, April 3.—Discussing the American presidential situation and its possible effect on the relationship between Great Britain and the United States, the Daily News, under the caption: "America and arms," refers to the reaction from war in the United States.

"Rightly or wrongly," the newspaper says, "America revolted against the treaty her representatives had helped to draft, and under the influence of that emotion resolved not merely to maintain her detachment from Europe, but to arm herself potentially against Europe."

"Nothing will bring the two hemispheres together more rapidly than a demonstration from this side of the Atlantic of a sincere resolution to disarm. Nothing could be more beneficial to Anglo-American relations than an 'invitation,' extended more than once, by Walter Hume Long, speaking officially as first lord of the admiralty, for competition with America, not to increase armaments, but to decrease them."

"I WENT TO THE ANIMAL FAIR"

"I went to the animal fair

The birds and the beasts were there;
The big baboon, by the light of the moon,

In this case the animals are in the new Field Museum in Chicago, which is to be opened soon. The building cost $10,000,000 and 30 freight trains have been busy moving everything from stuffed animals to butterfly wings into it.

LOWELL'S SAFETY FIRST CAMPAIGN

Two important developments marked the third day of Lowell's safety first campaign, which is being conducted during the first two weeks of April under the general direction of Supt. Welch of the police department, and which has for its objectives the elimination of carelessness, an enemy which takes toll of thousands of lives in America yearly, and the minimizing of street traffic accidents in this city.

The first was a conference between the superintendent and Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, at which plans were formulated for a very thorough and educational presentation of the dangers of carelessness in the city's schools next week. This will include lectures by teachers depicting the results of carelessness to school children and pointing out the best methods of avoiding street traffic accidents. The pupils will also be asked to write essays on accident prevention.

The second development, and one which it is believed will have a large bearing on the success of the drive, consisted of the issuing of instructions to all policemen asking for greater co-operation in accident prevention. Particular attention is called to over-speeding and other automobile law violations, and the local "finest" is asked to leave no stone unturned in seeing to it that autoists who disregard traffic regulations are brought before the court.

"Careless America," the accident prevention film which has been secured from the Universal Film Co., will be exhibited at several of the local theatres this afternoon and evening, and rapid fire speakers will again be present at the different theatres to make brief addresses on the dangers of carelessness, both on the part of drivers and pedestrians.

Atty. Frank Goldman will be the speaker at the Strand theatre this evening, and it is hoped to secure Maj. Walter R. Joyce, in H. P. Keith's theatre. It is probable that other well known speakers will be on hand at the other theatres where this great educational picture is being shown.

Atty. Albert S. Howard was the speaker at the Strand theatre last evening and Supt. Welch made a brief address at the Merrimack Square theatre. Both stressed the need of careful driving and the necessity of exercising due caution while traveling on busy public streets.

They pointed out that pure carelessness is the cause of the great majority of accidents in this country, particularly street accidents. More than twice as many people were killed in accidents resulting through carelessness during the nineteen months America was engaged in the world war than the total number of our land and sea forces killed in action, they asserted.

"Careless America" will be shown at local theatres throughout the two-weeks' drive, and as has already been stated in these columns, is a picture of great educational value and intrinsic worth. In addition to depicting in vivid and forceful manner the results of carelessness it also contains many thrilling scenes and cannot fail to find favor with those who witness it.

HOW SUNDAY SPORTS BILL WILL OPERATE

The Sunday sport bill, which was signed by Gov. Coolidge yesterday, takes effect this year in cities where the mayor and city council accept the act.

It takes permanent effect in cities upon its acceptance by a majority of the voters at the next city election.

It takes effect in towns upon its acceptance by a majority of the voters at either a special or regular town meeting.

Selectmen must call special town meetings on petition of 10 per cent. of registered voters.

Only amateur sports are permitted, between 2 and 6 o'clock p. m.

Horse racing, automobile racing, boxing and hunting with firearms specifically prohibited.

Local authorities designate places where games may be played and make regulations governing conduct of games.

No admission fee may be charged, directly or indirectly, and no business or other enterprise conducted or collection made at Sunday games.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL

At a recent meeting of the Trades and Labor council the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: E. A. Warnock, president; Timothy O'Rourke, vice president; Frank N. Stimpson, secretary; J. Frank Burke, assistant secretary; Mrs. Annie Reagan, financial secretary and treasurer; Michael Kinane, sergeant-at-arms; Fred Drouin, Mrs. Rachel Campbell and Frank McNulty, trustees. Committees were announced as follows: Standing committee: Timothy O'Rourke, chairman; George Keating, Thomas Crowe, John P. Casey and Alfred W. Horsons. Non-partisan political campaign committee: Timothy O'Rourke, Fred Drouin, John P. Casey, Fred Laroway and Frank N. Stimpson. The meeting was addressed by John J. Nolan of Local 318, International association of Machinists of Beverly.

Sure Relief

HARKING BACK TO THE GOOD OLD DAYS

They're still advertising suits in Lowell, good ones, too, at from $10 to $12 per each. Also shoes at $2.50 and $3.00 a pair.

Out in upper Gorham street, there is an old sign board announcing to all and sundry that these bargains aforesaid may be obtained at a local store.

But alas, the prices it flaunts in the face of a price-ridden generation are no more. The firm has been out of business for years and the sign is merely a survival of that prehistoric period when suits of clothes were suits and not investments.

A very little mental arithmetic will tell how times have changed. Such exercise is not recommended to purchasers who like to keep control of their tempers, however.

In the present advance state of civilization, it takes mighty close to a century note to purchase a suit that will give one the service once to be expected from these $10 and $12 outfits.

And as to shoes—well, it will cost at the very least a ten-spot to buy a pair which won't creak when one walks down the aisle in one's favorite church or movie house.

Verily, times have changed.

Somewhere in Moody street—just where we're not allowed to say—there lives a pretty 22-year-old miss who wants to get married. But she doesn't intend to sail the matrimonial sea with any Lowell young man—not she. A black-eyed, handsome and husky cowboy of the golden west is her ideal, and she's either going to capture a chap from the land of the wild and woolly or remain single.

Just to show that she is in real earnest in her search for a cowboy husband she has written a letter to the sheriff of an Arizona county, describing herself most minutely, and asking his assistance in lassoing some husky cowpuncher who wants a life partner from the City of Spindles.

Sheriff must have sympathized with her ambition, for he turned the let-

BIG PACKERS NOW ONLY BUTCHERS

Declares the Divorcement Decree Met Every Just Complaint

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Court proceedings against the "big five" Chicago packers were instituted because "it had come to the time for a showdown in the industry," Attorney General Palmer today told the house agriculture committee. The attorney general appearing in connection with pending regulatory legislation reviewed what he called the long campaign against the industry in court and before public opinion.

"It seemed to me that the thing had come to a point where the packers were either entitled to a clean bill of health," said Mr. Palmer, "or the public was entitled to a judgment of some sort against them."

The consent decree, finally agreed upon after the government had instituted suit, he said was the result.

The divorce decree, Mr. Palmer said, "met every just complaint that had been made by consumers, producers or competitors, against the packers."

"It met them by adjournment with means for enforcing it," the attorney general continued. "The managers and influential stockholders in the packing corporations can be convicted of contempt of court and imprisoned for any violation of its terms. This makes these five great packers butchers and nothing else. They are no longer a menace to the food tables of America with their lard and all other foods."

"I got more for the people by the civil action than I could have secured against them as criminals."

"No business man ever has been sent to jail for violation of the Sherman act in all its history."

By leaving to the packers the use of refrigerator cars for transportation of meat only, he said, "we took the poison out of the practice."

"I wanted to accomplish five things: First—To take the packers out of the stockyard business, out of the terminal railroads which entered the stockyards, and out of livestock or market publications and keep them out."

"In detail, the plan is worked out so that the defendants themselves may present a plan to dispose of their interests and if that plan is not approved by the court, then a method is made by which the court may fix the plan. That is designed for the purpose of permitting these producers themselves, if they desired, to be substituted in the ownership of the stockyards and terminal railroads for the packers."

Mr. Palmer said the other things he desired to accomplish were to take the packers out of the public storage warehouse business, the retail business and all the unrelated lines of business.

"All those things I insisted upon and would not under any circumstances, concede from," he said.

Mr. Palmer said he had made no suggestion to the packers as to what his position would be with respect to future legislation by congress or litigation by the government.

"My personal view," he said, "is that I would like to see this tried out. I believe this is a great, long, forward step. I believe we have gotten things that we have been fighting for for years, apparently without hope of getting. I think it will do a great good. I do not promise it is going to mean immediate lowering of prices."

DISCHARGED FIREMEN BACK ON THE JOB

Writs of mandamus, providing for the restoration of 12 call firemen of the local department whom Commissioner John F. Salmon discharged several months ago, were issued by Judge Pierce in the supreme court in Boston yesterday afternoon. The writs were issued in the test cases of Chas. E. Alway and James E. Burns, two of the firemen who had been dismissed.

Counsel for the firemen, Stanley E. Qua, based his contention on the grounds that the dismissal of the firemen was a matter of policy and should have been brought to the attention of the entire municipal council. City Solicitor William D. Regan appeared for the city.

DANIELS URGES CHANGES

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Secretary Daniels announced today he was forwarding a letter to Chairman Page of the senate naval committee, urging that provisions for a deep water naval base on San Francisco bay below Mare Island navy yard, a submarine base at San Pedro, Cal., a destroyer base at Port Angeles, Washn., and extensions of naval facilities at Hawaii be made in the naval appropriation bill recently passed by the house. These increases, he said, have been urged by the secretary as necessary because of the enlargement of the Pacific fleet.

SAVE MEAT FRYINGS AND REDUCE BUTTER BILL

In the kitchen of her own home, Sister Mary cooks daily for a family of four adults. She brought to her kitchen an understanding of the chemistry of cooking, gained from study of domestic science in a state university. Consequently the advice she offers is a happy combination of theory and practice. Every recipe she gives is her own, first tried out and served at her family table.

If every bit of meat fryings is saved, the butter and lard bills may be noticeably reduced.

I have a small, straight crock that I keep meat fryings in. After cooking meat of any sort it is a simple matter to strain the fat into the crock.

For fried potatoes or frying of any sort where lard would be used, with the exception, of course, of deep fat frying, I use meat fryings or "drippings," as our mothers called them.

These drippings are much better than lard or any of the substitutes, for there is a rather meaty taste that gives an added richness. Food seems less greasy, too, cooked without lard.

Menu for Tomorrow

Breakfast—Wheat cereal with figs, grapefruit marmalade, toast, coffee.

Luncheon—Sausages with potato cakes, rye muffins, lemon pudding, tea.

Dinner—Broiled lamb chops, buttered carrots, fried whole potatoes, mint jolly, prune and cheese salad, date pudding, coffee.

My Own Recipes

The rather bitter tang of grapefruit marmalade is especially welcome to jaded spring appetites at breakfast-time. There are several brands of grapefruit marmalade on the market that are very good and not too expensive. However, if one makes the marmalade at home the bitter taste may be controlled and be just as one would like it.

Salt and pepper.
Milk or cream.

Prick sausages with steel fork, pour over enough boiling water to prevent burning and simmer five or 10 minutes. Drain off water and put sausages in a moderate oven. Cook 15 or 20 minutes. Season hot or cold mashed potatoes with salt and pepper and milk or cream. If cold heat and beat until very light. Shape into flat round cakes. Dip in flour and fry in the sausage fat. Arrange sausages in the center of a chop plate with potato cakes around, garnish with parsley and serve.

1 lemon
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
Graham crackers.

Beat whites and yolks of eggs separately. Mix flour and part of milk to a smooth paste, add juice and grated rind of lemon. Add sugar and the rest of the milk. Pour onto the well beaten yolks of eggs. Line a pie dish with graham crackers, pour in custard and bake in a moderate oven till firm to the touch. Beat whites of eggs till stiff and dry, add two tablespoonsful of powdered sugar. Spread over top of pudding and brown in a quick oven.

DRINK MILK AND FORGET HIGH COST OF LIVING

Helmer Rabild practices what he preaches. As head of the dairy extension activities of the U. S. department of agriculture his program of performance is to stimulate a "drink-more-milk" campaign in American cities. He first applied the supreme test to himself in determining the value of milk as a food.

For three unbroken weeks Rabild subsisted on an exclusive diet of milk. He began the self-imposed experiment by drinking three quarts of sweet milk daily, but as the test progressed a more liberal volume was found necessary. Consequently, a pint of butter-milk was added to the daily allowance.

He ate no other food during the 21 days. His efficiency was not impaired

HELMER RABILD

In the slightest and the finish found him in a vigorous condition. He lost five pounds of weight, but a bit of excess flesh admitted of this without any discomfort.

Rabild was ready forthwith to subscribe to the conclusion of the celebrated dietitian of Columbia university that "There is no more important work to be done in connection with the general improvement for conservation and public health than to teach the economy of milk and its pre-eminent importance in the food supply."

No wonder Rabild is an enthusiastic supporter of the "drink-more-milk" campaigns that are planned for a number of large cities.

Pittsburg gave sanction to the movement on March 15, while Kansas City will begin an intensive appeal for the use of liberal volumes of milk in the homes, the date being April 12.

Housing Problem Solved to Some Extent in Worcester

A one-family house at Indian Hill Village, Worcester, Mass.

(N.E.A. Staff Special)
WORCESTER, April 3.—Houses for workers—the problem that is the bane of every city in the United States—has been solved here, in part at least.

In 1915, the Norton Co., then having 3700 employees, was faced by the problem of big "labor turnover" because of inadequate, insufficient housing. The company determined to build—not the usual "company houses" which have failed to solve the housing problem anywhere, but a model industrial village. It called in one of the best planners and architects in the country.

A 33-acre site, several miles from the heart of the city, near Indian of houses of intolerable sameness. The streets wind about the natural grades. The first 55 houses were built in two operations during the summers of 1915 and 1916. The houses are white frame, and have slate roofs.

Parks and Clubs
In addition to one and two-family houses, Indian Hill has a dining hall, the Kluckett Inn, a boarding house for bachelors, embodying the features of a club, a similar institution for bachelor girls of the office force, a chapel and a recreation hall.

There are large parks, small parks and children's playgrounds.

The Indian Hill Co. requires from the purchaser an initial payment of 10 per cent of the purchase price, whereupon a conveyance of the property is made. For the balance the purchaser gives two notes, one for $1000, payable in 12 years at 5 per cent, and another for the balance of the purchase price, payable on demand, with interest at 5 percent, both notes being secured by a purchase money mortgage.

The purchaser gives also a supplementary agreement to the effect that he will purchase in a co-operative bank five shares, and will continue payments thereupon until his deposits shall have matured in the sum of $1000.

Buyers Feel Independent
This insures the payment of the 12-year note according to its terms. It gives the purchaser a feeling of independence, inasmuch as he does not make periodical payments on the principal to the company, and enables him to become acquainted with co-operative bank methods.

In consideration of this agreement the company agrees not to make demand upon the demand note as long as the purchaser shall continue to make monthly payments of interest to the company and payments to the bank.

The result is that at the end of 12 years, a sufficient proportion of the purchase price has been paid so that the purchaser owns the property free except a first mortgage for not over 50 per cent of the value of the property, so that he can go to a bank for a mortgage, if he wishes, and be independent of the company.

Good Friday services were held at the First Universalist church last evening, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Caleb E. Fisher, D.D., who preached on "The Seven Last Words of Christ." The congregation was large and the services were beautiful in its relation to the observance of Easter time. Appropriate music was sung by the church quartet.

THE COST OF BUILDING IS STILL SOARING BUILDING ACTIVITIES AT LOW EBB HERE

NEW YORK, April 2.—With regard to the building situation, S. W. Straus of S. W. Straus and Co., says: "The general tendency of building costs continues uninterruptedly toward higher levels. The demand for new structures of all kinds is growing more acute in all parts of the country. There were large gains in construction work reported from all leading cities for March as compared with February, but the exact figures are not yet completed. However, there have been many adverse factors in evidence. The severe winter weather which existed in many sections of the United States during February and the first half of March has been an important factor in retarding new construction. While there is a shortage of all building materials due primarily to labor conditions, the unseasonable weather restricted the output of such building commodities as sand, gravel, brick and tile, and many large plants were closed down. There also is an acute shortage in structural steel, and many large building projects are being held up because of the stringency in these basic materials.

"Another adverse feature is the car shortage, which has grown so acute that one of the large steel companies recently had in its yards from 150,000 to 160,000 tons of finished steel which could not be delivered to the purchasers because freight cars were not available. The car shortage has proved an adverse factor in the coal situation and it is reported that in recent weeks, the car supply at the coal mines has seldom been above 60 per cent of normal. The production of coke also has fallen off for a like cause.

"There is lack of production indicated along all lines. What is needed is a determination on the part of all interests connected with the building industry to increase the actual amount of work accomplished. Lack of stabilization, unsettled prices, shortage of materials and inadequate housing facilities, both for business and personal uses, will continue until we settle down to a period of steady production and constructive thrift in all lines of endeavor. Hard work and a serious determination to relieve the present great building deficit must prove the underlying cause of stable conditions.

"Until there is a general adoption of these principles of applied thrift, we may expect to find prices tending steadily toward higher levels with a shortage of building supplies and a growing inadequacy of housing conditions everywhere."

CHEAP RENTS FOR GLASGOW WORKERS

BY MILTON BRONKER
European Manager N.E.A.
GLASGOW, April 3.—The city of Glasgow tackled the housing problem long before it was made acute in Great Britain, America and France as a result of the war.

In fact, Glasgow started 50 years ago to tear down the old rookeries, put up new buildings and construct wider and better streets at a total cost of $5,500,000.

A beginning was made by the erection of two model tenements and seven model lodging houses, six for men and one for women. The city put up stone buildings of from three to five stories in height. In each there is a large dining hall and abundant kitchen facilities. There is in each a big recreation room.

The seven lodging places can accommodate 2235 persons. The charges vary from 8 to 12 cents a night. An innovation was the erection of a "family home" in which rooms are let to workmen with motherless children. Servants look after the children while the father is away at work and see that those of school age go to school. The children are boarded for about 45 cents a week. The room for the man and his family costs $1.10 per week. Children beyond the number of three are given beds in the dormitory at an extra cost of 15 cents a week. The last reports showed that 122 men and 146 children were living in this home.

In all, the city has provided homes for 2159 families. Apartments are rented by the city for from $25 to $75 per annum to workmen.

The city's manager for this property is W. C. Menzies, who in his younger days emigrated to America and worked for a time on public buildings in Cleveland. Later he worked on suburban residences in Cincinnati and Covington and still later in Chicago.

Unless there is a big drop in the price of labor and materials, which is not anticipated, there will not be much doing in the building line in this city this summer. Of course, it is believed that all local craftsmen will be kept busy for the two big city jobs that have been started, the erection of the new high school and that of the auditorium will give employment to a great many men, but the contractors feel that they will have plenty of time to enjoy trips to the beaches, for with the exception of the auditorium and high school, building activities are practically at a standstill.

A local contractor stated yesterday that many people who own land in this city have been planning for the past two or three years to build dwelling houses, but they keep postponing in hopes that the cost of labor and material will come down.

Real activities at the high school and auditorium have not yet started, but it will be but a short time before large gangs of men are put to work at both places. At the high school, the excavating for the foundation is being done by Patrick Cogger with his steam shovel and only a few men are employed on the job. It is expected that within a short time, a big gang of masons and bricklayers will be put to work and as fast as the work will progress, the number of hands will be increased. Contractor Drapeau, who has charge of the building of the auditorium, stated yesterday that within another week he will put a big gang of laborers at work demolishing the many foundations on the site and clearing the place of all debris.

New Buildings
In addition to those mentioned in The Sun a couple of weeks ago, the new buildings that are being erected in Lowell are as follows:
August Sargent is erecting a bungalow in Fairfax street.
Joseph Paquin is building a seven-room cottage at 53 Dunster street.
Fred L. Vance is building a seven-room cottage in Durant street.

Remodelings, Etc.
Isaac Bernstein is remodeling his property at 360 Middlesex street. New stores will be laid out on the street floor, while modern tenements will be built on the other floors.

Andrew Barrett is remodeling his old property in Salem street, opposite Dempsey's place, into a four-tenement house with two stores on the street floor. This building has been vacant for a great many years.

Esel Greenberg is remodeling the old building at the corner of Middlesex and Garnet streets. The first floor will be occupied by stores, while the upper floors will be converted into modern flats.

DECLARES END OF ERA OF EXTRAVAGANCE NEAR

WASHINGTON, April 2.—National reports from federal reserve bank officials disclosed their opinion that the post-war era of "extravagance and reckless buying" by the public is nearing its end.

"A hesitation, if not an actual recession" of prices is noted, and the federal reserve board's statement summarizes its advice as indicating a generally more hopeful view of the country's business condition than for several months.

While the price changes were shown by the board not to be universal, they were, nevertheless, regarded as positive and of importance as a basis for reckoning what the immediate future holds.

Relief from the high prices for the consumer will not be completely obtained until present stocks are absorbed in practically all lines, according to the board's view. Manufacturers everywhere, however, were shown to hold the view that the peak of high prices has been reached and to expect a gradual recession.

In the clothing trade particularly, the board said, there is a marked tendency of the public to make old supplies last longer and to refuse to pay exorbitant prices. This phase can mean only that an awakening has come, and that many people have arrived at the conclusion that they are themselves responsible for a continuing high range of prices.

Wholesalers in the dry goods trade, to some extent, have taken a "commendatory attitude" and are discouraging their customers from placing heavy fall orders. This has served to slacken demand and create a feeling that lower prices will follow.

The reports do not give encouragement concerning a price reduction in shoes. There is, however, a wide divergence of opinion as to what shoe and leather prices will do.

Eastern seaboard cities reported a piling up of commodities on this side of the Atlantic. The exchange situation was beginning to reflect itself on the export market as well as through a general reduction by Europeans in their foreign buying, it was noted.

"The outlook for the spring season, both industrially and agriculturally, is excellent," it is stated. "But modifying factors in the situation are an inadequacy of labor supply and a shortage of various kinds of building materials, as well as borrowing facilities of banks."

Open a new account in The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank this week. The amount of same will draw interest from Saturday, April 3rd.

ALMOST CRAZED BY HEADACHES

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Is The Only Remedy That Gave Lasting Relief

MISS NELLIE WILLIAMS

North Dighton, Mass.

"Since a young girl, I have suffered with Sick Headaches, and at times I was almost crazy with the pain. My mother tried everything she could hear of, yet she was never able to get anything to do me any good.

Six months ago, someone told me about 'Fruit-a-tives' and I got a box and obtained much relief.

Now I keep 'Fruit-a-tives' in the house all the time; in fact I would not be without them. I cannot speak too highly of 'Fruit-a-tives' as this is the one remedy that truly helped me.

I am always glad to recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to anyone suffering with Headaches and hope that those who read about my experience will profit by it and try 'Fruit-a-tives'.

Miss NELLIE WILLIAMS, 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or from FRUIT-A-TIVES Limited, OGDENSBURG, N. Y.

SLIGHT DECREASE IN DEATH RATE

There was another slight decrease in the death rate this week, there being 42 deaths reported in comparison with 41 the preceding week. The rates were 29.20 and 29.13. There were 12 deaths of children under one year of age, infectious diseases caused four deaths, pneumonia four, bronchitis four and tuberculosis four.

Infectious diseases reported included the following: Diphtheria, 3; Scarlet fever, 3; typhoid fever, 1; measles, 1; tuberculosis, 3, and influenza 3.

WATER STILL HIGH IN NO. BILLERICA

The waters of the Concord river which completely marooned the dwelling of Richard Kidder near the Ford-way bridge in North Billerica until a few days ago have retreated, but still the swollen stream overruns the back yard of the house, floods the green houses, swamps the walks, isolates the hen coops, makes the hen yard a duck pond, spreads up to the rear door steps as if they were the wing plank of a ship, completely drowns the barberry bushes set out as a border to the lawn on one side of the house, and fills the cellar up to its windows.

Kindling wood, light lumber, whatever vegetables were stored there, and wooden tools that and twine about on the water in the cellar ever so much nearer the occupants above, yet ever so far from use. Hens are still protected in the attic during the night, and early in the morning are let out onto the seamy damp spots in front of the house. The two hen-houses are like small boats. Yesterday, two pigs, which were rescued from the danger of drowning in their pens and sheltered under the piazza when the flood was at its height, were let out over the plank walks to the hen houses where they now snort surrounded by water and thick mud to the depth of three and four feet.

Gardens and surrounding grass plots are all submerged and ducks idly sport where once the most timid of hens could strut with safety. Two men, dwellers in the house, were garbed in hip boots this morning, bayoneted over the mud and making secure the door of the improvised pipe to prevent the animals from getting out and losing themselves in the mud or drowning. Mr. Kidder estimates that the loss from damage to his house and adjacent property will amount to $1000.

The Concord river from North Billerica to Lowell has spread out over its banks, taking hen coops and shanties within its reach, running over the low lands either turning them into swamps or making miniature lakes of them. In the rear of the U. S. Cart-ridge plant in South Lowell the water spreads way up towards the main road, surrounds sheds and barns and floods the land usually available for planting at this time.

NURSES REFUSED PAY INCREASE

Mayor Perry D. Thompson has refused an increase in pay to the five nurses employed in the health department, who assert that they are receiving nearly $300 a year less than nurses employed in the school department. His refusal is based on the grounds that he hasn't sufficient money to grant the request.

The public health nurses are now receiving $1035 a year, while the school nurses get $1200. The latter work only ten months in the year.

DIOCESAN CENTRE FOR CATHOLIC WOMEN

In order to enable Lowell and its surrounding towns to do their share in a campaign to secure funds for the erection of a building in Boston as a diocesan centre for the Catholic women of this diocese, a compact campaign organization has been formed in the various parishes of this section under the general direction of Miss Alice T. Lee, president of the League of Catholic Women.

Each parish committee is headed by a chairman who will have charge of the campaign in her parish. All activities of Catholic women in the arch-diocese of Boston will centre in the new building and it is planned to make it a model club house with offices, rooms for permanent guests as well as transients, cafeteria and hall.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SAFETY DRIVE

Capt. Walter Jayes, instructor of physical training in the public schools, will inaugurate an intensive campaign for safety in the public schools on next Monday morning. Though the campaign will consist of precepts which the captain has been drilling into the minds of the children ever since he took charge of the work in the schools many new ideas will be worked out and it is thought that in connection with the current safety first endeavor it will bring good results.

At the present time every teacher in the schools, which are under the physical instruction of Capt. Jayes, has a copy of safety first rules which are supposed to be read to the children frequently during the week. Mr. Jayes is a firm believer that all rules along this line are more effective among the children if they contain a little sharpness, a little quip, something that will instill them with the spirit of snap-fencing. His idea is evident in the following rules:

"A child should be taught that to stop, look and listen may mean that at some time it may save his or her life. Before you attempt to cross any street look in both directions and don't take any chances saying, 'Well, I can't beat that auto, or that truck.' Don't try."

"One person at work is worth two in the hospital."

"Any fool can be careless."

"Don't taste everything that you see. Poison is sweet. Safety first."

"Make your mind a temple of learning. Be able to think for yourself."

"Don't be a jay-walker. Cross the streets at the places made for you."

"Keep away from the mob. Nearly every person who gets hurt is the one who has no business being there."

"If you stepped upon a nail protruding from a piece of board would you leave it there or take care of it? If your step-ladder needed a nail to make it safe would you do it tomorrow? Remember the old adage, 'A stitch in time saves nine.'"

"If you can't swim, learn how. Until you know how to be sure that you don't go beyond your depth. They say that drowning is a very pleasant death, but don't try it."

"Do you know the number of fire alarm boxes nearest your home? Do you know how to handle a fire extinguisher?"

"Live electric wires are dangerous at all times, so let them alone. Electricity is fine for light and power. Safety first."

"Keep off the railroad tracks. They are built to ride on, not to walk on. Learn how to roll a blanket or rug to extinguish a person's clothes when on fire."

GROWD THAT FILLS TABERNACLE HEARS THE "CRUCIFIXION" BY BIG CHORUS CHOIR

The "Crucifixion" one of the most glorious of all Easter cantatas, was sung at the tabernacle last night, by the chorus choir of 400 voices, assisted by Ben Redden of Boston, tenor; Talmadge J. Blitkofer, baritone, and George H. Drew, bass. The work was given under Mr. Blitkofer's capable direction.

The tabernacle was filled to overflowing and the majesty of Stainer's composition has seldom been more effectively brought out in this city, at least. Several hundred were turned away with tickets calling for Tuesday evening, when the cantata will be repeated.

An outstanding feature of the singing last night was the immediate response of the chorus to the director's slightest nod. For a body of untrained voices, the sense of feeling between singers and director was unusually prominent and, of course, reflected a great deal of credit upon Mr. Blitkofer, who has conducted all the rehearsals.

A small organ secured for the occasion was played by Arthur C. Spalding, while piano accompaniments were played by E. E. Young of the Stephens' party.

Only one service will be held at the tabernacle tomorrow, Easter Sunday, at 6:30 p.m. The choir will sing special music and Evangelist Stephens will preach on "The Unanswerable Question."

To stimulate the safety movement among mines and metallurgical plants, the bureau of mines will hold a national first aid and mine rescue contest at Denver, Col., Aug. 20-21.

Old Folks!

Test This Wonderful Laxative With a FREE TRIAL BOTTLE

The many elderly people in all parts of the country who use Syrup Pepsin know it does not lose its good effect.

I will send you a trial bottle free. What is your address?

ELDERLY people know out of the ripeness of their experience that constipation makes them dull and gloomy, that it brings on headaches and backaches and a train of other ills. I know it too, because I have been a practicing physician since 1875 and am myself in my 82nd year.

Let every elderly man and woman subject to constipation write me for a free trial bottle of what druggists call Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It will prove to you that there is such a thing as a mild, gentle laxative free from gripping. Use it as required and it will soon train the stomach and bowel muscles to do their work naturally. Use it often and you will find it does not lose its good effect by continuous use, as so many laxatives and physics do. The free trial bottle will be ample sufficient to prove all this to you, and it is yours for the asking.

I have been personally writing this prescription for 45 years, and since 1892 druggists everywhere have been selling it under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup

Kindly send me a free trial bottle of your Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, all charges prepaid. The address is:

MAKE READY FOR ROAD AND BRIDGE WORK

A conference between the county commissioners and the officials of the town of Billerica will be held in Billerica Monday morning relative to plans for the construction of a new bridge over the Concord river to replace the so-called Red bridge. Bids for the new structure are now being received by the state highway commissioners and it is expected the contract will be given out the latter part of next week and shortly after work will be started and rushed along.

The new bridge, it is alleged, will cost in the vicinity of $60,000. The federal government to pay half the expense, while the other half will be paid jointly by the state highway commissioners, the county commissioners and the town of Billerica.

In addition a piece of highway leading to the bridge will be built at a cost of about $10,000.

The contract for the building of the road between the Littleton common and Groton Centre, a thoroughfare commonly used by automobilists who have occasion to go to Keene and other parts of New Hampshire, was awarded to the J. J. Duffy Co. of Newton, and work will be favorable.

This piece of road will cost in the vicinity of $245,000, the federal government to pay half, while the remainder of the expense will be borne by both the state and county.

Work on the laying out of the highway on the old Boston road between North Chelmsford and Chelmsford Centre, which was started last year, will be resumed within a couple of weeks, and it is expected that the job will be completed in the course of the summer. This road will cost about $220,000. The expense to be paid by the state, county and town.

Attack on Both Sides
Continued

pulse of a Bolshevik attack in the region of Lake Osvein.

The fighting is reported particularly severe in the vicinity of Dedina, along the northern banks of the Dvina.

Between Polock and Borizov, on the Beresina, the Polish communists announced a heavy attack by the Reds. The Poles counter attacked driving the Reds easterly.

The newspaper also reports Polish success on the southern front in Poland, announcing the capture of Bar, northeast of Kamenetz-Podolsk, by the Poles.

Enthusiasm in Finland over the Bolshevik successes in the far north is reported by the press. (This probably refers to the recently reported Bolshevik advance in the Murmansk region, between the White Sea and the Arctic.) The newspapers declare Finland is already considering military action against the Reds to prevent a Bolshevik invasion.

THIS BLOOD BUILDER PROMOTES DIGESTION

Many People Who Have Been Helped Now Recommend Reliable Remedy to Those Who Suffer

There is only one way to build up a run-down system if the blood is pale and thin. Many diseases are caused by this blood. Other diseases such as rheumatism and influenza cause the blood to become thin and the wasting effect of these disorders cannot be combated successfully until the blood is restored to its normal condition.

Pallor, nervousness, indigestion, sleeplessness, headaches, dizzy spells, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, these are a few of the symptoms of an anemic, or bloodless condition. Some of them are not naturally associated with thin blood but the quickest way to overcome them is to make the blood rich and red.

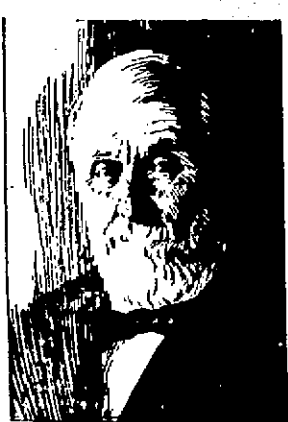

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do one thing. They build up the blood by increasing the number of red corpuscles. As this is done, the blood becomes a richer red and is able to carry more oxygen, the great supporter of human life. As the blood improves in quality, the tissues of the body are better nourished and the functions of the body are better performed. The glands of the stomach are stimulated and the first sign of improvement is usually a better appetite and better digestion. So true it is that improved appetite and digestion follow building up the blood that it is a recognized principle in medicine that there is no tonic for the stomach that is not a tonic for every other part of the body that lacks tone.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been used for years as a blood-making tonic and system builder with such good results that in every community there are many people who are recommending this remedy to those afflicted.

One such person is Mrs. A. M. Rolfe, who lives at No. 47 Adams Street, Portland, Me. When seen recently at her home, Mrs. Rolfe said: "I suffered from nervous indigestion for over three years. After eating, I would fill right up with gas and my heart would seem to jump. I could eat only light foods, had bilious attacks and frequent sick headaches. I had no color at all and lost flesh and weight. At times I would be all of a tremble with nervousness and I did not sleep well."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were recommended to me by a woman who had used them with benefit and before I had finished the second box, I could see that they were doing me good. My nerves were quieter and I suffered less pain after eating. I kept on with them and, in fact, still keep them in the house as a family medicine. I shall always recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for they helped me when other medicines failed."

After Effects of Influenza

Pepsin. You can buy a five-ounce bottle at the nearest drug store, and as a spoonful is a dose, a bottle is economical and long-lasting. The formula is based on a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. The herbs, including the well-known Egyptian Senna, relieves the constipation and accompanying ills, and the pepsin acts on the digestive organs. It will relieve chronic constipation quickly. It will stop a cold or a fever and thereby prevent influenza and gripe. You are safe in giving it to the highest baby. Millions of mothers do.

I want you to have a free trial bottle of this fine medicine without obligation or charge. Just fill out the coupon and send it to me. Take a teaspoonful, give some to other members of the family who are constipated. I know that the results will be such that you will buy a bottle of your druggist and never afterwards be without a bottle in your house.

ASK CANADIAN GOVERNMENT TO ABOLISH THE PRESENT ROYALTY ON GOLD

DAWSON, Y. T., April 3.—The Canadian government will be asked to abolish the present royalty on gold because the mining industry is threatened by the depreciation in the purchasing power of the metal, according to the Yukon Development League, composed of miners and merchants.

League officers asserted that gold has lost half of its purchasing power and gold mining is the only industry which cannot increase the price of its product.

OLIVE W. SHEEHAN WON SILVER MEDAL FOR BEST ESSAY AT MOODY SCHOOL.

Olive W. Sheehan, a ninth-grade pupil of the Moody grammar school, won the silver medal offered by the chamber of commerce for the best essay written in her school on the topic "Benjamin Butler, Eminent Citizen."

She has been presented the certificate which will entitle her to a silver medal when the chamber of commerce receives those ordered.

TRANSPORTATION RATES FOR LUMBER TO EUROPE ARE ADVANCED

OTTAWA, April 3.—Canadian lumber firms have received notice from ocean steamship companies that transportation rates for lumber to Europe will henceforth be based on weight instead of measurement. The new rate of $1 per hundred pounds will mean an advance of 20 per cent. over the rate based on the measurement standard.

More than seven million barrels of oil are being shipped out of Mexico each month.

Now that President Wilson has withdrawn his name from the Georgia primaries, perhaps his republican enemies will feel more at ease. The third term bugaboo worried them very much. Now they can proceed to select their candidate and pile up enormous campaign funds.

Hoover has come out in the open to seek the nomination of the republican party. He is as strongly for the League of Nations as is President Wilson. He would be an international president. If any trouble occurred in Europe, he would take a trip over to settle it, even though matters went to smash at home.

OPENING NIGHT SCHOOLS

The Knights of Columbus are making a very valuable contribution to the future of this nation by starting free night schools for ex-service men in the large cities of this country. These schools teach practical branches calculated to enable the men to better their condition. Already the membership is 100,000 and it is likely to reach 250,000 by June. Text books and supplies of all kinds are furnished free. Every man who served with the colors is welcomed to enter so far as the accommodations will permit. The expenses are paid from the fund which the "K. of C." had on hand for welfare work when the war ended suddenly. This money contributed by the people is being turned back to them in educational results that will help the most deserving class of men in the country. As in the distribution of supplies in Europe, what the Knights do in the educational line is entirely free. There is no such thing as merchandise allowed in the activities of the order.

FIRST STREET OVAL

We are glad to find the Chamber of Commerce taking up the question of establishing an athletic field on the First street oval. There is great need for a ball park in that vicinity and if one can be provided without making dangerous or ungraceful curves in the new public highway, the project should be carried out.

All that may be necessary to secure the park and at the same time preserve the graceful sweep of the highway may be a little skillful engineering. When this question was broached some time ago, the state highway commission did not seem inclined to consider the park proposition seriously. Now, however, we understand the administration is changed and the present state highway officials show a willingness to meet the wishes of the public so far as that is feasible or practical.

The question arises, would a change in the plans at the present juncture cause any delay in the completion of the road. First street has been a disgrace to our city for years; and the sooner public travel is diverted from that route the better. The Chamber of Commerce, of course, will keep in mind the necessity of having the river-side boulevard finished as soon as possible.

SUB-POSTOFFICES

Of the two sub-postoffices located near Merrimack square, one is to be shifted to Prescott street and one discontinued. This does not indicate a tendency to continue serving the public as efficiently as in the past.

It seems that it is about time the government could afford to hire a separate location of its own near the square to be devoted entirely to postoffice business. Persons who enter a store to reach the sub-postal station, have reason to feel that they are interfering with the main business.

This is not as it should be. Uncle Sam should have a little store of his own down town in which to do business with the public. The present arrangement was not so bad before the parcel post attained such proportions; but now the business of a sub-postoffice cannot be properly transacted in a remote corner of a store devoted to other business. These things should be considered. Time is money. The merchants cannot afford to go to the postoffice, and they do not care to go through the customers of a grocery or other store in order to reach a sub-postal counter. The sub-postoffice near Merrimack square, and elsewhere for that matter, should be in a separate store where the patrons will not be interfered with by people engaged in other lines of business.

This is a matter that should receive the consideration of Postmaster Meahan, whose aim of course, is to render the public the best service possible.

THE EASTERTIDE

After the long and dreary winter and the blustering arrival of spring, we come to the Eastertide with anticipations of joy. Not within the memory of our oldest citizens, perhaps, have the people of this nation had such a sincere religious spirit at the Easter season as at the present time.

Many events have occurred in the last three years to cause the people to think more seriously of spiritual things and to realize the necessity of obeying God's law as laid down in the Decalogue. Mighty men and mighty rulers who disregarded that law and calculated upon their ability to conquer the world, have found how vain was their hopes, have been humbled in the dust; and others who may now assume the role of conquerors are likely to meet a similar fate if they similarly disregard God's law in their dealing with their fellowmen of subject nations.

For a time after the cessation of hostilities, it was supposed that we were to get away from the old rule of "might making right"; but the present relations of European nations present even more jealousy than before the war, with this difference, that the nations are nearly all so far exhausted that they cannot enter upon military movements of extensive proportions.

Thus it is that the Resurrection morn will not find any great progress made toward a more practical application of the teachings of Christianity than before the war. There is an admission of the supreme efficacy of Christianity in solving all our human problems; but it is found more in theory than in practice. The nations hate each other just as heartily as ever and they are laying plans for the selfish advantage of one set over another set, so that the peace of the world is not a whit more secure now than before the great war when militarism was in its glory.

The battle for justice, freedom and righteousness has not made much progress and whether it will make any great advance in the near future depends upon a variety of circumstances.

One thing is certain, however, to wit, that real Christianity alone can remedy the condition of the world today and cause men and nations to do what is right rather than what is expedient, plausible or subservient to their sordid and selfish interests.

There is as yet but little sign of a resurrection that would redeem the world from the injustice, oppression and selfishness that precipitated the great war.

FRANCE STANDS ALONE

It appears from recent developments, that Premier Millerand has decided that France must draw away from the allies with which she fought the war, if she would protect herself against the machinations of Germany in securing radical changes in the treaty on pretense that they are impossible of fulfillment.

Already France has begun to realize that England and Italy are making concessions to Germany in order to secure trade advantages for their own benefit. France has, therefore, determined to insist upon the strict enforcement of the treaty regulations even if she has to send her army into Germany for that purpose. She is no longer willing in co-operation with her former allies. She has found that Premier Lloyd George has played a deceitful game in favor of his own country. Italy in this matter is backing England, and unfortunately, President Wilson, who pledged to France the support of the United States in case of necessity, comes out to declare that she is showing a militaristic spirit.

France is only taking steps to protect herself, to secure reparation from Germany and to insist that the provisions of the treaty be carried out. Despite treaty agreements, Germany has failed to furnish France with coal and she has also evaded the treaty provision requiring the disarming of her troops. Recently large numbers of German troops were found to be fully equipped and ready for action. These, however, do not alarm France as her army is well organized and capable of quick movement in any direction, whereas, the German forces have very little means of transportation. It is difficult to believe that France should thus be betrayed by her former allies in lieu of prospective gain in their own behalf, and it is most regretful that the United States should seem to be a party to that betrayal as a result of President Wilson's charge of militarism. France may be felicitated on possessing, at least for the present, all the military power that is necessary to enforce the treaty against Germany, and with the memory of Germany cruelly, not only in this war but in that of 1870, still fresh, she will not relax the terms of the German peace pact simply to comply with the diplomatic maneuvers of England to secure for herself favorable trade relations with Germany.

SAFETY FIRST

The Safety First campaign inaugurated by Superintendent Welch of the police department is intended to impress upon the people in general the necessity of exercising greater caution for the prevention of accidents.

Street accidents are to be featured in the campaign as most numerous and the most easily prevented if not only the drivers of vehicles but pedestrians will exercise due care.

It is really astonishing to find how many fatalities result from street accidents due to carelessness. In a majority of the cases the victims themselves are to blame. Most people forget that we are now in a new era, as it were, in which motor vehicles are shooting to and fro in great numbers on every highway and on the busy thoroughfares of every industrial city. It is very evident that if the public at large does not exercise more caution than it did before the coming of automobiles, the accidents must necessarily be very numerous; and they will so continue until the people realize that they are now in the horseless age and that children can no longer use the streets as public playgrounds without the risk of being run over by some motor machine ranging in weight from the smart little Ford to the great motor truck weighing as much as a locomotive.

There are certain rules of the road which it is important that the drivers of motor vehicles should strictly observe. At the present time, as for some years past, these rules are disregarded by a great many drivers.

In this respect the police department can bring about a radical change by a strict enforcement of the law. We presume that Supt. Welch will adopt rigorous methods for enforcing the highway regulations after the close of the present campaign. In the meantime, the motor laws will be fully explained so as to be clearly understood by everybody. It is to be hoped that the public will no longer be menaced by the chauffeur who drives an automobile while under the influence of liquor. If such a man should appear on the highways in these "dry times," some of the thirty ones might be inclined to ask him where he procured the "jag." The municipal courts have dealt so severely with reckless drivers that there is reason to hope they will be less numerous during the coming summer.

But there is just as much need of impressing upon parents and children the necessity of care on the public highways as there is in regard to drivers. It is a well known fact that children and even older persons frequently rush into the path of autos driven with the greatest care so that accidents and even fatalities are unavoidable. We have had our share of such accidents here in Lowell, but the number occurring here in proportion to our population is less than in metropolitan cities such as Boston and New York.

The Sun has already pointed out that the parents who allow children under six years of age to run the streets during the day time, without any restraint whatever, should be held responsible for their safety. We have had many accidents on East Merrimack street in which small children were knocked down or run over by passing vehicles. It is a well known fact that the parents of these children work in the mills, leaving the little ones to roam the streets at will during the day. If such children continually play on the streets it is not surprising that they occasionally meet with serious accidents.

Small children must be taught to keep on the sidewalk and to cross the streets only at the regular crossings and then to see that their course is clear. Older people will profit by practicing the same rule. There are various types of accidents due to thoughtlessness that may easily be avoided by the exercise of a little care. One of these consists in stepping from a sidewalk without looking in both directions to see that there is no danger. Another is due to cutting across a street in the rear of a car that may conceal an auto going in the opposite direction. Many fatalities have resulted in this way. Still another is due to haste in turning blind corners. Scores of such cases might be mentioned to prove that the general public is reckless in regard to personal safety on the public streets. If the present Safety First campaign induces any large number of our people to exercise greater care for their own personal safety and the avoidance of accidents, it will certainly accomplish good results.

Don't Get Peevish, Girls

Mrs. Catherine Seilin of Kane, Pa., has attained the age of 95. She did this, she asserts, by not wearing high heels and no low-necked dresses, either of which, she says, "is enough to kill a person."

Couldn't Fool Him

Becoming unmanageable on the viaduct, a Ford car swerved suddenly and plunged over into the street below. Its driver managed to catch on the broken railing. He hung for a horrid moment on the brink of death, and then scrambled back to safety.

"Merciful powers!" ejaculated a pedestrian below. "What a narrow escape!"

"Shucks!" returned the gent from Simpson Junction, who was on hand. "That wasn't no escape! It was just a trick of some kind. They can't fool me!"—Kansas City Star.

Not a "Seuse Me Table"

The other evening 5-year-old Joseph was over at his grandfather's house for supper. While they were eating, grandfather sneezed. It stopped his conversation a minute, and then just as he started to resume it Joseph spoke up: "What do you say, Grandpa?" he asked.

Grandfather looked mystified a minute; then again began to talk. Again Joseph persisted. "What do you say, Grandpa?"

More mystified looks. Then Joseph informed him: "Grandpa," he said, sweetly, "isn't this a 'seuse me table like ours?'"

The Little Mouse Asks Advice

"Would you mind giving me some advice?" asked a little gray mouse of Nancy and Nick in Topsy-Turvy Land. "We don't know much advice, except putting on overshoes when it rains, and not eating too much candy, and going to bed at 8 o'clock, and things like that," answered Nancy. "Will that do?" "Hardly!" Little Mouse looked so crest-fallen that the Magical Mushroom asked kindly, "What do you wish to know?" "How to catch a cat!" answered Little Mouse quickly.

"Would you mind giving me some advice?" asked a little gray mouse. "A Mouse never asked me for advice like that before," said the Mushroom in surprise. "Just let me think a minute, please." But he thought for two minutes, then he asked, "How does a cat catch mice?" "Why," shivered Little Mouse, "she sleeps, or pretends she does, and when we come along thinking we're safe, she makes a grab with her paws." "It seems to me, then," said the

Important Station Captured by Bolsheviki

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 1.—Vladikavkaz, an important military station and trading center in Caspian Asia, has been captured by the Russian Bolsheviki, according to advices received here.

Vladikavkaz, capital of the territory of the Terek, is situated on the Terek river, and is about 95 miles due north of Tiflis. It is on the northern slope of the Caucasus mountains and its capture, together with that of Petrovsk, on the west shore of the Caspian sea, which was reported this week, shows an advance of the Bolsheviki toward the great oil center of Baku and the frontier of the new Georgian republic.

Declares Present Treaties Temporary

BUDAPEST, April 2.—Count Albert Apponyi, returning here from Paris today for a conference with Admiral Horthy, Hungarian regent, and party leaders, declared that peace treaties between the allied powers and the central empires were only temporary in nature. "My impression is," he said, "that no allied statesmen sincerely believes the present peace treaties can hold for long. I have not lost hope, and believe the position of Hungary to be better than it was a month ago."

Call Off Strike in Ruhr District

COPENHAGEN, April 3.—Decision to call off the general strike in the entire Ruhr industrial region was reached at a plenary session of the executive council of that district yesterday, according to a despatch received here from Essen. It will be renewed, however, if the Berlin government fails to fulfill obligations entered into with the workers, and in particular, if it fails to halt the movement of troops against the Ruhr district.

Train Wrecked by Bomb; One Killed

BUENOS AIRES, April 2.—One person has been killed and many wounded in the wreck of a train on the government owned Central Northern railroad, the disaster being caused by the explosion of a bomb, according to dispatches from Santa Fe. The locomotive and six coaches were overturned. There has been a partial strike on this road for several months.

Ada-Bazar Occupied by Turkish Troops

LONDON, April 3.—Ada-Bazar, a town directly east of Constantinople and 23 miles from Ismid, the British port of entry in Western Asia Minor, was occupied by Turkish nationalist troops on Tuesday, according to a Constantinople despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co.

Most lovers say that. It is fortunate that jilting so seldom persuades them to lie down and die. Usually, nowadays, he consoles himself with the fact that "there's a big fish in the sea as any that were caught." These are not "Annie Laurie" days. They are of 1920.

As a beam o'er the face of the waters May glow While the tide runs in darkness and coldness below. So the cheek may be tinged with a warm sunny smile, Though the cold heart to ruin runs darkly the while.

One fatal remembrance, one sorrow That throws Its bleak shade alike o'er our joys and our woes, To which life nothing darker or brighter can bring For which joy has no balm and affliction no sting—

Oh! this thought in the midst of enjoyment Will stay Like a dead, leafless branch in the summer's bright ray: The beams of the warm sun play round It in vain, It may smile in its light, but it blooms not again.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Persons particularly interested in the proposition to retain the First street oval for park purposes if it is possible, express the hope that the recreational plant developed there will be suited to the needs of all people seeking rest and play, at the same time giving to the high school athletic facilities it so urgently needs. We venture to say that if the plan to conserve this area goes through, there will be definite steps taken for the erection of a modern baseball and track plant for the use of the school-boys. It means the salvation of athletics at the local school, not only in interest among the student body and public, but from a standpoint of cold dollars and cents.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Lowell Council Plans Many Spring Activities—Committee Meetings Tomorrow

With the close of the Lenten season the local council of the Knights of Columbus is preparing to launch its spring activities with renewed vigor and the council calendar indicates an unusual number of interesting events during the next few weeks.

First and foremost will come the annual K. of C. ball and a large committee, which has been working earnestly for the past month, has practically completed arrangements for the affair. This committee will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the council rooms to hear reports from various sub-committees and to give a few final touches to the preparations.

The K. of C. Club will also meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock for a rehearsal in preparation for the performance it is to put on in Chelmsford next Wednesday evening. On April 15 the club will put on its minstrel show in Associate hall for the benefit of the Pawtucketville memorial fund.

Annual Communion Sunday

The annual communion Sunday of the council will be held in the near future and as always will be an impressive occasion. The influx of new members since last year's communion day is amply indicative of a record-breaking attendance. Last year the communion breakfast at Associate hall was one of the noteworthy events of the council's history with Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty and Supreme Director William J. Mulligan as guests of honor and charming speakers.

This year Grand Knight Briggan and Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, chaplain of the council, on whom will largely rest the arranging of details for the affair, are sanguine that the attendance will be far and away the greatest in the history of Lowell council.

An Interesting Picture

Occupying a conspicuous place on the wall of the roiling room of the council and looking down, as it were, on many a discussion of topics of absorbing interest, invariably discussed in the cozy corner, a large picture of the charter members of the council is regarded as one of the prize mementoes of the organization. A glance over the faces reveals many men prominent in various activities of the city, some, alas, gone home to their long rest; others remaining vitally interested in the aspirations of the council. Now and then one meets a charter member or two and their minds go back down the years and recall the pleasant days of long ago and the success which the years that have come since the inception of the council have brought in their wake.

Talk on Cardinal Mercier

There was much genuine satisfaction among the knights over the intensely interesting discourse of Dr. James J. Walsh recently given under auspices of the council and perhaps before the summer season comes Grand Knight Briggan will be successful in securing the noted lecturer for another visit. His talk on "Cardinal Mercier" deals with interesting episodes in the career of the noted churchman and it may be possible once again for the council members and their friends to enjoy another delightful evening with the eminent doctor as the central figure.

A Busy Deputy

District Deputy Charles J. Landers, in whose work and ability the council takes a pardonable pride, is busy as usual going about the district on official calls and seeing to the innumerable details contingent upon the duties of his office. Mr. Landers says that the work of the district deputy's office has increased 75 per cent, as a result of the tremendous growth in membership in this state within the past few years and hence the official force of deputies is kept busy nearly every evening and every Sunday.

The most prominent young ladies' organizations in the city, an individual grand march larger than any seen here in the past and comprising a far greater variety of costumes, and dancing until 1 o'clock with music furnished by the very best orchestra obtainable; attractions both numerous and extraordinary, should command the appreciative attention of all local pleasure-seekers.

The concert will be the opening feature of the evening's entertainment. The program is as follows: Selection, Capitol Jazz orchestra; dancing specialty, Misses Marie and Dora Dewire; solo, Andrew J. Kellher; dancing specialty, Miss Katherine Boyle; solo, William Mahoney; solo, Joseph Reilly; solo, Charles J. Keyes; selection, The Dewire sisters are clever juvenile entertainers well known to Lowell audiences, while Miss Boyle and Messrs. Kellher, Mahoney, Reilly and Keyes have all scored hits in Mathew productions during the winter.

Next comes the big event of the evening, the grand march for girls' clubs. Each club will be harmoniously and attractively arrayed in costumes which will illustrate the club's idea. The prizes offered in this contest amount to $50 in gold. The clubs entered are: Alpine Girls, Brinkley Girls, Columbia Girls, El Paso Girls, Gayety Girls, Jontel Girls, Just-a-Moment Girls, Let's Go Girls, Merry-makers, Oxford Girls, U. U. Girls, Silver Tips, Waneas.

Following closely upon the club march comes the individual grand march and it is predicted that this march will be by far the largest and best of its kind ever witnessed in this city. A dazzling array of costumes will be exhibited, and there will be an interesting contest for the six valuable prizes offered.

Dancing will continue until 1.

The return to normal conditions in France is going on so rapidly that 4,500,000 inhabitants of the 1,700,000 who during the war occupied the devastated areas have returned to their homes and will have the region under cultivation within a year.

Money goes on interest in The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank next Saturday, April 3rd.

ENGINE PLUNGED THROUGH BRIDGE

Freight Locomotive Dropped Into Lake Champlain—Engineer Stuck at Post

Went Down With Engine and Miraculously Escaped Injury and Probable Death

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 3.—The engine of freight train No. 33, of the Rutland railroad, plunged through the trestle bridge between Alburg and Rouses Point, and into the waters of Lake Champlain at 11.15 last night when the bridge gave way under the strain. No one was injured.

There were five men on the engine at the time of the accident, the fireman, engineer and three railroad men. The fireman and other railroad men jumped but the engineer went down with the engine and miraculously escaped injury and probable death. However, he managed to crawl from the cab and emerge from the water uninjured. The fact that the engine was going at the rate of but five miles an hour is what saved all from death. The bridge has been quite weak for some time and trains passing over it have used every precaution. The high waters and ice are the cause of the weakened condition of the bridge and when train No. 33 approached the bridge last night it had slowed down. As the train went onto the bridge the structure snapped under the strain and the engine plunged into the lake.

DEATHS

GAGNON—Henry Gagnon, aged 43 years, died yesterday in Providence, R. I., and the body was brought to this city by Undertaker Joseph Albert today. He leaves a wife, he leaves two daughters, Adele and Alexandrine; his father, Antoine Gagnon of Canada; five brothers, Alfred, Edward, Alphonse, Joseph and Onus; and five sisters, Mrs. Robert Laford, Mrs. Jan. Laford, Mrs. Louise Blouin, Mrs. Mederic Trudeau and Mrs. Amedee Bonin.

KOLIOS—Spiros Kolios, aged 68 years, died yesterday at the Lowell general hospital. Deceased was a well known member of the local Greek community. The body was taken to the funeral home of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell and Sons.

WEBSTER—Charles W. Webster died yesterday at his home, 1172 Varum avenue, aged 59 years. He leaves his wife, Harriet A. Webster, one daughter, Lillian Webster, three sisters, Mrs. Frank Baneroff of Lowell, Mrs. George Garland of Amesbury, Miss Blaud Webster of this city.

FUNERALS

PARSONS—The funeral of Mrs. Mary F. Parsons was held from her residence, Hillerica road, West Tewksbury, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. John Singleton, pastor of the Lawrence Street Methodist church. Appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. William McQuade and Miss Louise Garstide. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. A delegation was present representing the Lucy Larcom club. The bearers were George Fallon, Robert Adams, Leslie Fields and William Fields. Burial was in the family lot in the Eden cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Reider.

SALEKAKOS—The funeral of Archelaus Salekacos took place yesterday afternoon from his home, 32 Jefferson street. Services were held at the Holy Trinity church and also at the graves in Westlawn cemetery, where burial took place under the direction of Undertakers C. H. Muller's Sons.

GILL—The state and the city as well as numerous fraternal and social organizations were represented at the funeral of the late Edmund J. Gill, a former messenger at the state house, and well known resident of this city, which took place this morning. The funeral service was held at the home of a sister of deceased, Mrs. John H. Gill, at 299 o'clock and wended its way to St. Jean Baptiste church, where at 10 o'clock a solemn Mass was celebrated by Rev. Joseph A. Fournier, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Eugene Turcotte, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. J. N. Bachand, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. The choir, under the direction of N. N. Gault, rendered the Gregorian chant. The bearers were Arthur Pratte, Raymond Descheneaux, J. E. Fournier, George J. Fournier, all close friends of deceased. The state house was represented by the following: Senator Frank H. Putnam, Lowell; Dr. George M. Pike, director of the department of mental diseases; Representative Ernest Larocque, Fall River, chairman of the committee of public institutions for which deceased acted as messenger; Rep. Charles M. Austin of Somerville; Rep. Joseph Herick of Beverly; Representative Henry Achin, Victor E. Jewett, Adelard Berard, Owen E. Brennan, Thomas J. Corbett and Charles H. Slowey, all of Lowell. Richard Howland, state house reporter, also attended the funeral. In addition from the state house were the following: Messrs. N. D. Curry, E. E. Brennan, J. F. Welch, A. F. Galpin, George Silvers, J. E. Blatter, E. W. Kilpatrick, J. P. Bernard and Charles H. Foster. The city was represented by Commissioners George R. Marchand and Dennis A. Murphy. The fraternal and social organizations represented at the funeral were as follows: Lowell lodge of Elks, Frank Heard, Raymond Lynch, Joseph Cavignone, John H. Burns, Arnold V. Steward and Tom Bruns, Bernard, Joseph Perron, Joseph Carlier, Joseph Provost, Joseph Lahr, and Gustave A. G. Fournier, club member and of which deceased was president. Arthur Rousseau, Frederick Descheneaux, Ernest Roy and Charles Hebert, Club Lafayette, Little Orleaner, L. P. Turcotte, Joseph Parnonier, and Telephone Reamant, all of whom were in the family lot. St. Jean Baptiste church, where the complete funeral services were held by Rev. J. N. Bachand, O.M.I. There was a wealth of floral offerings showing the sympathy in which deceased was held. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers Amedee Archambault & Sons.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the many friends, also the employees of Merrimack Mfg. Co., for their kindness and for the floral tributes sent at the death of my dear husband.

COUGHING, WEAK AND RUN-DOWN AFTER FLU

Regained flesh and strength quickly, and tells how

"I nearly died from 'flu' last October, and it left me with a terrible cough. The doctor gave me one bottle of medicine after another, but it did me no good. Went to Charlotte, N. C., and took treatment of a specialist without any permanent benefit.

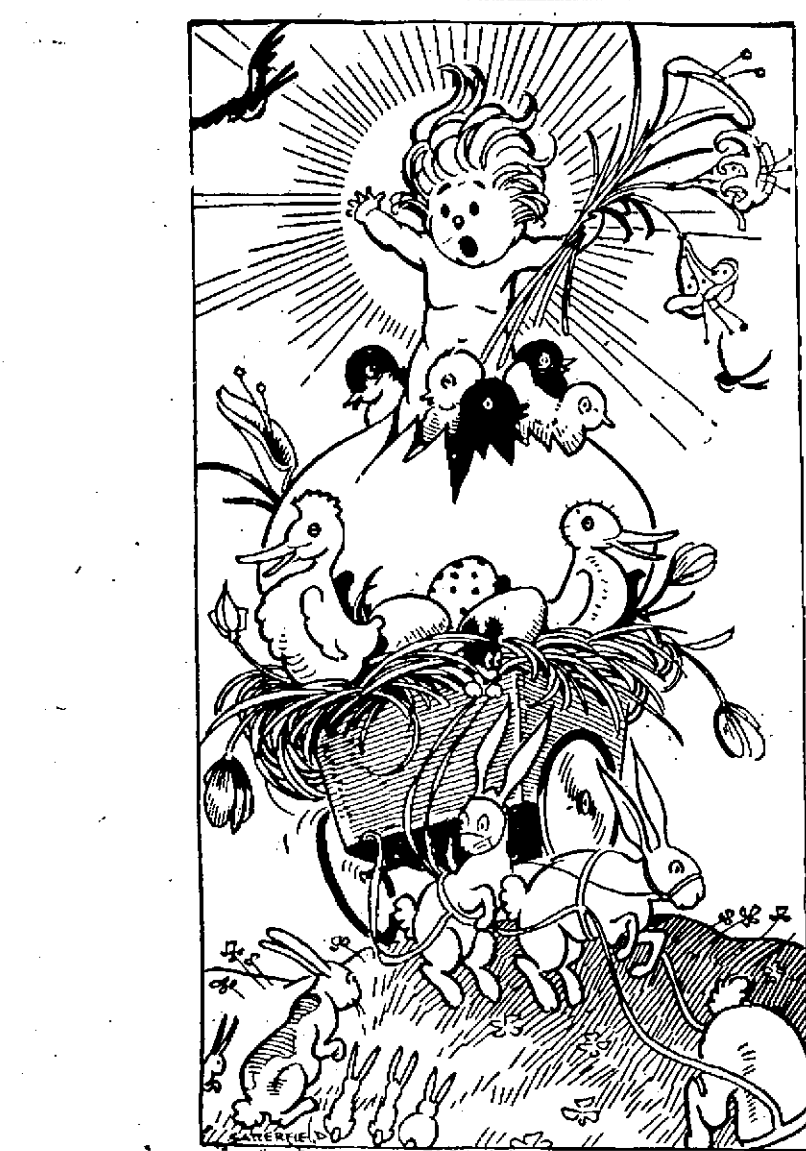

"I saw Milks Emulsion advertised and started using it. It helped me right from the start. I had no appetite and my stomach was in bad shape. But 12 bottles had straightened me out entirely. I eat anything without distress, my cough is gone and I have gained back my strength and flesh."

Emma Withers, Box 50, Belmont, N. C. Don't trifle with a weak, run-down condition. It leaves you open to serious diseases. Get your strength back. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physys. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere. Sold and guaranteed by Fred Howard, 137 Central St.—Adv.

READY FOR EASTER

Famous Easter Sundays

Easter Sunday has been the occasion of many events famed in history. It has been a day of discovery, conquest and defeat.

Among the notable events to occur on past Easter Sundays are the following:

EASTER, APRIL 2, 1512
Ponce de Leon, Spanish governor of Porto Rico, sailing in search of the "fountain of youth," discovered Florida and named it "Pascua de flores," meaning, "Flower of Easter."

EASTER, APRIL 5, 1722
Easter Island, famous mystery island and said to be part of a vanished continent, was discovered in 1722 by Roggeveen and named for the day of discovery. The source of architecture found on the island has never been explained.

EASTER, APRIL 10, 1811
Napoleon's downfall began on Easter, 1811, when Wellington defeated the flower of the French army at Waterloo. Napoleon abdicated at Fontainebleau the next day.

EASTER WEEK, 1830
The Church of the Latter Day Saints was founded in this week by Joseph Smith and Oliver Cowdery, declared by Mormon tradition to have translated the Book of Mormon, written on tablets of gold. The formal naming of the church did not take place until 1831.

EASTER, APRIL 16, 1865
The last armed action of consequence in the Civil war was the surrender of the Confederate munitions depot at Columbus, Ga., on Easter day, 1865. It was the second largest war depot of the Confederacy.

EASTER, APRIL 10, 1808
The division of the Isle of Crete into four provinces was made by the Turks on Easter Sunday, 1808. This was the beginning of the loss of the island to Turkey. The German reichstag laid one of the foundations for the great war on Easter, 1908, when it passed a law greatly increasing the navy.

EASTER, APRIL 23, 1916
The Dublin uprising against English rule called the "Easter riots" occurred in 1916. The "Republic of Ireland" was formed on that day. There were many arrests by the British and one execution.

EASTER, MARCH 31, 1918
The 97 victims of the German long range gun who were killed while worshipping on Good Friday in the Church of St. Gervais, Paris, were buried Easter, 1918. Five were Americans. The shell fell at the instant of the Elevation of the Host.

FUNERAL NOTICES

McDERMOTT—Died April 2nd, at his home, 6 Andrews street, Matthew McDermott. The funeral will take place Monday morning at 8 o'clock from his late home, 6 Andrews street. Funeral mass at the Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertakers Higgins Bros. in charge of funeral arrangements.

KOLIOS—Died at the Lowell General hospital, April 2, Spiros Kolios. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the chapel of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons. Services at the Holy Trinity Greek church at 3 o'clock. Burial will take place in the Westlawn cemetery in charge of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons.

HAM AND EGGS ARE A BIT EXPENSIVE

Seventy-five cents a dozen for strictly fresh eggs and 60 cents a pound for the best quality ham is what you will have to pay for your Easter dinner tomorrow if you feel like following the custom of having "ham and eggs" on your menu. Of course there are cheaper eggs and cheaper ham, for western fresh eggs are retailing for 60 cents, while what is known as northern fresh can be bought for 60 cents a dozen. The first cut of ham is 10 cents a pound, while that nearer the bone is as low as 23 cents a pound. Then again there is the smoked shoulder, which is often used as a substitute for ham, which retails at 25 cents a pound. Last year the best cut of ham could be bought for about 55 cents a pound and the other cuts were cheaper in proportion. Strictly fresh eggs last Easter were retailing at about 60 cents a dozen, while cold storage eggs brought 49 cents a dozen.

NOTICE ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Lowell Fish and Game Association will be held on Tuesday, April 6th, at 7.30 p. m. in Odd Fellows Temple, 54 Madison Street.

Business of great importance to sportsmen will be in order as follows: payment of dues, election of new members, reports of committees, nomination and election of officers and any other business that is for the betterment of sport with Rod and Gun. A large attendance is desired. WILLIS S. HOLT, Secretary.

PICKETING OF BRITISH EMBASSY CALLED OFF

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Picketing of the British embassy by women favorable to an Irish republic was called off today by the leaders of the movement. Mrs. Thomas Corliss of New York, one of the leaders of the movement, said the state department was not responsible; that the department had not communicated with the women.

"We picketed the embassy on Good Friday," she said, "to remind Great Britain and the state department of the Crucifixion of Christ and to call attention that Ireland was being crucified."

Mrs. Corliss said it did not necessarily follow that because the pickets did not visit the embassy today that the picketing had been ended.

At the state department it was said that there were no developments in the situation. Secretary Colby announced yesterday that the department would take "effective measures" to end the picketing, but just what action was contemplated was not made clear. It was understood that no action would be taken unless the women again appeared at the embassy. It was learned today that police officials who were at the embassy yesterday to prevent any disorder arising out of the picketing, informed the women that their action was a breach of international law and consequently was quite different from that of the militant suffragists who picketed the White House two years ago.

FOREVER BARRED FROM AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 3.—Citizenship was forever barred to Carl Ludvig Hoglund, of this city, today by United States Judge Arthur L. Brown on the grounds that Hoglund claimed exemption from military service during the world war, because he was born in Sweden and had not become naturalized. Hoglund was granted his first papers here May 29, 1916. He then expressed enthusiasm over his prospects of becoming an American citizen, but when he was called in the draft in 1918, he claimed exemption on the ground that he was a citizen of a friendly neutral nation.

Today he came before Judge Brown and asked to be sworn in as a citizen of the United States. Naturalization Officer John Moran told the court of the military evasion of the man, and the judge immediately barred him forever from citizenship.

150,000 LOAVES OF CAKE TO BE DISTRIBUTED BY AMERICANS IN VIENNA

VIENNA, April 2.—Every child fed at the American kitchen tomorrow will be given a loaf of cake to take home to his family for the Easter dinner. One hundred and fifty thousand loaves will be distributed, enabling thousands of children to taste cake for the first time in their lives.

It is to our bodies what coal is to an engine. Every day we burn up a certain amount of tissue. Therefore new tissue must be built to take the place of the lost (tissue).

The food we eat makes this new tissue and in a healthy person gives enough fuel to replace the loss.

People get thin and "run down" because they do not get enough nourishment from their food to supply the needed fuel.

When the weakened system does not do its duty you must have a "tissue builder." Father John's Medicine is a real tissue builder because it actually makes new flesh and tissue.

When you take Father John's Medicine, the actual food elements of which it is composed give you new strength, and enable the organs of the body to resume their work.

Remember, Father John's Medicine contains no alcohol, or dangerous drugs. It has a history of more than half a century of success.

POPULATION STATISTICS EDITOR KILLED IN DUEL

To Date Returns From 253 of the 14,000 Cities and Towns Have Been Made

WASHINGTON, April 3.—To date, populations of 253 of the approximately 14,000 incorporated cities, towns and villages in the country have been announced by the census bureau. Practically all show increases and some have more than doubled in size. Portfolios containing the returns of the various districts are flooding into the census directors' office. In many places the enumerators have completed their work, but in others it is just being closed, although begun four months ago. Some of the larger cities, including Chicago and New Orleans, are being prepared for announcement, while New York's portfolios are almost all in.

Figures for only 10 of the 50 cities of the group having 100,000 or more inhabitants in 1910 thus far have been made public. Of these Toledo showed the largest increase with 11.3 per cent.

Of the 50 cities having 50,000 to 100,000 inhabitants in 1910, six have been announced. Schenectady, N. Y., leads the increases in this group with 21.8 per cent.

Population of 28 incorporated places of the 119, which in 1910 had from 25,000 to 50,000 inhabitants, has been announced. Knoxville, Tenn., leads in this group with an increase of 11.1 per cent. Growth of the other cities of this size was: Shreveport, La., 5.6 per cent increase; Birmingham, N. Y., 3.9; Chattanooga, Tenn., 2.8; Macon, Ga., 2.2; Aurora, Ill., 2.7; Danville, Ill., 2.1; Lewiston, Me., 2.0; Lexington, Ky., 1.8; Amsterdam, N. Y., 1.2; Elgin, Ill., 1.1; Colorado Springs, Colo., 1.7, and Oshkosh, Wis., 0.3. In this group, Kingston, N. Y., showed a decrease of 0.1 per cent and Newport, Ky., a decrease of 3.3 per cent.

Scotts Bluff, Neb., has the highest percentage of increase of any of the incorporated places thus far, announced with 25.5 per cent. Other increases over 100 per cent, are: Eldorado, Kas., 251.4 per cent; Cicero, Ill., 209.1; Alma, Mich., 173.6; Knoxville, Tenn., 114.1, and Oak Park, Ill., 104.8.

Manistee Mich., has shown the heaviest decrease with 21.7 per cent.

Political Excitement Prevails in Montevideo as Result of Tragedy

MONTVIDEO, Uruguay, April 1.—Political excitement prevails in this city tonight as a result of the death of Washington Beltran, editor of the newspaper El Pais, in a duel with former President Jose Batlle y Ordonez this morning. The nationalist party has called a meeting of its leaders and the chamber of deputies held a meeting tonight, discussing the tragedy. After the last election in Uruguay, the nationalists accused the "Batillistas," the party headed by the former president, of fraud. This organization is a section of the Coloradoist party which is at present in political control here, and Beltran's newspaper, in an editorial discussing the elections, called Batlle, the "champion of fraud." It was this utterance that led to the fatal duel.

The opponents met on a football field in the midst of a pouring rain storm. Standing 25 paces apart, the duellists were given the word to fire, both missing on the first exchange. Before Beltran could fire a second shot, he was struck by a bullet from Batlle's pistol, and sank to the ground mortally wounded. The body was taken to the state headquarters of the nationalist party, where it is lying in state tonight.

There is a law against dueling in Uruguay, but it is understood that one of the conditions agreed to by Beltran and Batlle was that neither would prosecute the other in case of inquiry. Duels are infrequent in this country.

Batlle, who was twice president of Uruguay and is now a member of the national administrative council, voluntarily gave himself to the police, following an order by the state prosecutor for his arrest, as well as that of the doctors, seconds and other persons connected with the duel. He is being held incommunicado in a police station and will be interrogated Saturday.

The chamber of deputies at a special session late tonight unanimously adopted a resolution according an annual pension of $3000 to Beltran's widow.

SIMS URGES GREATER CO-OPERATION BETWEEN THE ARMY AND NAVY

NEWPORT, R. I., April 3.—Admiral Sims, president of the naval war college, has expressed a desire to inaugurate a new departure at the navy college where greater co-operation between the army and navy is hoped to be effected. He has requested the detail of Major E. L. King of the army as a member of the college faculty. Heretofore army officers have been members of the classes at this institution but never has there been one on the faculty.

RADICALS WIN 102 OUT OF 158 SEATS IN NEXT CONGRESS IN ARGENTINE

BUENOS AIRES, April 2.—Canvass of the votes cast in the recent Argentine elections shows that out of 158 seats in the next congress, which will convene in May, radicals will hold at least 102. The count is now completed with the exception of one province, where only one seat is involved. Conservatives and democrats, who were allied in the campaign, will have 45 seats and the socialists 10.

Good Weather for "Fashion Parades"

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Easter "fashion parades" throughout the eastern portion of the country, will encounter showers if predictions of the weather bureau today are borne out. Fair weather which over-spread most of the country east of the Mississippi today and raised the hopes of possessors of Easter finery, will be followed tomorrow by cloudy weather, showers and even pouring rain, the bureau's forecast said. Unseasonable temperatures in some states promise a further blight to Easter parades. New England alone will escape tomorrow's rain, the forecaster said, adding that even in that section rain might be expected tomorrow night.

MORE STRAIGHT TALK

Did you notice in a local paper on Wednesday that the "Bituminous operators insist that increased wages to miners make necessary an increase in price of from 65c to $1.25 per ton at the mines?"

Somebody Will Pay This Increase

Hard coal miners will get increased wages also,—

Who Will Pay For This Increase?

COKE at $10.00 per ton is worthy of your serious consideration.

Hard Coal at $14.00 and perhaps $16.00 is an expensive luxury when you can buy COKE at the above price.

Tissue Building

Tissue is the doctor's name for body cells.

It is to our bodies what coal is to an engine.

Every day we burn up a certain amount of tissue.

Therefore new tissue must be built to take the place of the lost (tissue).

The food we eat makes this new tissue and in a healthy person gives enough fuel to replace the loss.

Explains Why He Urged Support of Wilson in Last Campaign

NEW YORK, April 2.—Herbert Hoover, who has announced he is ready to accept the republican presidential nomination, if it is demanded of him, issued a statement today in which he requested he be not further embarrassed by suggestions of some independent candidates that his name be placed before any other party, as "a primary sense of team work in any party organization would preclude such a possibility."

Mr. Hoover said he had no great record of partisan activity and "admitted" that his political activity was confined to membership in a prominent republican club and allegiance to the party over a period of years. He added that, because of his profession of a mining engineer, continual shift of residence had prevented him from exercising as much as he desired the privilege of every citizen at the polls.

Assessing that his administrative duties in various relief organizations would prevent him from making a personal canvass for the nomination, Mr. Hoover said he expected Hoover organizations throughout the country would have to expend certain amounts for printing and other expenses, but that he hoped they would confine themselves to minor subscriptions and expenditures and would be prepared to open their books to public inspection.

Mr. Hoover requested that men and women advocating his nomination, "bear in mind that personal criticism of the other names before the party is chiefly of service to the opposition."

"All these men," he said, "are patriotic, honorable Americans. They have all served the country well and are entitled to respect."

Because he had refused to allow his name put into the primaries, Mr. Hoover declared that there was "little organization" on his behalf and, at this late date, no organization is possible that could compete with other organizations. He urged that his supporters confine their energies "to promotion of their views to the country and the delegates already named, with full respect to their prior pledges."

Mr. Hoover said that he had no expectation that his entrance into the presidential race would be welcomed by the "type of person who conceives that fitness for office, patriotism and citizenship, depend upon placing sheer partisanship above national interest or who requires years of demonstrated participation in work with mechanical politicians."

"I cannot assist these people with explanations," he said, "trying to prove that I belong to their class," he added.

"Some people of this sort feel great trouble of mind that in a letter addressed to a friend last year I expressed my alarm at the then growing partisanship and pressed the need for unity of action between legislative and executive branches of the government, while we were still faced with the

City Council May Be Asked to Declare Call Force Abolished

The 11 call firemen who are to be restored to their positions in the local fire department as a result of the issuance of writs of mandamus by Judge Pierce in the supreme court yesterday will be entitled to their pay from Feb. 1 of this year up until the time they are restored to their places in the department by Commissioner John P. Salmon.

This will cost the city approximately $160, if the men are restored at once. During the two months that they continued to Page 2—First Section

ONE-WAY THOROUGHFARE

Chamber of Commerce Considers Prescott Street One-Way Proposition

A project to make Prescott street a one-way thoroughfare and thus avoid traffic congestion is under consideration by the chamber of commerce and will probably be brought to a stage for definite discussion at a meeting of the chamber's committee on streets to be held next Friday.

Agitation for making this street a one-way affair has been going on for some time but it is understood that some of the merchants with places of business on the street are opposed to the idea, believing that it may injure their business. On the other hand, arguments have been advanced to the effect that the narrow nature of the thoroughfare tends to congest traffic. The street railway company has used it as a one-way street for years, sending its cars from Merrimack square in the direction of Central street but never in the opposite direction.

FAMOUS NATURALIST 83

Burroughs' Message "Keep Cheerful and Get Out More and Better Newspapers"

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 2.—John Burroughs, famous naturalist, gave a new message to the world today, his 83rd birthday, which he is celebrating at Yama farms, near Nanuet, Ulster county, the home of his friend, Frank Seaman.

It is "keep cheerful and get out more and better newspapers that the world may be benefited."

Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison, old friends of Mr. Burroughs, were not expected to attend the celebration of the West Park naturalist's anniversary. Mr. Ford, Mr. Burroughs states, is in Detroit and Mr. Edison in Florida.

Mr. Burroughs spent part of the day collecting maple sap. This afternoon he planted a sugar maple tree on Mr. Seaman's farm. Many friends visited him and offered their congratulations. He also received a large number of messages by wire and mail.

ARREST BRITISH ENVOY

Imprisoned by Serbians While on Investigation Into Montenegro for Government

PARIS, April 2.—Count de Salis, formerly British minister to Montenegro, and latterly on a special mission to the Vatican for the British government, has been arrested and imprisoned by the Serbians while executing a mission of investigation into Montenegro for the British government. This information is contained in a declaration made to King Nicholas of Montenegro, who is now in Paris, by the Montenegrin foreign minister.

Count de Salis' life has been in danger for a long time, according to this declaration, which prefaces the details of the incident by recalling Earl Curzon's declaration in the British house of lords that the Montenegrins were anxious for a union with Serbia.

Instead of demanding reparations, the declaration adds, the British foreign office suppressed the report of Count de Salis and continued to support the Serbian claims. The declaration alleges his report was to the effect that the Serbian army "which over-ran Montenegro after the armistice, terrorized the population."

The reign of terror still continues, says the declaration which, after declaring that wherever Serbian troops appear, the occupation is followed by pillage, incendiarism and massacres, gives details.

In conclusion, the complaint is made in the declaration that "Europe knows what is happening to Montenegro but remains indifferent," and that President Wilson, "the great champion of small nations, persistently turns a deaf ear."

LOWELL PREPARED FOR EASTER OBSERVANCE

Easter Sunday, one of the greatest days of jubilation on the ecclesiastical calendar, commemorative of the resurrection of Christ, will be observed in Lowell tomorrow under auspices of a most favorable nature, from present indications.

The weather man's quill board has spelled out fine spring weather for tomorrow, the churches have arranged programs expressing the rejoicing prevalent everywhere on Easter Sunday. Continued to Page 2—First Section

Bolshevik Launch Big Drives as Preliminary to Attack on Northern Front

Fighting at Various Points—Lettish Report Says Bolshevik Repulsed

WARSAW, April 2.—(By Associated Press)—The Bolshevik launched attacks yesterday on both sides of the river Dvina, apparently in the beginning of their threatened drive on the northern front designed to carry them in the direction of Vilna. Fighting at various points on this front is reported in the Lettish communique today. One of the Lettish statements announces the repulse of the Bolsheviks.

SUNDAY SPORTS BILL

Must Be Accepted By City Council Before Becoming Operative

Before the Sunday sports bill signed by Governor Coolidge late yesterday can become operative in this city it will have to be accepted by a vote of the municipal council. It was learned today.

If the council sees fit not to accept the bill then Lowell people will not be allowed to enjoy outdoor sports on the Sabbath but present indications are that the council will accept the act without dissent.

The only possibility of any opposition to the bill here in Lowell lies in the attitude of one or two of the local churches. When the war activities were at their height here in 1918 and Sunday

STILLS SEIZED

Woman Moonshine Whiskey Manufacturer Arrested

SPRINGFIELD, April 2.—When the arrest today of Mrs. Vittoria Bialo of West Springfield by police and prohibition officers the authorities believe they have taken into custody the first woman moonshine whiskey manufacturer in the country. The woman's arrest followed a raid late last night on the home of Paul Bialo, the woman's husband. Three whiskey stills and a large quantity of finished product were seized and Bialo and two other men were arrested.

MAKE BATH HOUSE
SELF SUPPORTING

The new municipal bath house off the Pawtucket boulevard, which is to be opened this coming summer, will be self-sustaining, according to Supr. John W. Kernan of the park department. The impression has made headway that the city would be called upon to expend considerable money each summer for the maintenance of the building, but the park commission is now working on plans whereby small fees from patrons of the bath house will be collected and the expenses of maintenance thus met.

German Government Troops Advance

THE HAGUE, April 3.—The general advance of the German government troops along the entire front against the insurgent forces in the Ruhr and neighboring industrial regions which began at 7 o'clock Friday morning, has been very successful, according to well informed Dutch sources. The right wing of the advancing troops forced the Reds to retreat across the Teisterberg, and the government forces have already penetrated Hamm. At the center of the front the government troops have taken Recklinghausen, 13 miles northwest of Essen, driving the Reds before them, while the left wing is advancing from Hamm westward. The resistance of the Red army, which is reported not under the control of its nominal leaders, is said to have been generally weak.

So. Africa to Continue Fight for Freedom

PRETORIA, Union of South Africa, April 1.—General Christian De Wet, who commanded the Orange Free State forces in the Boer war, declared in a speech here today that South Africa would persist in pleading with England for independence until England granted it. He said although he had been called a rebel, he knew his heart was right. General De Wet continued that it was impossible for the South Africans to love the Union Jack, just as Englishmen living in the Transvaal under the South African republican flag could never love a flag which was not theirs.

Daylight Saving for Banks in Chicago

CHICAGO, April 3.—Chicago banks will put into effect their own "daylight saving plan" beginning a week from next Monday, they announced today. Under the new system banks will open at 9 a. m., and close at 2 p. m., an hour earlier than at present. Efforts still are being made to have a daylight saving ordinance passed by the city council.

Two Alleged Holdup Men Shot

BOSTON, April 3.—Two alleged holdup men were shot and wounded early today by the police, who had been notified that a man was being robbed in a doorway in the South End. Two other men escaped. Police reserves were called out to quell a disturbance over the attempt of a patrolman to make the arrests.

Cutters Refuse to Accept Agreement

CONCORD, N. H., April 3.—Concord stone cutters at a meeting here today voted unanimously not to accept the "Boston agreement" by which they would receive a wage advance of 60 cents a day at once, with a further advance to $4 a day on Sept. 1. About 250 stone cutters are employed in the granite sheds here.

200 Soldiers Killed in Mutiny

WASHINGTON, April 3.—The administration measure under which the federal reserve board hopes to effectually check speculation was passed today by the senate and now goes to the president.

ACT ON PROFITEERING IN BITUMINOUS COAL

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Federal district attorneys were instructed today by Attorney General Palmer to receive and consider complaints of profiteering in bituminous coal, "which may arise in your district under the Lever act."

Mr. Palmer's telegram was prepared after some bituminous coal operators had stated publicly that the new wage scale agreed on under the terms of the award by the coal strike settlement commission would result in an increase of from 60c to $1.25 a ton on coal.

Pointing out that the total increase in wages had been estimated at approximately $200,000,000 a year, Mr. Palmer said that if this entire amount were "added by the operators to the price, it would only make an increase of 60c a ton."

LONDON, April 3.—Reports from many parts of Ireland indicate that the government is taking no chances of a possible materialization of the rumored Sinn Fein plot for an Easter revolution. Londonderry, Dublin and other places, the reports said, were the center of extreme military activity, a stringent watch being maintained and all travelers searched and identified.

Elaborate preparations are being made to handle any possible untoward situations. Thus far, however, all newspaper reports from Ireland declare there is no Sinn Fein plot and that no uprising is expected. Therefore, the government measures are interpreted here as merely precautionary and not necessarily indicating that the authorities expect trouble.

LIPTON'S SHAMROCK
III LAUNCHED TODAY

SOUTHAMPTON, April 2.—Sir Thomas Lipton's 23 metro Shamrock III which will be used in the tuning up races with Shamrock IV, the America's cup challenger, off Sandy Hook this spring, was launched here today. She had been in drydock during the winter. The launching took place in the presence of Sir Thomas and Charles B. Nicholson, designer of the challenger. The Shamrock III will sail for America on April 7, without escort. The trial boat has been jury-rigged as a ketch for the voyage.

Before being put in the water the Shamrock III had her keel deepened and was otherwise improved with the idea of making her faster in windward work. Capt. Alfred Draper of Southampton is in command of the yacht and among the crew will be seven members of his family.

"I WENT TO THE ANIMAL FAIR"

"I went to the animal fair

The birds and the beasts were there;
The big baboon, by the light of the moon,
Was combing his auburn hair."

In this case the animals are in the new Field Museum in Chicago, which is to be opened soon. The building cost $10,000,000 and 30 freight trains have been busy moving everything from stuffed animals to butterfly wings into it.

LOWELL'S SAFETY FIRST CAMPAIGN

Two important developments marked the third day of Lowell's safety first campaign, which is being conducted during the first two weeks of April under the general direction of Supt. Welch of the police department and which has for its objectives the elimination of carelessness, an enemy which takes toll of thousands of lives in America yearly, and the minimizing of street traffic accidents in this city.

The first was a conference between the superintendent and Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, at which plans were formulated for a very thorough and educational presentation of the dangers of carelessness in the city's schools next week. This will include lectures by teachers depicting the results of carelessness to school children and pointing out the best methods of avoiding street traffic accidents. The pupils will also be asked to write essays on accident prevention.

The second development, and one which it is believed will have a large bearing on the success of the drive, consisted of the issuing of instructions to all policemen asking for greater co-operation in accident prevention. Particular attention is called to over-speeding and other automobile law violations, and the local "finest" is asked to leave no stone unturned in seeing to it that autoists who disregard traffic regulations are brought before the court.

"Careless America," the accident prevention film which has been secured from the Universal Film Co., will be exhibited at several of the local theatres this afternoon and evening, and rapid fire speakers will again be present at the different theatres to make brief addresses on the dangers of carelessness and pedestrians. Atty. Frank Goldman will be the speaker at the Strand Theatre this evening, and it is hoped to secure Maj. Walter R. Jeyes, in H. P. Kelly's Theatre. It is probable that other well-known speakers will be on hand at the other theatres where this great educational picture is being shown.

Atty. Albert S. Howard was the speaker at the Strand Theatre last evening and Supt. Welch made a brief address at the Merrimack Square theatre.

Weak, Thin and Pale

When I was a young girl I was weak, thin and pale, and suffered from inward trouble. My mother advised me strongly to take RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and by following her good advice I was amply rewarded, as I soon felt much better, and when I stopped taking RED PILLS, I had gained thirty-five pounds in weight and was feeling strong and well in every way.

stre. Both stressed the need of careful driving and the necessity of exercising due caution while traveling on busy public streets.

They pointed out that pure carelessness is the cause of the great majority of accidents in this country, particularly street accidents. More than twice as many people were killed in accidents resulting through carelessness during the nineteen months America was engaged in the world war than the total number of our land and sea forces killed in action, they asserted.

"Careless America" will be shown at local theatres throughout the two-weeks' drive, and as has already been stated in these columns, is a picture of great educational value and intrinsic worth. In addition to depicting in vivid and forceful manner the results of carelessness it also contains many thrilling scenes and cannot fail to find favor with those who witness it.

HOW SUNDAY SPORTS BILL WILL OPERATE

The Sunday sport bill, which was signed by Gov. Coolidge yesterday, takes effect this year in cities where the mayor and city council accept the act.

It takes permanent effect in cities upon its acceptance by a majority of the voters at the next city election.

It takes effect in towns upon its acceptance by a majority of the voters at either a special or regular town meeting.

Selection must call special town meetings on petition of 10 per cent. of registered voters.

Only amateur sports as permitted, between 2 and 6 o'clock p. m. Horse racing, automobile racing, boxing and hunting with firearms specifically prohibited.

Local authorities designate places where games may be played and make regulations governing conduct of games.

No admission fee may be charged, directly or indirectly, and no business or other enterprise conducted or collection made at Sunday games.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL

At a recent meeting of the Trades and Labor council the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: F. A. Warnock, president; Timothy O'Rourke, vice president; Frank N. Simpson, secretary; J. Frank Burke, assistant secretary; Mrs. Annie Reagan, financial secretary and treasurer; Michael Kinane, sergeant-at-arms; Fred Drouin, Mrs. Rachel Campbell and Frank McNulty, trustees. Committees were announced as follows: Standing committee: Timothy O'Rourke, chairman; George Keating, Thomas Crowe, John P. Casey and Alfred W. Hersons. Non-partisan political campaign committee: Timothy O'Rourke, Fred Drouin, John P. Casey, Fred Lareway and Frank N. Simpson. The meeting was addressed by John J. Nolan of Local 318, International association of Machinists of Beverly.

Sure Relief

HARKING BACK TO THE GOOD OLD DAYS

They're still advertising suits in Lowell, good ones, too, at from $10 to $12 per each. Also shoes at $2.50 and $3.00 a pair.

Out in upper Gorham street, there is an old sign board announcing to all and sundry that these bargains aforesaid may be obtained at a local store.

But alas, the prices it flaunts in the face of a price-ridden generation are no more. The firm has been out of business for years and the sign is merely a survival of that prehistoric period when suits of clothes were suits and not investments.

A very little mental arithmetic will tell how times have changed. Such exercise is not recommended to purchasers who like to keep control of their tempers, however.

In the present advance state of civilization, it takes mighty close to a century note to purchase a suit that will give one the service once to be expected from these $10 and $12 outfits.

And as to shoes—well, it will cost at the very least a ten-spot to buy a pair which won't crank when one walks down the aisle in one's favorite church or movie house.

Verily, times have changed.

LOWELL GIRL WANTS COWBOY HUSBAND

Somewhere in Moody street—just where we're not allowed to say—there lives a pretty 22-year-old miss who wants to get married. But she doesn't intend to sail the matrimonial sea with any Lowell young man—not she. A black-eyed, handsome and husky cowboy of the golden west is her ideal, and she's either going to capture a chap from the land of the wild and woolly or remain single.

Just to show that she is in real earnest in her search for a cowboy husband she has written a letter to the sheriff of an Arizona county, describing herself most minutely, and asking his assistance in lassoing some husky cowpuncher who wants a life partner from the City of Spindles.

BELIEVES IN SAFETY FIRST PRECAUTION

Contractor Drapeau, who is in charge of the general construction of the auditorium in East Merrimack street, made arrangements this morning for a private room at St. John's hospital in the event of accidents occurring while the building is in the process of erection. In addition Mr. Drapeau has equipped his office on the site with a first-aid kit as well as a bunk for the comfort of those who might meet with accidents, pending the arrival of the ambulance. The services of Dr. Francis Mahoney have also been retained, and the physician will visit the premises three times a week. "We don't anticipate that any serious accident will occur on the job," said Mr. Drapeau, "but we believe in safety first."

Lowell Prepared for Easter

day and Lowell's clothing stores have done their part nobly in "dressing up" the city for the day.

Unless the weather man and the store keepers work in co-operation their Easter efforts are of no avail for new clothes are of little use on a stormy day, and, vice versa, good weather is not enjoyed to its utmost depths unless one is attired in clothes that have lately left the tailor, dressmaker or clothing dealer.

But as things look now there is perfect peace and harmony between the power that regulates the weather and the men and women who sell clothes. Tomorrow should bring to Merrimack street an Easter parade no less brilliant than that for which Fifth avenue annually gets its picture in the papers. For certainly Lowell store windows have been adorned during the past couple of weeks with finery appealing to the eye, conducive to fashion and, in some instances, heart-breaking to the purse.

But as one of Lowell's shoppers is reported to have said during the Christmas season last December—"It's a little high, but I'll take it." So it is with the Easter shoppers. They are willing to pay the price to appear at their best tomorrow and downtown dealers report a brisk business which will reach its height this evening.

It will be in the churches that Easter will be most formally observed. Impressive musical programs have been arranged and sermons appropriate to the occasion will be delivered.

RAPS STATE DEPARTMENT

"Organ of Internal Politics," Says Buenos Aires Paper in Commenting on Notes

BUENOS AIRES, April 2.—Recent American notes to Chile, Bolivia and Peru are described as "the fruit of diplomatic interference" by La Prensa, which declares they "do not reveal any political plan that should alarm the South American continent or give Argentina any motive for suspicion."

In its first editorial on the subject, the newspaper asked whether the notes "which affect the sovereignty of those states, respond to a resolved policy according to which the United States constitutes itself the inherent protector of new world republics," and "what should be the attitude of Argentina." These questions are answered today, the Journal stating it has a "newfound knowledge of the functioning of the American state department," and asserting that department "never cultivated a diplomatic mode of procedure and does not possess a diplomacy." It declares the department is "an organ of internal politics rather than international" and that the secretary's tenure of office is unstable, due to Andrew Jackson's policy of "to the victor belongs the spoils."

"There does not exist in Washington a mode of conducting traditional diplomacy, nor scarcely a chancellery," continues La Prensa. "For this reason the United States frequently assumes attitudes incomprehensible to other nations in attempting to apply party judgments and local politics to international life. Men of the United States have generally written on delicate and susceptible international questions with the crudeness with which they treat internal politics. These antecedents induce us to think the form of the notes in question does not respond to a political plan of a continental protectorate which is contemporary in regard to lesser republics. They are an instance of inadvertence and lack of diplomatic tact."

COAL DEALERS REFUSE TO ARBITRATE

A committee from the Coal Tenants' union called at the Sun office this afternoon, and made a statement relative to the wage controversy between them and the coal dealers.

The spokesman for the delegation stated that they had an appointment with a delegation from the dealers for this afternoon, and that the latter had refused to meet them at the last moment.

"I should judge from what I have read in the papers," said the spokesman, "that the dealers are trying to put us in a wrong light. We feel that we are not asking for more than we deserve and even what we ask is hardly sufficient to combat the high cost of living."

"The dealers have gone on record as saying that they offered us an 8 per cent. increase, but their offer, when figured out, means a 5.65, not an 8 per cent. increase."

"We had an appointment with a committee from the dealers for this afternoon, but at the last moment they refused to meet us and absolutely refused to arbitrate. We are more than willing to meet the dealers half way, but we are not going the whole distance. Our request for a 15 per cent. increase is reasonable and just and we want the people of Lowell to know that we are not asking for any more than belongs to us."

16,500 R. R. SWITCHMEN TO STRIKE MONDAY

CHICAGO, April 3.—Sixteen thousand, five hundred railroad switchmen in the Chicago terminals will walk out before Monday morning, causing complete suspension of freight traffic, unless the demands of 700 striking employees of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road are granted, John Grunau, leader of the strikers, announced today.

Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, with which the switchmen are affiliated, declared, however, that Grunau's organization, the Chicago yardmen's association, is an "outlaw" union and he had no authority to speak for brotherhood members.

A. P. Whitney, vice president of the brotherhood, is co-operating with officials of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul in an effort to break the "illegal" strike called by Grunau.

Money deposited in The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank on or before Saturday, April 3, begins to draw interest from that date.

FIRE PROTECTION FOR THE HIGHLANDS

Further fire protection for the Highlands will be forthcoming next Monday when a second new piece of motorized apparatus within a few weeks will be installed in that section of the city. The new chemical and ladder truck recently ordered by Commissioner John F. Salmon is due to arrive here Monday and will be put in the Branch street house. A short time ago a triple-combination pumping engine was installed in the Westford street house, thus giving the Highlands two up-to-date pieces of motorized apparatus in addition to the old equipment previously there.

DRINK MILK AND FORGET HIGH COST OF LIVING

Holmer Rabild practices what he preaches. As head of the dairy extension activities of the U. S. department of agriculture his program of performance is to stimulate a "drink-milk" campaign in American cities. He first applied the supreme test to himself in determining the value of milk as a food.

For three unbroken weeks Rabild subsisted on an exclusive diet of milk. He began the self-imposed experiment by drinking three quarts of sweet milk daily, but as the test progressed a more liberal volume was found necessary. Consequently, a pint of butter-milk was added to the daily allowance.

He ate no other food during the 21 days. His efficiency was not impaired

HOLMER RABILD

In the slightest and the finish found him in a vigorous condition. He lost five pounds of weight, but a bit of excess flesh admitted of this without any discomfort.

Rabild was ready forthwith to subscribe to the conclusion of the celebrated dietitian of Columbia university that, "There is no more important work to be done in connection with the general movement for conservation and public health than to teach the economy of milk and its pre-eminent importance in the food supply."

The high cost of living was likewise underlined by this dairy specialist, whose outlay for food during the 21 days was less than 60 cents a day or not exceeding $12 for the three weeks.

No wonder Rabild is an enthusiastic supporter of the "drink-milk" campaigns that are planned for a number of large cities.

Pittsburg gave sanction to the movement on March 15, while Kansas City will begin an intensive appeal for the use of liberal volumes of milk in the homes, the date being April 12.

Of the 2,250,000 miles of rural highway in the Mississippi valley, only a scant 100,000, or 7.5 per cent. of the total are hard surfaced.

N. E. CLASSICAL ASSOCIATION

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., April 3.—Professor Frank C. Chubbitt, of Trinity college today was chosen president of the New England Classical association which has been holding its annual meeting with Wesleyan university.

Other officers elected were: Miss Olive M. Wing of Springfield, Mass., vice president and Prof. Monroe H. Welmore of Williams college, secretary-treasurer. As the latter is on leave of absence, Prof. John S. Galbraith of the same college will serve. The executive committee includes Miss Mary C. Robinson, Bangor, Me., and Miss Ruth B. Franklin, Newport, R. I. The representative to the classical league is Dean George E. Howes of Williams.

Foreign Exchange

NEW YORK, April 3.—Dealers in exchange reported an active market for London remittances today. The rate for demand bills rose to $2.97, with cables at $2.95.

These are the highest quotations in this market since last December and show a recovery of almost 50 per cent. from the low of February, when demand fell to $2.15.

French and Italian quotations were only nominally better today and remittances to other continental European centers were light.

NEW YORK, April 3.—Sterling 60 day bills 3.32; commercial 60 day bills 3.29; demand 3.22; cables 3.25.

France demand 1.56; cables 1.54. Belgium demand 12.70; cables 12.65. Gold francs demand 37.5; cables 37.2. Lire demand 20.15; cables 20.15. Marks demand 1.44; cables 1.45.

AMERICA AND ARMS

London Paper Says U. S. Revolved on Treaty Her Representatives Helped Draft

LONDON, April 3.—Discussing the American presidential situation and its possible effect on the relationship between Great Britain and the United States, the Daily News, under the caption: "America and arms," refers to the reaction from war in the United States.

"Rightly or wrongly," the newspaper says, "America revolved against the treaty her representatives had helped to draft, and under the influence of that emotion resolved not merely to maintain her detachment from Europe, but to arm herself potentially against Europe."

"Nothing will bring the two hemispheres together more rapidly than a demonstration from this side of the Atlantic of a sincere resolution to disarm. Nothing could be more beneficial to Anglo-American relations than an invitation, extended more than once, by Walter Hume Long, speaking officially as first lord of the admiralty, for competition with America, not to increase armaments, but to decrease them."

Call Firemen Will Get Pay

were supposed to be no longer members of the department some of the callmen have continued to respond to alarms, but Commissioner Salmon instructed Chief Edward P. Saunders to give them no orders and to ignore them whenever they appeared at fires. Only one of the 11 men turned in his badge to the commissioner.

Mr. Salmon was not at city hall today and could not be located so that his plans regarding the restoration of the men might be known. However, the decision of the court gives him little choice of action. The men must be reinstated and then if further action is to be taken the municipal council may be called upon to declare the call force of the city abolished and to instruct the commissioner again to notify the callmen of their discharge.

Counsel for the firemen at the hearing yesterday stressed the point that the abolition of the firemen was a matter of policy to be decided by the municipal council as a whole and not by any one commissioner. This together with the charge that the notices sent the firemen were not legally drawn is said to have been the point that decided the case.

As a result of recent legislation, the legal form of notice of removal of a city employee has been changed from what it has been for a number of years and when the notices were sent to the callmen they were drawn according to the old form instead of the new. It was said today. Furthermore, the law department was not called upon to pass on the legality of the notices when they were issued. City Solicitor William D. Regan says.

Whether Commissioner Salmon will ask the city council to pass a vote abolishing the call force of the fire department could not be learned today, owing to the commissioner's absence. However, one fact is assured—the callmen are entitled to two months' pay for which they are supposed to have done no work.

Sunday Sports Bill

baseball was allowed providing that the members of one of the contending teams were service men, one of the local ministers protested to Mayor Thompson against such playing on the Sabbath but as there was no united protest, no action was taken and the Sunday games went on.

The passage of the new bill is particularly pleasing to members of the local park commission who have agitated its enactment for the past three or four years and Clarence M. Weed, chairman of the commission, has given much of his time appearing personally at the state house in favor of the project.

With the attitude of the park commission known to be favorable toward the proposition there is little doubt but what the municipal council will accept the act and Lowell will be wide open for the enjoyment of Sunday baseball and other sports.

The South common has been the nucleus of Sunday baseball for the past few years when games have been allowed provided service men participated. However, with the acceptance of the new act it is very probable that every common and park in the city will have its Sunday afternoon games to furnish recreation and enjoyment to thousands of the city's residents.

The regulation of Sunday sporting activity will be in the hands of the park commission working in co-operation with the police department. The park department will issue permits for the use of the various commons and playgrounds and will have general supervision as to what teams shall use them, etc. The police department will be called upon to maintain order appropriate to the spirit of the Sabbath.

Palmer Discusses Long Campaign Against "Big Five" Before House

Declares the Divorcement Decree Met Every Just Complaint

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Court proceedings against the "big five" Chicago packers were instituted because "it had come to the time for a showdown in the industry," Attorney General Palmer today told the house agriculture committee. The attorney general appearing in connection with pending regulatory legislation reviewed what he called the long campaign against the industry in court and before public opinion.

"It seemed to me that the thing had come to a point where the packers were either entitled to a clean bill of health," said Mr. Palmer, "or the public was entitled to a judgment of some sort against them."

The consent decree, finally agreed upon after the government had instituted suit, he said was the result.

The divorce decree, Mr. Palmer said, "met every just complaint that had been made by consumers, producers or competitors, against the packers."

"It met them by adjournment with means for enforcing it," the attorney general continued. "The managers and influential stockholders in the packing corporations can be convicted of contempt of court and imprisoned for any violation of its terms. This makes these five great packers butchers and nothing else. They are no longer a menace to the food tables of America with..."

"I got more for the people by the civil action than I ever..."

"No business man ever has been sent to jail for violation of the Sherman act in all its history."

By leaving to the packers the use of refrigerators cars for transportation of meat only, he said, "we took the poison out of the practice."

"I wanted to accomplish five things: First—To take the packers out of the stockyard business, out of the terminal railroads which entered the stockyards, and out of livestock or market publications and keep them out."

"In detail, the plan is worked out so that the defendants themselves may present a plan to dispose of their interests and if that plan is not approved by the court, then a method is made by which the court may fix the plan. That is designed for the purpose of permitting these producers themselves, if they desired, to be substituted in the ownership of the stockyards and terminal railroads for the packers."

Mr. Palmer said the other things he desired to accomplish were to take the packers out of the public storage warehouse business, the retail business and all the unrelated lines of business.

"All those things I insisted upon and would not under any circumstances recede from," he said.

Mr. Palmer said he had made no suggestion to the packers as to what his position would be with respect to future legislation by congress or litigation by the government.

"My personal view," he said, "is that I would like to see this tried out. I believe this is a great, long, forward step. I believe we have gotten things that we have been fighting for for years."

COMMUNITY SERVICE EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

The Community Service employment bureau in Dutton street, through its director, Cornelius P. Cronin, today made public a report of its activities for the period extending from October 10, 1919, to March 12, 1920.

The report indicates an unexpectedly large number of people being given employment without a cent of expense as well as a similarly large number of employers being furnished help free of charge. It is known that a number of Boston individuals are desirous of opening employment offices here at which fees would be charged but the local license commission, is not inclined to issue the licenses owing to the excellent work being done by the Community Service bureau free of charge.

During the period mentioned 14,178 males visited the bureau. Of this number, 1397 were referred to firms or individuals for employment and 133 actually placed. During the period there were 976 who applied for the first time and were registered.

During the same period there were 2916 female visitors in search of employment, 585 were referred, 353 placed and 341 registered. The number of former service men who sought employment was 636,510 were referred, 227 placed and 116 registered.

In addition to the number already noted as having been placed, 25 per cent. of the applicants were also placed but no return cards were received from their employers so that their employment might be put on record.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

Convicted of a statutory offense, Harry Nichols of this city was sentenced to one year in the house of correction by Judge Earlight, in the municipal court today. He appealed and was held in 1000 bonds for superior court. Nicholas Christos, arraigned with Nichols on a similar sentence, drew down a three months' sentence. He also appealed and was ordered to furnish $500 bonds.

The arraignment of the pair resulted from the arrest several days ago, of two Manchester girls, Helen George and Minnie Gauthier, charged with statutory offenses.

The two girls, who recently left their homes in Manchester to come to Lowell, gave considerable testimony in connection with meeting the two men at a local theatre and their subsequent relations with them.

In discussing the case Judge Earlight expressed in no uncertain terms his opinion of the conduct of the two men, one of whom is married. The father of one of the young women had visited him recently, he stated, and it was only after considerable persuasion that he had agreed to return to Manchester without attempting to do bodily harm to one of the men arraigned.

A suspended sentence to the woman's reformatory was ordered in the case of the George girl. The other girl was placed on probation.

Charged with drunkenness, George Leblanc of Nashua was found guilty and finally placed on probation with the understanding that restitution would be made for some damages to the window of a local lunch cart, said damage having been caused by George pushing his good right arm through the glass yesterday afternoon.

George said that when he arrived in the Spindle City yesterday he was the possessor of funds totalling $120. This morning he couldn't find but $10 remaining. Where the balance had gone George couldn't say. He thought possibly some of the "friends" he met yesterday might know, however.

HOUSING PROBLEM SOLVED TO SOME EXTENT IN WORCESTER

A one-family house at Indian Hill Village, Worcester, Mass.

(N.Y.A. Staff Special)
WORCESTER, April 3.—Houses for workers—the problem that is the bugaboo of every city in the United States—has been solved here, in part at least.

In 1915, the Norton Co., then having 3500 employees, was faced by the problem of big "labor turnover" because of inadequate, insufficient housing. The company determined to build—not the usual "company houses" which have failed to solve the housing problem anywhere, but a model industrial village. It called in one of the best planners and architects in the country.

A 33-acre site, several miles from the heart of the city, near Indian

THE INDIAN HILL PLAN

The Indian Hill Co. gives each purchaser a schedule showing the required monthly payments. The following table (1915 figures) shows the principal of financing these houses:

Indian Hill is Model
Today it is the industrial village of "Indian Hill," one of the most successful housing developments in the United States. The workers are all happy.

The Indian Hill Co., a subsidiary of the Norton Co., was formed to carry out the development, with a view to individual ownership, permanency and contentment in employment, and resultant general efficiency.

Indian Hill has no gridiron of streets, no asphalt paving, no rows

THE COST OF BUILDING IS BUILDING ACTIVITIES AT STILL SOARING LOW EBB HERE

NEW YORK, April 2.—With regard to the building situation, S. W. Straus of S. W. Straus and Co., says:

"The general tendency of building costs continues uninterruptedly toward higher levels. The demand for new structures of all kinds is growing more acute in all parts of the country. There were large gains in construction work reported from all leading cities for March as compared with February, but the exact figures are not yet completed. However, there have been many adverse factors in evidence. The severe winter weather which existed in many sections of the United States during February and the first half of March has been an important factor in retarding new construction. While there is a shortage of all building materials due primarily to labor conditions, the unseasonable weather restricted the output of many building commodities as sand, gravel, brick and tile, and many large plants were closed down. There also is an acute shortage in structural steel, and many large building projects are being held up because of the stringency in these basic materials."

"Another adverse feature is the car shortage, which has grown so acute that one of the large steel companies recently had in its yards from 150,000 to 160,000 tons of finished steel which could not be delivered to the purchasers because freight cars were not available. The car shortage has proved an adverse factor in the coal situation and it is reported that in recent weeks, the car supply at the coal mines has seldom been above 60 per cent of normal. The production of coke also has fallen off for a like cause."

"There is lack of production indicated along all lines. What is needed is a determination on the part of all interests connected with the building industry to increase the actual amount of work accomplished."

"Lack of stabilization, unsettled prices, shortage of materials and inadequate housing facilities, both for business and personal uses, will continue until we settle down to a period of steady production and constructive thrift in all lines of endeavor. Hard work and a serious determination to relieve the present great building deficit must prove the underlying cause of stable conditions."

"Until there is a general adoption of these principles of applied thrift, we may expect to find prices tending steadily toward higher levels with a shortage of building supplies and a growing inadequacy of housing conditions everywhere."

CHEAP RENTS FOR GLASGOW WORKERS

BY MILTON BRONNER
European Manager N.E.A.
GLASGOW, April 3.—The city of Glasgow tackled the housing problem long before it was made acute in Great Britain, America and France as a result of the war.

In fact, Glasgow started 50 years ago to tear down the old rookeries, put up new buildings and construct wider and better streets at a total cost of $5,000,000.

A beginning was made by the erection of two model tenements and seven model lodging houses, six for men and one for women. The city put up stone buildings of from three to five stories in height. In each there is a large dining hall and abundant kitchen facilities. There is in each a big recreation room.

The seven lodging places can accommodate 2335 persons. The charges vary from 5 to 12 cents a night.

An innovation was the erection of a "family home" in which rooms are let to workmen with motherless children. Servants look after the children while the father is away at work and see that those of school age go to school. The children are boarded for about 45 cents a week. The room for the man and his family costs $1.10 per week. Children beyond the number of three are given beds in the dormitory at an extra cost of 16 cents a week. The last reports showed that 122 men and 146 children were living in this home.

In all, the city has provided homes for 2199 families. Apartments are rented by the city for from $25 to $75 per annum to workmen.

The city's manager for this property is W. C. Menzies, who in his younger days emigrated to America and worked for a time on public buildings in Cleveland. Later he worked on suburban residences in Cincinnati and Covington and still later in Chicago.

SAVE MEAT FRYINGS AND REDUCE BUTTER BILL

In the kitchen of her own home, Sister Mary cooks daily for a family of four adults. She brought to her kitchen an understanding of the chemistry of cooking, gained from study of domestic science in a state university. Consequently the advice she offers is a happy combination of theory and practice. Every recipe she gives is her own, first tried out and served at her family table.

If every bit of meat fryings is saved, the butter and lard bills may be noticeably reduced.

I have a small, straight crock that I keep meat fryings in. After cooking meat of any sort it is a simple matter to strain the fat into the crock. For fried potatoes or frying of any sort where lard would be used, with the exception, of course, of deep fat frying, I use meat fryings or "drippings," as our mothers called them. These drippings are much better than lard or any of the substitutes, for there is a rather meaty taste that gives an added richness. Food seems less greasy, too, cooked without lard.

Menu for Tomorrow

Breakfast—Wheat cereal with figs, grapefruit marmalade, toast, coffee.
Luncheon—Sausages with potato cakes, fry muffins, lemon pudding, tea.
Dinner—Broiled lamb chops, buttered carrots, fried whole potatoes, mint jelly, prune and cheese salad, date pudding, coffee.

My Own Recipes

The rather bitter tang of grapefruit marmalade is especially welcome to faded spring appetites at breakfast-time. There are several brands of grapefruit marmalade on the market that are very good and not too expensive. However, if one makes the marmalade at home the bitter taste may be controlled and be just as one would like it.

SAUSAGES WITH POTATO CAKE

Four individual sausages
Mashed potatoes
Salt and pepper.
Milk or cream.

Prick sausages with steel fork, pour over enough boiling water to prevent burning and simmer five or 10 minutes. Drain off water and put sausages in a moderate oven. Cook 15 or 20 minutes. Season hot or cold mashed potatoes with salt and pepper and milk or cream. If cold heat and beat until very light. Shape into flat round cakes. Dip in flour and fry in the sauté fat. Arrange sausages in the center of a chop plate with potato cakes around, garnish with parsley and serve.

LEMON PUDDING

1 lemon
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
Graham crackers.
Beat whites and yolks of eggs separately. Mix flour and part of milk to a smooth paste, add juice and grated rind of lemon. Add sugar and the rest of the milk. Pour onto the well beaten yolks of eggs. Bake a pie dish with graham crackers, pour in custard and bake in a moderate oven (fill firm to the touch. Beat whites of eggs till stiff and dry, add two tablespoonsful of powdered sugar. Spread over top of pudding and brown in a quick oven.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" Is The Only Remedy That Gave Lasting Relief

MISS NELLIE WILLIAMS

North Dighton, Mass.

"Since a young girl, I have suffered with Sick Headaches, and at times I was almost crazy with the pain. My mother tried everything she could hear of, yet she was never able to get anything to do me any good.

Six months ago, someone told me about 'Fruit-a-tives' and I got a box and obtained much relief.

Now I keep 'Fruit-a-tives' in the house all the time; in fact I would not be without them. I cannot speak too highly of 'Fruit-a-tives' as this is the one remedy that truly helped me. I am always glad to recommend 'Fruit-a-tives' to anyone suffering with headaches and hope that those who read about my experience will profit by it and try 'Fruit-a-tives'."

Miss NELLIE WILLIAMS.

SLIGHT DECREASE IN DEATH RATE

There was another slight decrease in the death rate this week, there being 42 deaths reported in comparison with 44 the preceding week. The rates were 29.20 and 21.19. There were 12 deaths of children under one year of age. Infectious diseases caused four deaths, pneumonia four, bronchitis four and tuberculosis four.

Infectious diseases reported included the following: Diphtheria, 5; Scarlet fever, 3; typhoid fever, 1; measles, 1; tuberculosis, 4; and influenza, 3.

NURSES REFUSED PAY INCREASE

Mayor Perry D. Thompson has refused an increase in pay to the five nurses employed in the health department, who assert that they are receiving nearly $200 a year less than nurses employed in the school department. His refusal is based on the grounds that he hasn't sufficient money to grant the request.

The public health nurses are now receiving $1035 a year, while the school nurses get $1200. The latter work only ten months in the year.

CHIMNEY FIRE

A chimney fire at 46 Davis street shortly before 1 o'clock this afternoon was responsible for a still alarm. At 1 o'clock there was a telephone alarm for a grass fire in Mammoth road. No damage.

WATER STILL HIGH IN NO. BILLERICA

The waters of the Concord river which completely inundated the dwelling of Richard Kidder near the Fordway bridge in North Billerica until a few days ago have retreated, but still the swollen stream overruns the back yard of the house, floods the green houses, swamps the walks, isolates the hen coops, makes the hen yard a duck pond, spreads up to the rear door steps as if they were the gang plank of a ship, completely drowns the barberry bushes set out as a border to the lawn on one side of the house, and fills the cellar up to its windows.

Kindling wood, light lumber, what-ever vegetables were stored there, and wooden tools float and twist about in the water in the cellar ever so much nearer the occupants above, yet ever so far from use. Hens are still protected in the attic during the night, and early in the morning are let out onto the scanty damp spots in front of the house. The two hen-houses are like small boats. Yesterday, two pigs, which were rescued from the danger of drowning in their pens and sheltered under the piazza when the flood was at its height, were led out over the plank walks to the hen houses where they now snort surrounded by water and thick mud to the depth of three and four feet.

Gardens and surrounding grass plots are all submerged and ducks idly sport where once the most timid of hens could strut with safety. Two men, dwellers in the house, were garbed in hip boots this morning laying walks over the mud and making secure the door of the improvised pig pen to prevent the animals from getting out and losing themselves in the mud or drowning. Mr. Kidder estimates that the loss from damage to his house and adjacent property will amount to $1000.

The Concord river from North Billerica to Lowell has spread out over its banks, taking hen coops and shanties within its reach, running over the low lands either turning them into swamps or making miniature lakes of them. In the rear of the U. S. Cart-ridge plant in South Lowell the water spreads way up towards the main road, surrounds sheds and barns and floods the land usually available for planting at this time.

BILLERICA MAY BUILD AUDITORIUM

At a recent town meeting in North Billerica, a committee was appointed by the assembly to meet a representative committee of the American Legion Post 116 of that section, to discuss the proposition of the erection of an auditorium in the town. This proposition has been floating in rumors about the town for some time and it is now thought that the committee appointed will decide quickly as to whether it is advisable to build such a structure.

As expressed by some of the residents of the town, the legion will vote favorably for an auditorium near the town center. Considering the fact that the North Billerica post of the legion is quite large, some of the members expressed the opinion that it would not be too ambitious an undertaking to erect an entirely new building instead of purchasing a structure which would need constant repairs.

Just how the funds for such an auditorium will be obtained has not yet been mentioned, but it is thought that the town authorities will back the entire project.

CLEARING HOUSE BANKS

NEW YORK, April 3.—The actual condition of clearing house banks and trust companies for the week, shows that they hold $21,519,700 reserve in excess of legal requirements. This is a decrease of $10,018,240 from last week.

DIOCESAN CENTRE FOR CATHOLIC WOMEN

In order to enable Lowell and its surrounding towns to do their share in a campaign to secure funds for the erection of a building in Boston as a diocesan centre for the Catholic women of this diocese, a compact campaign organization has been formed in the various parishes of this section under the general direction of Miss Allen T. Lee, president of the League of Catholic Women.

Each parish committee is headed by a chairman who will have charge of the campaign in her parish. All activities of Catholic women in the arch-diocese of Boston will centre in the new building and it is planned to make it a model club house with offices, rooms for permanent guests as well as transients, cafeteria and hall.

PUBLIC SCHOOL SAFETY DRIVE

Capt. Walter Jeyes, instructor of physical training in the public schools, will inaugurate an intensive campaign for safety in the public schools on next Monday morning. Though the campaign will consist of precepts which the captain has been drilling into the minds of the children ever since he took charge of the work in the schools, many new ideas will be worked out and it is thought that in connection with the current safety first endeavor it will bring good results.

At the present time every teacher in the schools, which are under the physical instruction of Capt. Jeyes, has a copy of safety first rules which are supposed to be read to the children frequently during the week. Mr. Jeyes is a firm believer that all rules along this line are more effective among the children if they contain a little sharpness, a little quip, something that will instill them with the spirit of snapshins. His idea is evident in the following rules:

"A child should be taught that to stop, look and listen may mean that at some time it may save his or her life. Before you attempt to cross any street look in both directions and don't take any chances saying, 'Well, I can beat that auto, or that team.' Don't try."

"One person at work is worth two in the hospital."

"Any fool can be careless."

"Don't waste everything that you see."

"Polson is sweet, Safety first."

"Make your mind a temple of learning. Be able to think for yourself."

"Don't be a jay-walker. Cross the streets at the places made for you."

"Keep away from the mob. Nearly every person who gets hurt is the one who has no business being there."

"If you stepped upon a nail protruding from a piece of board would you leave it there or take care of it? If your step-ladder needed a nail to make it safe would you do it tomorrow? Remember the old adage, 'A stitch in time saves nine.'"

"If you can't swim, learn how. Until you know how to be sure that you don't go beyond your depth. They say that drowning is a very pleasant death, but don't try it."

"Do you know the number of fire alarm boxes nearest your home? Do you know how to handle a fire extinguisher?"

"Live electric wires are dangerous at all times, so let them alone. Electricity is fine for light and power. Safely first."

"Keep off the railroad tracks. They are built to ride on, not to walk on."

CROWD THAT FILLS TABERNACLE

HEARS THE "CRUCIFIXION"

BY BIG CHORUS CHOIR

The "Crucifixion," one of the most glorious of all Easter cantatas, was sung at the tabernacle last night, by the chorus choir of 400 voices, assisted by Ben Redden of Boston, tenor; Talmadge J. Billikofer, baritone, and George H. Drew, bass. The work was given under Mr. Billikofer's capable direction.

The tabernacle was filled to overflowing and the majority of Stainer's composition has seldom been more effectively brought out in this city, at least. Several hundred were turned away with tickets calling for reserved seats in the tabernacle next Tuesday evening, when the cantata will be repeated.

An outstanding feature of the singing last night was the immediate response of the chorus to the director's slightest nod. For a body of untrained voices, the sense of feeling between singers and director was unusually prominent and, of course, reflected a great deal of credit upon Mr. Billikofer, who has conducted all the rehearsals.

A small organ secured for the occasion was played by Arthur C. Spalding, while piano accompaniments were played by E. E. Young of the Stephens party.

Only one service will be held at the tabernacle tomorrow, Easter Sunday, at 5:30 p. m. The choir will sing special music and Evangelist Stephens will preach on "The Unanswerable Question."

WOMAN BORN IN HOUSE WHERE NAPOLEON DIED PASSES AWAY

CHICAGO, April 3.—Mrs. Mary A. Kinzie, who was born in the house in which Napoleon Bonaparte died, died here yesterday. Mrs. Kinzie's father was the British government's custodian of the Longwood mansion, Island of St. Helena, where Napoleon spent his last days.

To stimulate the safety movement among miners and metallurgical plants, the bureau of mines will hold a national first aid and mine rescue contest at Denver, Col., Aug. 20-21.

Old Folks!

Test This Wonderful Laxative With a FREE TRIAL BOTTLE

The many elderly people in all parts of the country who use Syrup Pepsin know it does not lose its good effect.

I will send you a trial bottle free. What is your address?

ELDERLY people know out of the ripeness of their experience that constipation makes them dull and gloomy, that it brings on headaches and backaches and a train of other ills. I know it too, because I have been a practicing physician since 1875 and am myself in my 82nd year.

Let every elderly man and woman subject to constipation write me for a free trial bottle of what druggists call Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It will prove to you that there is such a thing as a mild, gentle laxative free from gripping. Use it as required and it will soon train the stomach and bowel muscles to do their work naturally. Use it often and you will find it does not lose its good effect by continuous use, as so many laxatives and physics do. The free trial bottle will be amply sufficient to prove all this to you, and it is yours for the asking.

I have been personally writing this prescription for 45 years, and since 1882 druggists everywhere have been selling it under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup

Pepsin. You can buy a five-ounce bottle at the nearest drug store, and as a spoonful is a dose, a bottle is economical and long-lasting. The formula is based on a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. The herbs, including the well-known Egyptian Senna, relieves the constipation and accompanying ills, and the pepsin acts on the digestive organs. It will relieve chronic constipation quickly. It will stop a cold or a fever and thereby prevent influenza and gripe. You are safe in giving it to the latest baby. Millions of mothers do.

I want you to have a free trial bottle of this fine medicine without obligation or charge. Just fill out the coupon and send it to me! Take a teaspoonful, give some to other members of the family who are constipated. I know that the results will be such that you will buy a bottle of your druggist and never afterwards be without a bottle in your house.

Kindly send me a free trial bottle of your Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, all charges prepaid. The address is:

THE LOWELL SUN

JOHN H. HARRINGTON, Proprietor
SUN BUILDING, MERRIMACK SQUARE, LOWELL, MASS.
Member of the Associated Press

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

Now that President Wilson has withdrawn his name from the Georgia primaries, perhaps his republican enemies will feel more at ease. The third term bugaboo worried them very much. Now they can proceed to select their candidate and pile up enormous campaign funds.

HOOPER HAS COME OUT IN THE OPEN

Hooper has come out in the open to seek the nomination of the republican party. He is as strongly for the League of Nations as is President Wilson. He would be an international president. If any trouble occurred in Europe, he would take a trip over to settle it, even though matters went to smash at home.

OPENING NIGHT SCHOOLS

The Knights of Columbus are making a very valuable contribution to the future of this nation by starting free night schools for ex-service men in the large cities of this country. These schools teach practical branches calculated to enable the men to better their condition. Already the membership is 100,000 and it is likely to reach 250,000 by June. Text books and supplies of all kinds are furnished free. Every man who served with the colors is welcomed to enter so far as the accommodations will permit. The expenses are paid from the fund which the "K. of C." had on hand for welfare work when the war ended suddenly. This money contributed by the people is being turned back to them in educational results that will help the most deserving class of men in the country. As in the distribution of supplies in Europe, what the Knights do in the educational line is entirely free. There is no such thing as merchandising allowed in the activities of the order.

FIRST STREET OVAL

We are glad to find the Chamber of Commerce taking up the question of establishing an athletic field on the First street oval. There is great need for a ball park in that vicinity and if one can be provided without making dangerous or ungraceful curves in the new public highway, the project should be carried out.

All that may be necessary to secure the park and at the same time preserve the graceful sweep of the highway may be a little skilful engineering. When this question was broached some time ago, the state highway commission did not seem inclined to consider the park proposition seriously. Now, however, we understand the administration is changed and the present state highway officials show a willingness to meet the wishes of the public so far as that is feasible or practical.

The question arises, would a change in the plans at the present juncture cause any delay in the completion of the road. First street has been a disgrace to our city for years; and the sooner public travel is diverted from that route the better. The Chamber of Commerce, of course, will keep in mind the necessity of having the river-side boulevard finished as soon as possible.

SUB-POSTOFFICES

Of the two sub-postoffices located near Merrimack square, one is to be shifted to Prescott street and one discontinued. This does not indicate a tendency to continue serving the public as efficiently as in the past.

It seems that it is about time the government could afford to hire a separate location of its own near the square to be devoted entirely to postoffice business. Persons who enter a store to reach the sub-postal station, have reason to feel that they are interfering with the main business.

This is not as it should be. Uncle Sam should have a little store of his own down town in which to do business with the public. The present arrangement was not so bad before the parcel post attained such proportions; but now the business of a sub-postoffice cannot be properly transacted in a remote corner of a store devoted to other business. These things should be considered. Time is money. The merchants cannot afford to go to the postoffice, and they do not care to jostle through the customers of a grocery or other store in order to reach a sub-postal counter. The sub-postoffice near Merrimack square, and elsewhere for that matter, should be in a separate store where the patrons ped and ready for action. These, however, do not alarm France as her army is well organized and capable of quick movement in any direction, whereas, the German forces have very little means of transportation. It is difficult to believe that France should thus be betrayed by her former allies in lieu of prospective gain in their own behalf, and it is most regretful that the United States should seem to be a party to that betrayal as a result of President Wilson's charge of militarism. France may be felicitated on possessing, at least for the present, all the military power that is necessary to enforce the treaty against Germany, and with the memory of German cruelty, not only in this war but in that of 1870, still fresh, she will not relax the terms of the German peace pact simply to comply with the diplomatic maneuvers of England to secure for herself favorable trade relations with Germany.

SAFETY FIRST

The Safety First campaign inaugurated by Superintendent Welch of the police department is intended to impress upon the people in general the necessity of exercising greater caution for the prevention of accidents.

Street accidents are to be featured in the campaign as most numerous and the most easily prevented if not only the drivers of vehicles but pedestrians will exercise due care.

It is really astonishing to find how many fatalities result from street accidents due to carelessness. In a majority of the cases the victims themselves are to blame. Most people forget that we are now in a new era, as it were, in which motor vehicles are shooting to and fro in great numbers on every highway and on the busy thoroughfares of every industrial city. It is very evident that if the public at large does not exercise more caution than it did before the coming of automobiles, the accidents must necessarily be very numerous; and they will so continue until the people realize that they are now in the horseless age and that children can no longer use the streets as public playgrounds without the risk of being run over by some motor machine ranging in weight from the smart little Ford to the great motor truck weighing as much as a locomotive.

There are certain rules of the road which it is important that the drivers of motor vehicles should strictly observe. At the present time, as for some years past, these rules are disregarded by a great many drivers.

In this respect the police department can bring about a radical change by a strict enforcement of the law. We presume that Supl. Welch will adopt rigorous methods for enforcing the highway regulations after the close of the present campaign. In the meantime, the motor laws will be fully explained so as to be clearly understood by everybody. It is to be hoped that the public will no longer be menaced by the chauffeur who drives an automobile while under the influence of liquor. If such a man should appear on the highways in these "dry times," some of the thirsty ones might be inclined to ask him where he procured the "jag." The municipal courts have dealt so severely with reckless drivers that there is reason to hope they will be less numerous during the coming summer.

But there is just as much need of impressing upon parents and children the necessity of care on the public highways as there is in regard to drivers. It is a well known fact that children and even older persons frequently rush into the path of autos driven with the greatest care so that accidents and even fatalities are unavoidable. We have had our share of such accidents here in Lowell, but the number occurring here in proportion to our population is less than in metropolitan cities such as Boston and New York.

FRANCE STANDS ALONE

It appears from recent developments that Premier Millerand has decided that France must draw away from the allies with which she fought the war, if she would protect herself against the machinations of Germany in securing radical changes in the treaty on pretense that they are impossible of fulfillment.

Already France has begun to realize that England and Italy are making concessions to Germany in order to secure trade advantages for their own benefit. France has, therefore, determined to insist upon the strict enforcement of the treaty regulations even if she has to send her army into Germany for that purpose. She is no longer acting in co-operation with her former allies. She has found that Premier Lloyd George has played a deceitful game in favor of his own country. Italy in this matter is backing England, and unfortunately, President Wilson, who pledged to France the support of the United States in case of necessity, comes out to declare that she is showing a militaristic spirit.

France is only taking steps to protect herself, to secure reparation from Germany and to insist that the provisions of the treaty be carried out. Despite treaty agreements, Germany has failed to furnish France with coal and she has also evaded the treaty provision requiring the disarmament of her troops. Recently large numbers of German troops were found to be fully equipped and ready for action. These, however, do not alarm France as her army is well organized and capable of quick movement in any direction, whereas, the German forces have very little means of transportation. It is difficult to believe that France should thus be betrayed by her former allies in lieu of prospective gain in their own behalf, and it is most regretful that the United States should seem to be a party to that betrayal as a result of President Wilson's charge of militarism. France may be felicitated on possessing, at least for the present, all the military power that is necessary to enforce the treaty against Germany, and with the memory of German cruelty, not only in this war but in that of 1870, still fresh, she will not relax the terms of the German peace pact simply to comply with the diplomatic maneuvers of England to secure for herself favorable trade relations with Germany.

crossings and then to see that their course is clear. Older people will profit by practicing the same rule. There are various types of accidents due to thoughtlessness that may easily be avoided by the exercise of a little care. One of these consists in stepping from a sidewalk without looking in both directions to see that there is no danger. Another is due to cutting across a street in the rear of a car that may conceal an auto going in the opposite direction. Many fatalities have resulted in this way. Still another is due to haste in turning blind corners. Scores of such cases might be mentioned to prove that the general public is reckless in regard to personal safety on the public streets. If the present Safety First campaign induces any large number of our people to exercise greater care for their own personal safety and the avoidance of accidents, it will certainly accomplish good results.

Where you goin' on your vacation?

Lowell girls should resolve to buckle their overshoes next winter.

Now that the tax date limit has passed, watch for the Easter array of new automobiles.

The Kaiser still has lucky days. The crown prince has declined an opportunity to live near him.

Allsied Pasha, military governor of Constantinople, has been arrested by the British. Allsied too much.

Of course this is a suspicious old world, but it does seem as if engineers and other trainmen delight in keeping a crossing blocked.

The regular dyed-in-the-wool conservative will never be happy while a common workman is permitted to express his opinion in public.

There is a story that an ill-starred diamond caused the Kaiser's ruin. As a matter of fact it was a club held by Uncle Sam.

Most of us do not pay as much attention to friendships as we used to. But it isn't our fault. We don't have as much time to devote to friends as we used to, and that is probably the most cruel blow that a busy world can give.

MUFFS FOR MEN

'Tis the very latest Atlantic City sensation. A perfectly normal looking, healthy, husky, young man came along in a rolling chair. He had both hands tucked snugly into a brown fur muff that matched the fur on his topcoat collar.

DON'T GET PEEVED, GIRLS

Mrs. Catherine Sellin of Kane, Pa., has attained the age of 95. She did this, she asserts, by not wearing high heels and no low-necked dresses, either of which, she says, "is enough to kill a person."

COULDN'T FOOL HIM

Becoming unmanageable on the viaduct, a Ford car swerved suddenly and plunged over into the street below. Its driver managed to catch on to the broken railing. He hung for a horrid moment on the brink of death, and then scrambled back to safety.

"Merciful powers!" ejaculated a pedestrian below. "What a narrow escape!"

"Shucks!" returned the gent from Jamison Junction, who was on hand. "That wasn't no escape; it was just a trick of some kind. They can't fool me!"—Kansas City Star.

NOT A "SCENE" AT TABLE

The other evening 3-year-old Joseph was over at his grandfather's house for supper. While they were eating, grandfather sneezed. It stopped his conversation a minute, and then just as he started to resume it Joseph spoke up: "What do you say, grandpa?" he asked.

Grandfather looked mystified a minute; then again began to talk. Again Joseph persisted, "What do you say, grandpa?"

More mystified looks. Then Joseph informed him: "Grandpa," he said, "sweetly, 'Isn't this a 'scuse me table like ours?'"

ANNIE LAURIE

"Maxwellton braces are bonnie. Where early for the dew. And it's there that Annie Laurie Gied me her promise true—"

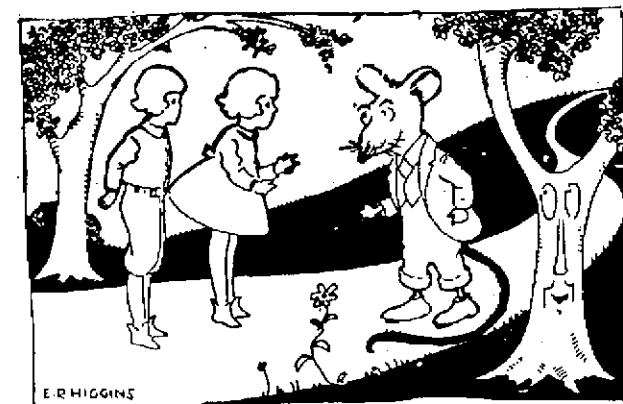

Emma Cutler-Ferguson, a direct descendant of "Annie Laurie" is to marry this spring. Her husband-to-be is Major Vivian Eyr, late of the royal air forces. Her family home is Craigmachrie, Dumfriesshire, Scotland. It was there that "Annie Laurie" married Aleck Ferguson, after jilting a lover who actually did "lie down and die," as she intimated he might be quite willing to do—

"Gied me her promise true. Which ne'er forest will be; And for Bonnie Annie Laurie I'd lay me down and dee."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

The Little Mouse Asks Advice
"Would you mind giving me some advice?" asked a little gray mouse of Nancy and Nick in Topsy-Turvy Land. "We don't know much advice, except putting on overshoes when it rains, and not eating too much candy, and going to bed at 8 o'clock, and things like that," answered Nancy. "Will that do?" "Hardly!" Little Mouse looked so crest-fallen that the Magical Mushroom asked kindly, "What do you wish to know?" "How to catch a cat!" answered Little Mouse.

"Would you mind giving me some advice?" asked a little gray mouse. "A Mouse never asked me for advice like that before," said the Mushroom in surprise. "Just let me think a minute, please." But he thought for two minutes, then he asked, "How does a cat catch mice?" "Why," shivered Little Mouse, "he sneaks or pretends he does, and when we come along thinking we're safe, he makes a grab with his paws." "It seems to me, then," said the Mushroom quickly. "And he settled himself comfortably and closed his eyes without losing any time." The twins and the Magical Mushroom hid quickly because they thought they heard someone coming and it might be Mr. Cat. They could scarcely wait to see how surprised he was going to be at the little mouse's bold words. (Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)

Important Station Captured by Bolsheviks

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 1.—Vladikavkaz, an important military station and trading center in Caspaeasia, has been captured by the Russian Bolsheviks, according to advices received here.

Vladikavkaz, capital of the territory of the Terek, is situated on the Terek river, and is about 95 miles due north of Tiflis. It is on the northern slope of the Caucasus mountains and its capture, together with that of Petrovsk, on the west shore of the Caspian sea, which was reported this week, shows an advance of the Bolsheviks toward the great oil center of Baku and the frontier of the new Georgian republic.

Declares Present Treaties Temporary

BUDAPEST, April 2.—Count Albert Apponyi, returning here from Paris today for a conference with Admiral Horthy, Hungarian regent, and party leaders, declared that peace treaties between the allied powers and the central empires were only temporary in nature. "My impression is," he said, "that no allied statesmen sincerely believes the present peace treaties can hold for long. I have not lost hope, and believe the position of Hungary to be better than it was a month ago."

Call Off Strike in Ruhr District

COPENHAGEN, April 3.—Decision to call off the general strike in the entire Ruhr industrial region was reached at a plenary session of the executive council of that district yesterday, according to a despatch received here from Essen. It will be renewed, however, if the Berlin government fails to fulfill obligations entered into with the workers, and in particular, if it fails to halt the movement of troops against the Ruhr district.

Train Wrecked by Bomb; One Killed

BUENOS AIRES, April 2.—One person has been killed and many wounded in the wreck of a train on the government owned Central Northern railroad, the disaster being caused by the explosion of a bomb, according to despatches from Santa Fe. The locomotive and six coaches were overturned. There has been a partial strike on this road for several months.

Ada-Bazar Occupied by Turkish Troops

LONDON, April 3.—Ada-Bazar, a town directly east of Constantinople and 23 miles from Ismid, the British port of entry in Western Asia Minor, was occupied by Turkish nationalist troops on Tuesday, according to a Constantinople despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Co.

Most lovers say that. It is fortunate that jilting so seldom persuades them to lie down and die. Usually, nowadays, he consoles himself with the fact that "there's fish as big in the sea as any that were caught." These are not "Annie Laurie" days. They are of 1920.

As a Beam Over the Face of the Waters

As a beam over the face of the waters may glow While the little runs in darkness and coldness below. So the cheek may be tinged with a warm sunny smile, Though the cold heart to ruin runs darkly the while.

One fatal remembrance, one sorrow Its bleak shade alike o'er our joys and our woes. To which life nothing darker or brighter can bring. For which joy has no balm and affliction no sting—

Oh! this thought in the midst of enjoyment will stay, Like a dead, leafless branch in the summer's bright ray; The beams of the warm sun play round it in vain. It may smile in his light, but it blooms not again. —THOMAS MOORE.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Persons particularly interested in the proposition to retain the First street oval for park purposes if it is possible, express the hope that the recreational plant developed there will be suited to the needs of all people seeking rest and play, at the same time giving to the high school the athletic facilities so urgently needed. We venture to say that if the plan to conserve this area goes through, there will be definite steps taken for the erection of a modern baseball and track plant for the use of the school-boys. It means the salvation of athletics at the local school, not only in interest among the student body and public, but from a standpoint of cold dollars and cents.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Lowell Council Plans Many Spring Activities—Committee Meetings Tomorrow

With the close of the Lenten season the local council of the Knights of Columbus is preparing to launch its spring activities with renewed vigor and the council calendar indicates an unusual number of interesting events during the next few weeks.

First and foremost will come the annual K. of C. ball and a large committee, which has been working earnestly for the past month, has practically completed arrangements for the affair. This committee will meet tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the council room to hear reports from various sub-committees and to give a few final touches to the preparations.

The K. of C. Glee club will also meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock for a rehearsal in preparation for the performance it is to put on in Chelmsford next Wednesday evening. On April 15 the club will put on its minstrel show in Associate hall for the benefit of the Pawtucketville memorial fund.

Annual Communion Sunday

The annual communion Sunday of the council will be held in the near future and as always will be an impressive occasion. The influx of new members since last year's communion day is amply indicative of a record-breaking attendance. Last year the communion breakfast at Associate hall was one of the noteworthy events of the council's history with Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty and Supreme Director William J. Mulligan as guests of honor and charming speakers.

This year Grand Knight Briggan and Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, chaplain of the council, on whom will largely rest the arranging of details for the affair, are sanguine that the attendance will be far and away the greatest in the history of Lowell council.

An Interesting Picture

Occupying a conspicuous place on the wall of the retiring room of the council and looking down, as it were, on many a discussion of topics of absorbing interest, invariably discussed in the cozy corner, a large picture of the charter members of the council is regarded as one of the prize memorabilia of the organization. A glance over the faces reveals many men prominent in various activities of the city, some, alas, gone home to their long rest; others remaining vitally interested in the aspirations of the council. Now and then one meets a charter member or two and their minds go back down the years and recall the pleasant days of long ago and the success which the years that have come since the inception of the council have brought in their wake.

Talk on Cardinal Mercier

There was much genuine satisfaction among the knights over the intensely interesting discourse of Dr. James J. Walsh recently given under auspices of the council and perhaps before the summer season comes Grand Knight Briggan will be successful in securing the noted lecturer for another visit. His talk on "Cardinal Mercier" deals with interesting episodes in the career of the noted churchman and it may be possible once again for the council members and their friends to enjoy another delightful evening with the eminent doctor as the central figure.

A Busy Deputy

District Deputy Charles J. Landers, in whose work and ability the council takes a pardonable pride, is busy as usual going about the district on official calls and seeing to the innumerable details contingent upon the duties of his office. Mr. Landers says that the work of the district deputy's office has increased 75 per cent. as a result of the tremendous growth in membership in this state within the past few years and hence the official force of deputies is kept busy nearly every evening and every Sunday.

the most prominent young ladies' organizations in the city, an individual grand march larger than any seen here in the past and comprising a far greater variety of costumes, and dancing until 1 o'clock with music furnished by the very best orchestra obtainable; attractions both numerous and extraordinary, should command the appreciative attention of all local pleasure-seekers.

The concert will be the opening feature of the evening's entertainment. The program is as follows: Selection, Capitol Jazz orchestra; dancing specialty, Misses Marie and Dora Dewire; solo, Andrew J. Keillher; dancing specialty, Miss Katherine Boyle; solo, William Mahoney; solo, Joseph Bell; solo, Charles J. Keyes; selection, The Dewire sisters are clever juvenile entertainers well known to Lowell audiences, while Miss Boyle and Messrs. Keillher, Mahoney, Boyle and Keyes have all scored hits in Mathew productions during the winter.

Next comes the big event of the evening, the grand march for girls' clubs. Each club will be harmoniously and attractively arrayed in costumes which will illustrate the club's idea. The prizes offered in this contest amount to $50 in gold. The clubs entered are: Alpine Girls, Brinkley Girls, Columbia Girls, El Paso Girls, Gayety Girls, Jontel Girls, Just-A-Moment Girls, Let's Go Girls, Merry-makers, Oxford Girls, R. U. with Us Girls, Silver Tips, Wauwats.

Following closely upon the club march comes the individual grand march, and it is predicted that this march will be by far the largest and best of its kind ever witnessed in this city. A dazzling array of costumes will be exhibited, and there will be an interesting contest for the six valuable prizes offered.

Dancing will continue until 1. The return to normal conditions in France is going on so rapidly that 4,500,000 inhabitants of the devastated areas have returned to their homes and will have the region under cultivation within a year.

Money goes on interest in The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank next Saturday, April 3rd.

ENGINE PLUNGED THROUGH BRIDGE

Freight Locomotive Dropped Into Lake Champlain—Engineer Stuck at Post

Went Down With Engine and Miraculously Escaped Injury and Probable Death

BURLINGTON, Vt., April 3.—The engine of freight train No. 33, of the Rutland railroad, plunged through the trestle bridge between Alburg and Rouses Point, and into the waters of Lake Champlain at 11.15 last night when the bridge gave way under the strain. No one was injured.

There were five men on the engine at the time of the accident, the fireman, engineer and three railroad men. The fireman and other railroad men jumped but the engineer went down with the engine and miraculously escaped injury and probable death. However, he managed to crawl from the cab and emerge from the water uninjured. The fact that the engine was going at the rate of but five miles an hour is what saved all from death. The bridge has been quite weak for some time and trains passing over it have used every precaution. The high waters and ice are the cause of the weakened condition of the bridge and when train No. 33 approached the bridge last night it had slowed down. As the train went onto the bridge the structure snapped under the strain and the engine plunged into the lake.

FUNERALS

PAYSONS—The funeral of Mrs. Mary P. Paysons was held from her residence, Billerica road, West Tewksbury, yesterday afternoon. The services were conducted by Rev. John Sweeten, pastor of the Lawrence Street Methodist church. Appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. William McQuade and Miss Louise Garstide. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. A delegation was present representing the Lucy Larcom club. The bearers were George Fallon, Robert Adams, Leslie Fields and William Fields. Burial was in the family lot in the Edison cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

SALILAKOS—The funeral of Archelaos Salilakos took place yesterday afternoon from his home, 22 Jefferson street. Services were held at the Holy Trinity church and also at the grave in Westlawn cemetery, where burial took place under the direction of Undertakers C. H. Malloy's Sons. The state and the city as well as numerous fraternal and social organizations were represented at the funeral of the late Edmund J. Galt, a former member of the state house and well known resident of this city, which took place this morning. The long funeral cortege left the home of a sister of deceased, Mrs. John J. Hyde at 9.30 o'clock and wended its way to St. Jean Baptiste church, where at 10 o'clock a solemn service was conducted by Rev. Joseph A. Bolduc, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Eugene Turcotte, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. L. N. Bachand, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. The funeral was under the direction of L. N. Guilfoyle, rendered the Gregorian chant. The bearers were Arthur Pelletier, Raymond Descheneaux, J. E. Tremblay, George Dorval, Edmond Tremblay and Willie Rousseau, all close friends of deceased. The state house was represented by the following: Senator Frank H. Putnam, Lowell; Dr. George M. Pilae, director of the department of mental diseases, Civil Service, chairman of the committee of public institutions for which deceased acted as messenger. Rev. Charles M. Austin of Somerville, Rev. Joseph Herlihy of Beverly, Representatives Henry Aehn, Victor F. Jewett, Adelard Bernard, Owen Brewster, Thomas J. Corbett and Charles H. Slower, all of Lowell, Richard Howard, state house reporter, also attended the funeral. In addition to the state house were the following messengers: N. D. Curry, D. F. Brennan, H. P. Welch, A. T. Gahlin, George Silvers, J. E. Slatery, E. E. Kilmer, J. P. Fortna and R. E. Foster. The city was represented by Commissioners George E. Marchand and Dennis A. Murphy. The fraternal and social organizations represented at the funeral were as follows: Lowell lodge of Elks, Frank Ricard, Raymond Lynch, Joseph Cayouette, John H. Burns, Armand V. St. Jean and Hon. John T. Sparks, C.M.A.C.; Adolph Brasseur, Joseph Perron, Joseph Carrière, Joseph Probst, Joseph LeBlanc, and Gustave M. G. Fortier, Club Fleur-de-Lys of which deceased was president; Arthur Rousseau, Frederick Descheneaux, Ernest Roy and Cloyis Belanger, Club Lafayette; Elie Delisle, P. Turcotte, Joseph Parmentier and Telesphore Beauparlant, Butler and Telephone Repairmen, in St. Paul was in the fore in the committee's cemetery, where the committee's prayers were read by Rev. L. N. Bachand, O.M.I. There was a wealth of floral offerings showing the esteem in which deceased was held. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers Amédée Archambault & Sons.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the many friends, also the employees of Merrimack Mfg. Co., for their kindness and for the floral tributes sent at the death of my dear husband.

MRS. GEORGE RINER.

COUGHING, WEAK AND RUN-DOWN AFTER FLU

Regained flesh and strength quickly, and tells how

"I nearly died from the last October, and it left me with a terrible cough. The doctor gave me one bottle of medicine after another, but it did me no good. Went to Charlotte, N. C., and took treatment of a specialist without any permanent benefit.

"I saw Milks Emulsion advertised and started using it. It helped me right from the start. I had no appetite and my stomach was in bad shape. But 12 bottles have straightened me out entirely. I eat anything without distress, my cough is gone and I have gained back my strength and flesh."

Emma Withers, Box 50, Belmont, N. C. Don't trifle with a weak, run-down condition. It leaves you open to serious diseases. Get your strength back. Milks Emulsion costs nothing to try.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural bowel action, doing away with all need of pills and physics. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. As a builder of flesh and strength, Milks Emulsion is strongly recommended to those whom sickness has weakened, and is a powerful aid in resisting and repairing the effects of wasting diseases. Chronic stomach trouble and constipation are promptly relieved—usually in one day.

This is the only solid emulsion made and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

No matter how severe your case, you are urged to try Milks Emulsion under this guarantee—Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions, and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price 60c and $1.20 per bottle. The Milks Emulsion Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere. Sold and guaranteed by Fred Howard, 127 Central st.—Adv.

READY FOR EASTER

Famous Easter Sundays

Easter Sunday has been the occasion of many events famed in history. It has been a day of discovery, conquest and defeat.

Among the notable events to occur on past Easter Sundays are the following:

EASTER, APRIL 2, 1512
Pope de Leon, Spanish governor of Porto Rico, sailing in search of "the fountain of youth," discovered Florida and named it Pascua de Flores, meaning, "Flower of Easter."

EASTER, APRIL 6, 1722
Pope Island, famous mystery island, said to be part of a vanished continent, was discovered in 1722 by Reguven and named for the day of discovery. The source of architecture found on the island has never been explained.

EASTER, APRIL 10, 1814
Napoleon's downfall began on Easter 1814. Wellington defeated the power of the French army at Waterloo. Napoleon abdicated at Fontainebleau the next day.

EASTER WEEK, 1830
The Church of the Latter Day Saints was founded in this week by Joseph Smith and his followers. The Holy Bible was translated into the Book of Mormon.

mon, written on tablets of gold. The formal naming of the church did not take place until 1834.

EASTER, APRIL 14, 1865
The last armed action of consequence in the Civil war was the surrender of the Confederate nation's depot at Columbus, Ga., on Easter day, 1865. It was the second largest war depot of the Confederacy.

EASTER, APRIL 10, 1898
The division of the Isle of Crete into four provinces was made by the Turk on Easter Sunday, 1898. This was the beginning of the loss of the island to Turkey. The German reichstag laid one of the foundations for the great war on Easter 1898, when it passed a law greatly increasing the navy.

EASTER, APRIL 23, 1916
The Dublin uprising against English rule called the "Easter riots" occurred in 1916. The "Republic of Ireland" was formed on that day. There were many arrests by the British and one execution.

EASTER, MARCH 31, 1918
The 37 victims of the German long range gun who were killed while worshipping on Good Friday in the Church of St. Gervais, Paris, were buried Easter, 1918. Two were Americans. The shells fell at the instant of the Elevation of the Host.

FUNERAL NOTICES

McDERMOTT—Died April 2nd, at his home, 6 Andrews street, Matthew McDermott. The funeral will take place Monday morning at 9 o'clock from his late home, 6 Andrews street. Funeral mass at the Sacred Heart church at 9 o'clock. Burial in St. Patrick's cemetery. Motor cortege. Undertakers Higgins Bros., in charge of funeral arrangements.

KOLLOS—Died at the Lowell General Hospital, April 2. Services held at the funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the chapel of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons. Burial will take place in the Westlawn cemetery in charge of Undertakers James P. O'Donnell & Sons.

HAM AND EGGS ARE A BIT EXPENSIVE

Seventy-five cents a dozen for strictly fresh eggs and 60 cents a pound for the best quality ham is what you will have to pay for your Easter dinner tomorrow if you feel like following the custom of having "ham and eggs" on your menu. Of course there are cheaper eggs and cheaper ham, for western fresh eggs are retailing for 50 cents, while what is known as northern fresh can be bought for 40 cents a dozen. The first cut of ham is 40 cents a pound, while that nearer the bone is as low as 32 cents a pound. Then again as low as 22 cents a pound. And this is the smoker's shoulder, which is often used as a substitute for ham, which retails at 25 cents a pound.

Last year the best cut of ham could be bought for about 55 cents a pound and the other cuts were cheaper in proportion. Strictly fresh eggs last Easter were retailing at about 60 cents a dozen, while cold storage eggs brought 40 cents a dozen.

NOTICE

ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Lowell Fish and Game Association will be held on Tuesday, April 6th, at 2.30 p.m. in Odd Fellows Temple, 51 Middlesex Street. Business of great importance to sportsmen will be in order as follows: payment of dues, election of new members, reports of committees, nomination and election of officers and any other business that is for the betterment of sport with Rod and Gun. A large attendance is desired. WILLIS S. HOLT, Secretary.

PICKETING OF BRITISH EMBASSY CALLED OFF

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Picketing of the British embassy by women favorable to an Irish republic was called off today by the leaders of the movement. Mrs. Thomas Corliss of New York, one of the leaders of the movement, said the state department was not responsible; that the department had not communicated with the women.

"We picketed the embassy on Good Friday," she said, "to remind Great Britain and the state department of the Crucifixion of Christ and to call attention that Ireland was being crucified."

Mrs. Corliss said it did not necessarily follow that because the pickets did not visit the embassy today that the picketing had been ended. At the state department it was said that there were no developments in the situation. Secretary Coghlin announced yesterday that the department would take "effective measures" to end the picketing, but just what action was contemplated was not made clear. It was understood that no action would be taken unless the women again appeared at the embassy.

It was learned today that police officials who were at the embassy yesterday to prevent any disorder arising out of the picketing, informed the women that their action was a breach of international law and consequently was quite different from that of the militant suffragists who picketed the White House two years ago.

FOREVER BARRED FROM AMERICAN CITIZENSHIP

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 3.—Citizenship was forever barred to Carl Ludwig Hoglund, of this city, today by United States Judge Arthur L. Brown on the grounds that Hoglund claimed exemption from military service during the world war, because he was born in Sweden and had not become naturalized. Hoglund was granted his first papers here May 29, 1916. He then expressed enthusiasm over his prospects of becoming an American citizen, but when he was called in the draft in 1918, he claimed exemption on the ground that he was a citizen of a friendly neutral nation.

Today he came before Judge Brown and asked to be sworn in as a citizen of the United States. Naturalization Officer John Moran told the court of the military evasion of the man, and the judge immediately barred him forever from citizenship.

100,000 LOAVES OF CAKE TO BE DISTRIBUTED BY AMERICANS IN VIENNA

VIENNA, April 2.—Every child fed at the American kitchen tomorrow will be given a loaf of cake to take home to his family for the Easter dinner. One hundred and fifty thousand loaves will be distributed, enabling thousands of children to taste cake for the first time in their lives.

Tissue Building

Tissue is the doctor's name for bone cells. It is our bodies what coal is to an engine.

Every day we burn up a certain amount of tissue.

Therefore new tissue must be built to take the place of the lost fuel. The food we eat makes this new tissue and in a healthy person gives enough fuel to replace the loss.

People get thin and "run down" because they do not get enough nourishment from their food to supply the needed fuel.

When the weakened system does not do its duty you must have a "tissue builder." Father John's Medicine is a real tissue builder because it actually makes new flesh and tissue.

When you take Father John's Medicine, the actual food elements of which it is composed give you new strength, and enable the organs of the body to resume their work. Father John's Medicine soothes and heals throat and is best for colds, bronchitis, asthma. People gain weight steadily while taking it. Remember, Father John's Medicine contains no alcohol or dangerous drugs. It has a history of more than half a century of success.

POPULATION STATISTICS

To Date Returns From 253 of the 14,000 Cities and Towns Have Been Made

WASHINGTON, April 3.—To date, populations of 253 of the approximately 14,000 incorporated cities, towns and villages in the country have been announced by the census bureau. Practically all show increases and some have more than doubled in size. Portfolios containing the returns of the various districts are flooding in to the census directors' office. In many places the enumerators have completed their work, but in others it is just being closed, although begun four months ago. Some of the larger cities, including Chicago and New Orleans, are being prepared for announcement, while New York's portfolios are almost all in.

Figures for only 10 of the 50 cities of the group having 100,000 or more inhabitants in 1910 thus far have been made public. Of these Toledo showed the largest increase with 44.3 per cent.

Of the 53 cities having 50,000 to 100,000 inhabitants in 1910, six have been announced. Schenectady, N. Y., leads the increases in this group with 21.3 per cent.

Population of 28 incorporated places of the 110, which in 1910 had from 25,000 to 50,000 inhabitants, has been announced. Knoxville, Tenn., leads in this group with an increase of 11.1 per cent. Growth of the other cities of this size was: Shreveport, La., 5.6 per cent increase; Binghamton, N. Y., 37.3; Chattanooga, Tenn., 29.6; Macon, Ga., 29.2; Ansonia, Ill., 21.7; Danville, Ill., 21.1; Lewiston, Me., 20.8; Lexington, Ky., 18.3; Amherst, N. Y., 17.2; Elgin, Ill., 8.6; Colorado Springs, Colo., 1.7, and Oshkosh, Wis., 0.7. In this group, Kingston, N. Y., showed a decrease of 0.1 per cent and Newport, Ky., a decrease of 3.3 per cent.

Scotts Bluff, Neb., has the highest percentage of increase of any of the incorporated places thus far, announced with 295.3 per cent. Other increases over 100 per cent, are: Eldorado, Kas., 251.4 per cent; Cicero, Ill., 209.7; Alma, Mich., 173.6; Knoxville, Tenn., 114.1, and Oak Park, Ill., 104.8. Manhattan, Mich., has shown the heaviest decrease with 31.7 per cent.

SIMS URGES GREATER CO-OPERATION BETWEEN THE ARMY AND NAVY

NEWPORT, R. I., April 3.—Admiral Sims, president of the naval war college, has expressed a desire to inaugurate a new departure at the navy college where greater co-operation between the army and navy is hoped to be effected. He has requested the detail of Major B. L. King of the army as a member of the college faculty. Heretofore army officers have been members of the classes at this institution but never has there been one on the faculty.

EDITOR KILLED IN DUEL

Political Excitement Prevails in Montevideo as Result of Tragedy

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, April 2.—Political excitement prevails in this city tonight as a result of the death of Washington Beltran, editor of the newspaper El Pais, in a duel with former President Jose Batlle y Ordonez this morning. The nationalist party has called a meeting of its leaders and the chamber of deputies held a meeting tonight, discussing the tragedy. After the last election in Uruguay, the nationalists accused the "Batlistas," the party headed by the former president, of fraud. This organization is a section of the Coloradist party which is at present in political control here, and Beltran's newspaper, in an editorial discussing the elections, called Batlle, the "champion of fraud." It was this utterance that led to the fatal duel.

The opponents met on a football field in the midst of a pouring rain storm. Standing 25 paces apart, the duellists were given the word to fire, both missing on the first exchange. Before Beltran could fire a second shot, he was struck by a bullet from Batlle's pistol, and sank to the ground mortally wounded. The body was taken to the state headquarters of the nationalist party, where it is lying in state tonight.

There is a law against dueling in Uruguay, but it is understood that one of the conditions agreed to by Beltran and Batlle was that neither would prosecute the other in case of injury. Duels are infrequent in this country.

Batlle, who was twice president of Uruguay, and is now a member of the national administrative council, voluntarily gave himself to the police, following an order by the state prosecutor for his arrest, as well as that of the doctors, seconds and other persons connected with the duel. He is being held incommunicado in a police station and will be interrogated Saturday.

RADICALS WIN 102 OUT OF 158 SEATS IN NEXT CONGRESS IN ARGENTINE

BUENOS AIRES, April 2.—Canvases of the votes cast in the recent Argentine elections shows that out of 158 seats in the next congress, which will convene in May, radicals will hold at least 102. The count is now completed with the exception of one province, where only one seat is involved. Conservatives and democrats, who were allied in the campaign, will have 45 seats and the socialists 10.

Good Weather for "Fashion Parades"

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Easter "fashion parades" throughout the eastern portion of the country, will encounter showers if predictions of the weather bureau today are borne out. Fair weather which overspread most of the country east of the Mississippi today and raised the hopes of possessors of Easter finery, will be followed tomorrow by cloudy weather, showers and even pouring rain, the bureau's forecast said. Unseasonable temperatures in some states promise a further blight to Easter parades. New England alone will escape tomorrow's rain, the forecaster said, adding that even in that section rain might be expected tomorrow night.

MORE STRAIGHT TALK

Did you notice in a local paper on Wednesday that the "Bituminous operators insist that increased wages to miners make necessary an increase in price of from 65c to $1.25 per ton at the mines?"

Somebody Will Pay This Increase

Hard coal miners will get increased wages also,—

Who Will Pay For This Increase?

COKE at $10.00 per ton is worthy of your serious consideration.

Hard Coal at $14.00 and perhaps $16.00 is an expensive luxury when you can buy COKE at the above price.

CONGRESS IMPORTUNED BY SERVICE MEN IS IN QUANDARY

Survey of the Situation in Reference to the Plans for Meeting Demands of the Service Men--Demand for Bonus

(Special to The Sun)
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 3.—“Bonus propaganda! Somehow it doesn't sound good to me,” said a western congressman commenting on the propaganda for a soldiers' bonus which has just been launched. The congressman referred to is one whose devotion to the welfare of soldiers is too well known to be questioned. He pointed to a bunch of “circular letters” stacked high on his desk and to a hundred or more telegrams—in duplicate—which he had received, urging him to see to it that the ways and means committee recommend a bonus plan along the lines advocated by the American Legion. The fact is, members of congress are not overpleased at the heckling which seems to be aimed to secure their influence with the ways and means committee. Nor are the members of that committee pleased to have their loyalty to the soldiers thus questioned. It may prove to be a double-header and cut both ways. While it calls the attention of congress to the determination of soldiers to secure a substantial bonus it has already done much to dispel the feeling that the boys who fought in the war were heroes or, in the words of the president, “crusaders.” Whether or not destroying that sentiment will be offset by the financial arguments put forth, is something that cannot be predicted. Some of the men who have worked untiringly for measures bettering the condition of army men, are not over pleased to be flooded with letters and telegrams, as if nothing but vigorous prodding would bring them to terms. Moreover, congress has been flooded with all kinds of propaganda for the past ten years and is tired of it. It wants to help the soldiers who need help, and may be those who don't. But as things look now, heckling won't do any good.

The Situation.
The situation in congress seems to be this: Practically every member is in favor of granting a bonus to men who need it. For those who are crippled, wounded, or who have played a hard luck since their return, through no fault of their own, they would provide handsomely. But for men who are in good physical condition and fairly well off in other ways, congress will hesitate to burden the country with excessive taxation. The ways and means committee, on whose shoulders rests the responsibility of a recommendation, realizes that while there were five million soldiers, there are also one hundred and five million civilians who must be considered in the problem. Taxation to meet a bonus would strike them all. To carry out the terms of the bonus desired by the officials of the American Legion, appropriation would run up into billions of dollars. The official estimates run from two billion to four billion or more dollars. And congress will look pretty carefully into the matter before recommending such an addition to the great war debts we now have. “We will do whatever is necessary for all wounded, crippled or needy ex-soldiers; and we will do something for all. If we find the country can afford it,” is a fair summing up of congressional sentiment at this moment. The plans of the ways and means committee are not made public, a tacit agreement that they will take the testimony, investigate the financial situation of the country and confer, before making any definite individual statements.

Plans Considered.
A number of bonus plans, or as the Legion prefers to call them “adjusted compensation” plans have been considered. One introduced by Congressman Treadway of Massachusetts is not favored by the Legion as it provides only for men who need it, and who secure an endorsement to that fact from the department commander of their state. The four plans advocated by the Legion are:

First—Land projects, which would make available to service men land acreage to them to an amount equal to $1.50 per day from the time of enlistment to discharge, with loans at 4 1/2 per cent. for equipment stock and improvements etc.

Second—Home aid—to assist ex-service men in acquiring homes in city or country at the rate of $2 per day for each day of service.

Third—Vocational training for all ex-service men who desire it at a bonus rate of $1.50 a day for time of service.

Fourth—A cash bonus at the rate of $1.50 per day for time of service to all ex-service men to be paid within one year of the time of the law going into effect. The term ex-service men is intended to apply to “ex-service persons” according to the Legion. All persons entitled to such bonus would have the choice of the four methods. Moreover they would have ten years in which to apply. At this moment it looks very unlikely that congress will feel justified in granting such a sweeping measure. At first a straight cash bonus of $1 per day for time of service was all that was thought of, but after the Legion convened in conference it was raised to $1.50 a day and the other three plans also endorsed.

Ways and Means Committee

The Ways and Means committee will not only recommend what shall be done for the soldiers, but it must also recommend a way by which the enormous sum of money required to carry it out shall be raised. How can that be done without a tax which will be a burden to the entire country, including the soldiers themselves? Here are two of the ways most talked about: A special bond issue—but that, it is said, might be hard to float and moreover might interfere with the cash value of bonds already issued. Apparently the special bond issue is not well thought of by congressional leaders for the most part, although Chairman Forney of the ways and means committee disclaims the idea that it is out of the running. There are various other plans under consideration but the sales tax seems to be the one most talked of at this time.

Sales Tax Proposed

The sales tax would raise the sum required by placing on each sale of merchandise a special revenue stamp, for which the purchaser of goods would pay the same as he does soda, cigar or other special revenue taxes. In some instances it would be so small it would not be felt, but the sum in the aggregate would be so great, that billions could be raised without great hardship to the consumer. It is the plea of its advocates, it would follow along the war tax lines, only in this case all purchases would be taxed, instead of those running only above a certain fixed value, so each consumer would pay his proportion.

New England members of congress have listened attentively to the arguments of visiting delegations from their states, and expressed sympathy for the soldiers, but thus far have not committed themselves to any specific action. They realize it would place a tremendous burden of additional taxation on the people of the country, already struggling under high cost of living and heavy taxation. “We will do everything necessary for the disabled soldier and the needy soldier” is as far as the average congressman is willing to state his views. The fact is congress is up against a pretty hard proposition. Now that the war is over, it wants to cut down expenses and taxes instead of increasing them; at the same time it wants to deal generously and justly with the soldiers; it also wants to protect the millions of civilian population from unjust burdens. How those can be harmonized is the problem before congress.

Connecticut Men Disappointed

Last week there were delegates here from many states, including New England. The Connecticut legion officials made it plain they were not satisfied with what Connecticut has done for her ex-service men. That state accredited to them to an amount equal

Easter Hope

This painting, “The King is Dead, Long Live the King,” has created a sensation in England, where it was sold to benefit a home for blind soldiers. Inset is the painter, Miss D. J. Vicari.

To Christian and to Gentile and to Jew
Spring brings the Easter-hope, forever new;
Out of the war-womb of a suffering Earth,
Out of death's winter springs eternal birth.

—By Edmund Vance Cooke

Quarter Century Ago

The following item from the old Sun will be of interest to many of the older employees of the Lawrence Manufacturing company of which Mr. Hall was the popular superintendent:

“William E. Hall, the retiring superintendent of the Lawrence company, was dining at the St. Charles hotel Saturday night. His health was drunk and he was given a fine send-off. He goes to a better position with the Boston Duck company. Thirty-eight of the 41 overseers and officials of the Lawrence company were there and Charles R. Goldard presided.

“During the speechmaking by several of those present, J. S. Thomson presented Mr. Hall a fine gold watch as a reminder of the 12 years spent at the Lawrence company and of his former associates. There was story telling and music after the fine dinner served by Landlord Dickey.”

Our Postoffice 25 Years Old

Just 25 years ago, March 23, the postoffice entered its present quarters at the corner of Gorham and Appleton streets, as indicated by the following item from the old Sun:

“It would not be out of place to put an ‘April Fool’ placard on the old postoffice doors. So many people were fooled yesterday and today in trying to get into the building from which the postoffice has moved.

“The postoffice has closed its mail bags and left the centre of the city; like the Arabs, it silently moved away in the stillness of a Saturday night.

“Today, business opened brisk at the new stand; but for the first time in years, firms and individuals on Merrimack and Central streets had their mail delivered by carriers. The new federal building is so far out of the way that few Merrimack street merchants will retain their letter boxes.”

Lowell was supposed to reduce over its new federal building, but even then its size, floor space and general accommodations were disappointing.

The postoffice had had its quarters on the first floor of the Hildreth building, a location very convenient for the downtown business men. The removal from the business centre to the new location had been opposed by leading business men, but without avail. It was said that the business centre would follow the postoffice but it hasn't. It was said also that the location of the postoffice on the present site would greatly enhance the value of real estate in the vicinity but it didn't.

It was claimed that the new postoffice would be a beauty and a joy forever, but it is now wholly inadequate to meet the needs of our city and must soon be greatly enlarged or else abandoned for a new and larger building.

Camp Framingham

Says The Sun:
“The militia of the state will occupy the old camp ground at Framingham for its annual encampment as usual.

“There will be no tramping over the country roads and those among the men who desired to try the life of the military ‘hobo’ will be disappointed.

“The plan was first outlined by Col. Parsons of the 6th Regiment, who had made a careful study of the possibilities and claimed to have everything in readiness for such an outing for his command.”

Today nobody seems to know whether the old training camp at Framingham will be utilized or abandoned for Devens or some other military camp.

For Public Baths

Says the old Sun:
“Lowell should have a public bath system desirably fitted with modern appliances and conveniences and well situated.”

“It was in this manner that Agent Knapp expressed himself to a Sun reporter yesterday. Mr. Knapp is particularly interested in the establishment of public baths and for some time has been in communication with a citizens committee of New York which is engaged in the establishment and conducting of public baths in that city.”

Horace Knapp as appears from the above item foresaw one of the most urgent needs of our city. His dream has not yet been fully realized.

Letter From Mrs. Cleveland

According to the old Sun, Post 155, G.A.R., was somewhat disappointed on receiving a note from Mrs. Cleveland, then mistress of the White House at Washington. The post was running a fair and wrote her asking for a doll or some such gift to be awarded as a prize in a guessing contest. In a letter signed by R. L. O'Brien, she expressed her regrets that such requests were so numerous, she could not possibly comply with them.

French Interests to Take Over Ships

PARIS, April 3.—(Havas)—German ships seized by Brazil will be taken over by a syndicate of French ship owners on payment of $26,000,000, according to the Journal, which says the matter has been definitely settled.

New Food Restrictions in Rome

ROME, April 3.—(Havas)—New restrictions on the use of meat, bread, rice and sugar were announced today in a decree issued by the government. Consumption of meat is prohibited on Thursdays and Fridays.

AMERICAN AUTHOR SHOT TO DEATH BY VILLA FIRING SQUAD

Bierce's Death Mystery Solved---One of His Executors Tells Story to Newspaper Man
---Body Left in Desert

N.E.A. Staff Special
SAN FRANCISCO, April 3.—Ambrose Bierce, American author and critic, whose disappearance has been one of the mysteries of the literary world for five years, stood before a Villa firing squad in 1915 in Northern Mexico and died like a soldier.

The impressive fact was told here by James H. Wilkins, San Francisco writer, who knew Bierce, and who has just returned from Mexico City, where he says he talked with one of the eight Mexicans who composed the firing squad, and verified the Mexican story by a picture of Bierce the former Villista took from the dead American's body.

Wilkins' story has created a profound impression among the literary colony here, and in view of the fact that Bierce went to Mexico saying he intended to die in battle, it is being generally accepted as the authentic story of the dramatic end of one of America's most eminent writers.

Wanted to Die

Wilkins' search for the facts of Bierce's death looked at first hopeless. The English-speaking Mexican who saw Bierce last was Edmund Melero, editor of the Mexican Review, and Melero died the day Wilkins arrived in Mexico City. But Melero had told George Weeks, another newspaper man, that Bierce had been captured near Torreon when, as military advisor to Carranza, he had fallen into the hands of a Villa raiding party, and, with an unknown Mexican soldier, lined up and shot in accordance with the rebel chief's code.

“I wanted to die in battle; if I cannot do that I want to crawl into a lonely hole in the mountains and die unobserved of mankind,” Bierce told Melero, revealing the spirit that ran through Bierce's later writings.

Leads Back Train

Bierce and Melero joined Carranza's forces, but later separated. The latter heard vaguely of the capture of a mule train which Bierce was supposed to command.

A former Villista who was in the capturing party lived in Mexico City and it was Wilkins' good fortune to discover this survivor.

After promising not to divulge his name, Wilkins got the old Mexican's story, corroborated by a picture taken from Bierce's body which Wilkins at once recognized as the author.

Kills Stolely

Only two prisoners were taken by the Villistas—a mulatto and a tall, white-haired American. After a preliminary court martial the two were sentenced to be shot.

“A one-eyed man would have known this American was a man of distinction,” said the Mexican. “The Indian dropped to his knees and prayed and motioned to the American to do likewise. The American hesitated a moment, then straightened, folded his hands and waited.

“There was no delay. An officer signalled and the two men fell forward.

No Burial Rites

“We searched their effects. I took this photograph in the hope that it might sometime identify the American. I am a man of humble life. I might easily invite the vengeance of your countrymen if they knew that I, even unwillingly, was party to the killing of such a man. I will destroy the picture.” And he did.

Wilkins learned that Bierce was not accorded the ceremony of burial as the raiders were in hostile territory and after seizing the guns and stores of the Carranzista train hurried away.

If this story be true, as it seems to be, the body of one of America's greatest writers was left on the deserts near Torreon, but he died as he said he would—like a soldier; if not in battle, at least with his boots on and with a stoic smile upon his lips.

Elaborate Easter Musical Programs in the Local Churches

The usual elaborate Easter musical programs will be carried out in the local churches tomorrow, both Catholic and Protestant, and the choir directors have arranged programs designed to give full expression of the joy of Easter morning.

In the Catholic churches the programs will be given at the high mass in the morning and at the vesper services in the late afternoon or evening. In the Protestant churches the music will add to the joy expressed in the usual Easter Sunday services.

Programs as they are to be carried out in the various churches of the city follow:

ST. PETER'S CHURCH.
Rev. Daniel J. Keeler, Ph.D., Pastor.
Processional, Hallelujah Chorus.
Introit, Resurrexi.
Kyrie.
Gloria.
Gradual, Hallelujah.
Sequence, Victimae.
Credo.
Offertory, Terra Tremuit.
Communion, Hallelujah.
Recessional, Hallelujah.

ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH.
Rev. John J. Shaw, Pastor.
Solemn Mass at 11 o'clock a. m.
Solemn Vespers at 7 o'clock p. m.
The music for the day will be unusually brilliant, in keeping with the joyous a festival, and will be taken from the compositions of the greatest masters of church music, and will be sung by the two choirs of the church, the chorale choir of 50 boys and men (vested) and the quartet and chorus choir of mixed voices.

The soloists will be Mrs. James A. Murphy, soprano; Miss Margaret Griffin, contralto; Mr. Thomas J. Bouloger, bass; Mr. James A. Murphy, tenor and director; Miss Ella M. Reilly, organist.

ST. PATRICK'S.
Rev. Mr. Wm. O'Brien, L.P.M.
Solemn High Mass, 11 a. m.

Christ Is Risen

(According to Saint Luke)

Now, upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre. And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Jesus.

And they talked together of all these things which had happened. And it came to pass that, while they communed together and reasoned, Jesus himself drew near, and went with them. But their eyes were held that they should not know Him.

And it came to pass, as He sat at meat with them, He took the bread, and blessed it, and broke, and gave to them. And their eyes were opened, and they knew Him; and He vanished out of their sight.

And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and said unto them, Peace be unto you. But they were terrified, and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen a spirit.

Then opened He their understanding, that they might understand the Scriptures. And said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day.

And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in His name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem. And yet are witnesses of these things.

And it came to pass, while He blessed them, He was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

Governor Morrow of Kentucky Starts War on Lynching

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 3.—The "open season" for lynching in Kentucky is nearly ended, and the killing of Grant Smith, a negro, in Fleming county, by a mob is putting public opinion to the test.

Governor Morrow, who ordered out troops in Lexington and upheld the law in the case of Will Lockett, another negro, saved from a mob for legal execution at the cost of the lives of six white men, is determined that his state shall take the lead in abolishing the lynching evil.

The fight will be carried to other states, he says, and waged until the evil is abolished.

"There is no doubt of the moral responsibility of the officers in allowing Smith to be taken from custody," said the governor, "although the state law compelling the removal from office of peace officers who surrender prisoners to mobs is not operative until June.

"The incident is most regrettable. The law should have been permitted to take its course. The summary justice dealt to Lockett at Lexington recently should leave no doubt in the minds of honest men that Kentuckians know how to deal with criminals of his type."

Lockett was sentenced to death after a trial lasting 15 minutes, and was promptly executed.

The stand taken by Governor Morrow was at first received with antagonism by a large section of the people of his state. But sentiment has been changing rapidly.

After the new law is in force, Governor Morrow will supervise its enforcement vigorously. The lynching question has become a big political issue in Kentucky.

HAR! HAR! HAR!

Or, If You'd Rather, Tee! Hee! Hee!

Here is a humor-comet that we have not sighted for half a decade, although watching anxiously for it to be recalled by the great demand for prohibition jokes. It came first, ostensibly, out of Arizona, in which state it is set:

A tenderfoot walks into a saloon in a frontier town and orders whiskey. The bartender sets out a bottle, a glass and a whisk-broom. The tenderfoot, unwilling to display his ignorance of the function of the broom, dawdles over pouring out his liquor until a cowboy comes in and shouts for "nose-paint." He gets a bottle, a glass and another whisk-broom. The cowboy pours his drink; gulps it; brushes off a clean spot on the floor; lies down and has a fit. The tenderfoot signs the pledge.

BAKER'S REMNANTS

ARE ECONOMICAL

The price of ready-made garments is very high and this accounts for the long line of people going in the direction of Baker's Mill End store at 611 Merrimack street. Whether you have your garments made or make them yourself, you will save money by buying the material at Baker's.

BUY A CAMERA AND

ENJOY YOURSELF

If you do not own a camera, buy one now for now is the time that you can enjoy taking pictures of scenery, etc. A camera is the source of much enjoyment and is the means of preserving precious souvenirs. For your cameras and supplies call at J. A. McEvoy's, 232 Merrimack street, where you will find a most complete line at prices that will suit you.

THE MAGIC POLISH

IS THE VERY BEST

A great number of housekeepers in Lowell and elsewhere are using the Magic Stove and Nickel polish for their kitchen and parlor ranges, because this preparation is economical and gives excellent results. It is not inflammable or corrosive and when properly used brings about a brilliant and lasting polish. If you cannot get it at your grocer's send 15 cents to the Trussell Importing Co., Box 51, Lowell, Mass.

JOHN PINARDI

IS AN ARTIST

Whether you go into St. Patrick's, St. Joseph's or the Edison cemetery you will find pieces of art in the line of tombstones from the works of the Lowell Monument Co. of which John Pinardi is designer and general manager. Mr. Pinardi is an artist in his line and his many masterpieces will vouch for that. His stock is most complete, his prices are exceptionally close and his work is artistic. See him at 1056-1062 Gorham street and he will show you samples of his work and quote prices.

For Woman and the Home

Hints for the Household

Latest Fashion Notes by Betty Brown

"KEEP A BUDGET AND STRETCH YOUR DOLLARS" IS THE ADVICE OF WOMAN BANKER TO WORKING GIRLS

NEW YORK, April 3.—Is there any way a girl may spread her weekly wage to cover every swelling item more easily?

What percentage of her earnings should a girl spend on different things? In order to make a dollar go the furthest?

These questions were put to Miss Virginia D. H. Furman, recently elected assistant secretary of the Columbia Trust company of New York. Miss Furman, at the time of her election, was the first woman to hold an official bank position. She has charge of the special interests of the bank's women clients, thus embodying a new and valuable idea in bank management, by establishing confidential contact between the bank and its women customers.

Budget Necessary

"Every girl should keep a budget," replied Miss Furman. "That sounds like a fussy way of making a hard job harder, but it isn't. The budget system as worked out by the National League of Women Workers, in which I am interested, is a simple way for a girl to control her spending instead of letting her spending control her."

There are five steps in making a budget.

"First—Keep accurate weekly accounts of your spending."

"Second—Find your average weekly expenditure in each direction."

"Third—Find what proportion of your total weekly income is spent in each direction."

"Fourth—Study other people's experience to find what proportions they have spent in each direction to get the most comfort and most savings from their income."

"Fifth—Decide at the beginning of the week what proportion of your income you will spend in each direction."

An easy way, suggested by Miss Furman to keep weekly accounts is to take a cheap-lined copy book and down the left edge of a page list under each other the various things for which money is spent. Along the top, above the first item, put the days of the week across the page.

Average Expenditure

The average expenditure in each direction should be found after the accounts have been kept for at least three weeks, by adding the amount spent for any one item in that time and dividing by three.

Miss Virginia D. H. Furman.

Miss Furman is first woman elected to official position in bank.

Percentages are found by dividing the weekly income by 100 to find 1 per cent of the income, and dividing each average weekly expenditure by this 1 per cent. This will show how the income is apportioned.

"The table of percentages," says Miss Furman, "which has given the most comfort to most people, according to the National League of Women Workers, is this:

Rent, 20 per cent; clothing, 10 per cent; food, 30 per cent; improvement, 10 per cent, including recreation, club dues, dental and medical care; operating expenses, 15 per cent; carfare, laundry, etc., insurance and savings, 15 per cent.

"These are the proportions which have been found by long experience to work out best in supporting a family. For an individual girl the proportions might be somewhat different."

How to Adjust Budget

"Suppose Mary, whose savings average 35 cents a week, decides she wants to have more, but doesn't know how to do it. If she compared her actual spending with the percentages recommended she will see that in proportion to her board and rent she is spending far too much on clothes, and somewhat too much on improvement and operating expenses."

"Lizelle thinks she has been economizing by spending less than usual on food. But the saving has been lost on medicine. So she decides to economize on clothing and not on food."

"Rosalie finds her clothing is costing her 25 per cent of her income—a little over a quarter. So she decides to wear her old things a season longer than usual."

"Midge finds she is spending 35 per cent of her income on rent instead of the wiser 20 per cent. She says:

"One thing which should never appear in the program of budget-making, except in the greatest emergency, is cutting down that safe percentage of savings."

TAFFETA AND SERGE COMBINE

IN SPRING DRESS—VERY

SWEET, WE'LL SAY

BY CORA MOORE

New York's Fashion Authority

NEW YORK, April 3.—The one-piece dress worn with the bit of fur holds its own in popular favor.

In this model, inspired by a costume worn in John Drew's current play, "The Cat Bird," it is the clever combination of taffeta and serge that is most important. Midnight taffeta forms the dress, while the band trimmings are of serge braided in black with an occasional green gold thread introduced.

The back and sides of tunic and waist are cut together, while the straight skirt is attached to the vest and a waist lining. Then, as a finishing feature, there is the hat of the same taffeta with a long bow of soft straw atop the crown which, also, is of the straw.

Sprinkling Flowers Over Lacy Frocks The Newest Thing in Paris

BY CORA MOORE

New York's Fashion Authority

NEW YORK, April 3.—Of course, you have heard what Paris is doing about flowers! Sprinkling them over frocks of chiffon or tulle, lace or silk in reckless fashion. Here, in this gold tissue gown over lavender satin that Belle Story wears in "Happy Days" at the Hippodrome, is an excellent example of the Parisian mode. Straggling clusters of pansies and wistaria, each tied with a two-inch satin ribbon, are caught to the gold tissue, below a series of half-inch tucks, and a strand of the flowers decorates the corsage, which is a little surplice affair. Finally, there is a girle of soft lavender satin.

Lady Lookabout

The incident I am going to tell happened about a week ago, but it is not an isolated case. To my own knowledge, it happens frequently. The 11.15 train from the north had not come into the Middlesex street station at 12 o'clock. The 12.10 was nearly due. You can imagine the crowd at the depot on any day under the circumstances, but when I tell you it was Saturday, you will appreciate more fully what follows. Needless to say, the ticket seller was rushing. In the midst of the rush, a well dressed, intelligent appearing woman brought the line of ticket buyers to a halt and for at least five minutes talked about a train reservation to Kalamazoo, or somewhere. All business at the window necessarily was stopped, until a man in the line succeeded in catching the ticket seller's eye, and the woman was asked to wait a few minutes until the rush was over.

"How did you do that?" someone inquired of the man.

"Oh, I gave him the high sign," was the answer.

Now whatever this high sign may be, can we not have it posted near the ticket seller's window in order that we may find it available when it is so greatly needed?

WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

May Pass the Critical Period Safely and Comfortably by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Summit, N. J.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound during Change of Life and I think it is a good remedy in such a condition. I could not digest my food and had much pain and burning in my stomach after meals. I could not sleep, had backache, and worst of all were the hot flashes. I saw in the paper a box of Vegetable Compound so I tried it. Now I feel all right and can work better. You have my permission to publish this letter."

Victoria Korff, 21 Oak Ridge Ave., Summit, N. J.

Preaching to Schools

Religious toleration, I suppose, is one of the finest attributes a man may have these days. "Live and let live" applies in this particular perhaps more aptly than in any other. At the same time the most tolerant man prefers to choose his own manner of worshiping. Likewise he prefers that his children, at least in their early years, follow in his way. Imagine, then, the feelings of amazement among the residents of a certain nearby town, when representatives of a local revival of acknowledged sectarian leanings waited outside a certain public school until dismissal time, then urged and exhorted the pupils in a body. Possibly and probably these missionaries had permission of the authorities to make this visit. It does not seem likely that even religious zeal would prompt its advocates openly to address public school children of different denominations on the school grounds. At the same time, granting they had such permission, it would be interesting to hear what the school committee have to say in defence of their action.

When Women Vote

"Of all the sad words of tongue or pen, The saddest are these—'Massachusetts has more women than men.'" may soon be obliged to laugh with the other side of his face, for when the suffrage amendment is passed, Massachusetts will have 58,264 more women voters than men. The men, however, must not be unduly alarmed, for it is safe to assume that this privilege of voting, so carefully and jealously guarded all these years from the dread (female) of the species will find many backsliders among the women, due to the weather and other causes. So do not be alarmed, boys, for we, too, are human and are just as prone as you, to let that poor, mysterious, but highly over-worked gentleman, George, vote for us. Besides, you know, we are not going to vote against you; we are going to vote with you, at least with some of you. Or, wait, is it you who are going to vote with us?

In the national field, men voters will be somewhat in the majority. In the entire country there will be 2,500,000 more men than women. At the same time, in national politics, this figure is not as great as it would seem, unless you are tuning for office and lose by that many votes. Should women vote in the approaching residential election, the novelty of suffrage probably will draw out nearer one hundred per cent of the female portion of the electorate than of the male.

"We are coming, Father Abraham," by the million all right!"

KING ALBERT'S LIFE SAVED BY THIS GIRL

King Albert has pinned the Croix de Guerre, Order of Leopold and the Croix de la Elizabeth on Mlle. Angelica Verexman, a Belgian peasant girl, because of a service she rendered during the war. The girl, on her way to Antwerp, overheard a German officer and nurse plotting to blow up the palace in Brussels on Feb. 19, 1915, when King Albert was in conference with allied officers. She informed official and the Germans were convicted and shot.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Mrs. Helen Hamilton Gardener, writer and prominent suffrage worker, has been appointed a member of the civil service commission. She is the first woman ever appointed to this or any similar commission.

Mrs. Gardener is a vice president of the National American Woman Suffrage association and congressional counselor of the National League of Women Voters.

HOW TO TEST DIAMONDS

Diamonds of bright tints, reds and greens and blues are immensely valuable, but where the tint is slight it only destroys the diamond's beauty. Colors and tints are due to the presence of impurities. Testing the genuineness of a diamond is very difficult and only an expert can be absolutely sure. Imitation gems are made sometimes by cementing a thin layer of real diamond on a glass or other crystal body. If such a gem is placed in oil, the division between the real and fake crystal can be seen. There are a few other crystals that will cut glass so that this test is not fully reliable. Ordinary fakes can be detected with a nail file. Run the file over a corner of the gem. A diamond will not be scratched. No acid will affect the brilliancy of a diamond.

IRISH LEADERS REGRET PICKETING

WASHINGTON, April 3.—Daniel T. O'Connell, former head of the Irish national bureau, and thoroughly in touch with all phases of the Irish movement, declared last night that the Washington picketing is wholly unauthorized, and meets with the decided disapproval of the leaders of the Irish movement.

"We are proceeding along conservative and well organized lines," said Mr. O'Connell, "and this development is certainly not in accordance with them. We know nothing about it. We know none of the people concerned in it. Their actions are doing no service to the Irish cause. I regret greatly that well meaning people should be led into extravagant acts. We are all anxious to place the cause of Ireland before the American public in an American way. We do not believe that this sensational proceeding in Washington is a proper method of argument. I hope that these women will cease their propaganda. No real friend of Ireland would seek to embarrass its cause by any actions that would be frowned upon by the American people."

During the first half of 1919, there were 28 lynchings in the United States. This shows a decrease of four lynchings from the number during the same period of 1918.

The total value of all crops in the 11 southern states in 1919 was about five and one-third billion dollars, as compared with one and one-half billion in 1902.

CLEANED THE POISONS FROM HIS SYSTEM

A MASSACHUSETTS MAN GRATEFUL

Somerville, Mass. A well liked citizen of this city, who has suffered in the past, writes the following to Dr. J. F. Truoc & Co.:

"I have taken all kinds of laxatives, but none of it cleaned the poison from my system as your Elixir will know what to use hereafter considering the effects it had on me as I feel splendid now—"

Dr. Truoc's Elixir has relieved thousands of sufferers during the last 58 years. Imagine a prescription actually lasting so long—doctors come and doctors go, but Dr. Truoc's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, which was given the world by Dr. Truoc, is as of old, the best friend to be found in your medicine closet. Symptoms of Worms: Swelling upper lip, deranged stomach, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly, with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on the tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever.

How Gray's Syrup Breaks Your Cough

In breaking up your cough and correcting the accompanying ailments, you will find that Gray's Syrup brings prompt relief in three distinct ways.

First—Immediately on taking Gray's Syrup the dry, inflammatory condition of the throat is eased. Swallowing becomes less difficult and the throat performs its natural function in comfort.

Second—no matter how tight and dry a cough is, Gray's Syrup loosens it up. The cough readily dissolves under consistent treatment and does not again become distressing enough to continue to strain the throat and lung muscles.

Third—the phlegm which collects on the affected parts and clogs the tubes is quickly raised. The healing and soothing influence of Gray's Syrup coming into direct contact with the affected parts brings them back to their normal condition.

BALTIMORE, April 3.—With $250,000 as the stake, the United States Cartridge company and the Crown Cork and Seal company are waging a legal battle before Judge Rose in federal court.

The cartridge company brought the suit to recover commissions on the manufacture of munitions of war by the Baltimore concern.

Trial of the case was postponed yesterday because of the holiday and will be resumed next week.

TO FEEL FIT TO WORK

You must keep your stomach well, your liver active, your bowels regular and blood pure.

If you get up in the morning tired, if you get exhausted with the slightest exertion, you can depend upon it that your liver is torpid and needs waking up. A few doses of SEVEN BARKS, nature's great remedy, will "wake up" that lazy liver, and make you feel like new.

If your liver has been overworked, it would cause your whole system to fill up with acids and poisons that would make you feel weak, tired and sick. You can easily remove the acids and poisons from your system by taking from 10 to 20 drops of SEVEN BARKS in a little water after meals.

It will keep your bowels moving naturally every day, cleanse your system thoroughly, eliminate undigested food, and bring you back to active and normal health again.

SEVEN BARKS is nature's remedy made from the extracts of roots and herbs and has stood the test for many, many years, and will certainly give you a feeling of new life and vigor. To feel fresh and fit for your daily duties, you must keep your stomach and liver active and bowels regular.

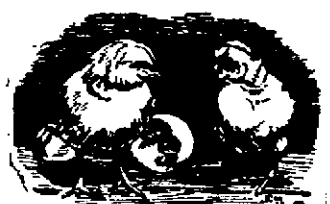

To get and keep well ask your druggist for SEVEN BARKS. If he is out of it, he will get it for you. Accept no substitute. Price 60 cents.—Adv.

Toledo Without Cars

to take care of the wage demands calling for a maximum of 60 cents an hour, the men voted to strike.

All transportation ceased at 4 o'clock this morning, the cars being sent into the barns. There will be no attempt to operate them with non-union men, officials of the company said.

The strike will put the traction question back into the jurisdiction of the United States district court. Judge Killis, who was responsible for restoration of service after the cars were taken into Michigan last November when an ouster ordinance was adopted by a vote of the people, is expected to take some action today.

More than 1200 men are involved in the strike which is participated in also by electrical workers and shopmen. The carmen have been receiving 42, 44 and 46 cents an hour. The working agreement with the company expired on April 1. The scale agreed to by the mayor and the company calls for 54, 56 and 60 cents. Fares were to be increased from six cents and two cents for a transfer, to seven cents and two cents.

The street car tieup forced many citizens to walk to work. Some motor buses were running but the number was far from adequate to meet the demand for transportation.

It is expected that the city will again take over the direction of buses, map out routes and supervise the operation of a makeshift transportation system, as was done last year, when Henry J. Doherty, head of the Toledo Railways & Light Co., took the cars out of the state for a month because the people voted for an ouster ordinance.

to Londonderry last night, motor cars were minutely searched and drivers had to produce permits and declare their business, says a Central News despatch from Dublin.

It is believed this military activity had something to do with rumors of an Easter uprising.

There was unusual military activity in the suburbs of Dublin today, according to the despatch. Parties of soldiers with armored cars took up positions shortly after midnight, just outside the city boundaries and all vehicles approaching the capital were searched. Hay cars received particular attention and the tramway passengers from Lucan, about

Search All Vehicles

BELFAST, April 3.—In addition to pronounced military activity in the vicinity of Londonderry today, all the roads about the town being patrolled, the passengers who arrived by the Scotch boat at Londonderry were searched by the police. Meanwhile violent scenes were reported taking place among the Sinn Fein prisoners confined in Londonderry jail.

Unusual activity also was displayed by the authorities at Dundalk, Midway between Belfast and Dublin, special patrols being posted at all approaches to the town. The drivers of motor cars, which vehicles were numerous on the roads because of the Easter tide activities, were required to produce their permits.

BOSTON ENGLISH OPERA COMPANY WILL PLAY HERE ENGAGEMENT AT OPERA HOUSE

The announcement that the Boston English Opera Company is to play a return engagement at the Opera House on Monday and Tuesday, April 12-13, will be a source of satisfaction and joy to the music lovers of Lowell and vicinity. This company's performance of "Robin Hood" in Lowell some weeks ago will be favorably remembered by those who were fortunate enough to secure tickets for the days presentation of that popular piece, and their return will unquestionably be heralded as a welcomed chance to the regular run of local attractions.

This company filled a long engagement at the Arlington theatre, Boston, and at its close answered the call from the outside to make a short tour of the cities of New England. Lowell was one of the places fortunate enough to secure these artists, and after the completion of the tour, which eventually extended into Canada, the local management was lucky enough to secure them for a return engagement. The repertoire for the coming dates here will be Monday night, Verdi's delightful opera, "Il Trovatore"; Tuesday matinee De Kooning's comic opera, "Robin Hood"; and Tuesday night, Raffi's romantic opera, "The Bohemian Girl". Mr. Joseph Sheehan will appear as the star in all three operas, and the other stars of the cast will appear to advantage.

The prices will be $2, $1.50, $1 and 75 cents for the night performances, and $1.50, $1 and 50 cents for the matinee performance. These prices do not include the war tax. Mail orders, accompanied by check or cash, will be received in return from now on. The public sale will open on Monday, April 5, at 10 a. m. Judging from the big demand for tickets at the last appearance of this company, it would seem advisable to make application as quickly as possible if you wish the choice reservations.

"BLIND HUSBANDS," "THE GROCERY CLERK" AND OTHER STERLING ATTRACTATIONS AT THE STRAND

Absolutely the biggest and best photoplay program in New England is what General Manager Thomas E. Sorrell promises the patrons of The Strand for the coming week. During the first three days a triple super-production program is guaranteed. Nothing equal to it has ever been attempted by any local management. Three big features, each one of sufficient drawing and entertaining power to serve alone on the bill, will contribute in making the attraction the de luxe program of the year. Just read it over and judge for yourself.

"Blind Husbands," the most enthralling picture ever produced by the Universal film company; with Eric Stralheim in the stellar role; Dustin Farnum in Alexander Dumas masterpiece, "The Corsican Brothers"; and Larry Semon, rival of Charlie Chaplin in comedy king, in his biggest and best humor-making film, "The Grocery Clerk." These pictures are personal selections by General Manager Sorrell, and were only recently shown at The Strand and Rialto, New York City, at $1.50 prices. You will see them at the prevailing Strand prices.

Then for the last three days of the week the Universal's sensational Jewel production, "The Great Air Robbery," with Locklear the daredevil of the skies in a cyclonic sensation, a hurricane of thrills. Nothing to compare with it has ever been filmed. The other feature will be Madeline Travers in "The Hell Ship."

The sacred concert for Easter Sunday will have the very highest-class series of vaudeville acts and motion picture stories. You can't miss it for it's the newest, biggest and best in town.

What is perhaps the most awe-inspiring scenery ever recorded by the motion picture camera is seen in "Blind Husbands," the Universal photodrama of the Corsican Alps which comes Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It stars Eric Stralheim, formerly of the suddenness and brilliancy of a meteor in the 1915 edition of Ziegfeld's Follies. She became an immediate success. New York had never seen a girl with her beauty, her grace and vivacity in the dance. She was immediately licensed by motion picture producers and her success on the screen has been the result.

David Powell, leading man in "On With the Dance," is one of the most accomplished actors of the screen. He has played on the London stage with Sir Beerholm Tree and his success in motion pictures in this country has been notable.

"On With the Dance" tells a most interesting story. Seldom has a more colorful photoplay been offered screen lovers in the brilliant scenes in Broadway cabarets, the luxurious apartments of the rich, and the myriad-lighted skyline of the great city. A dazzling spectacle has been the management of the story.

The story brings to the front the excellent dramatic talents of Mae Murray, the erstwhile dancer of the Follies and now a most successful actress. She has a more than ordinary charm and ability, and the suave and affable David Powell. The plot concerns a Russian immigrant who suddenly injected into the atmosphere of New York "high life," at first yields to the temptations of easy money that he receives from a playboy, but later in a big crisis redeems himself.

"On With the Dance" is described as the first of a series of pictures bearing the name of George Fitzmaurice. It is a meritorious effort. The scenario, adapted from Michael Barron's stage play, was written by Ouida Bergere.

Other features for the first half of the week will be "The Heart of Texas," the story of a "wildcat" in the "Pub," one of his funniest productions; the Chester Outing pictures and the International News.

For "Friday and Saturday" Mark Twain's immortal story of boy life, "Mark Twain," will be the feature. Ronan, Love and the News Pictorial will round out the bill.

GRAND EASTER OFFERING OF VAUDEVILLE AND PICTURES AT THE OWL THEATRE

The Easter offering of vaudeville and pictures at the Owl theatre is the biggest and best bill of the season. First comes the "Seven National Novelty Jazz Bands," a single musical act, fast and peppy. Then "Happy Lou Lewin," "The Bickling Sisters" and "Master Bernard" as a singing quartet. The feature pictures are "The Heart of Texas," "The Grocery Clerk" and "The Heart of Texas." The screen magazine and topics of the day taken from the "New York Times" complete the bill. The vaudeville appearing at 3, 6 and 9 p. m. Monday brings the talented Norma Talmadge in "A Daughter of Two Worlds," eight parts from the novel of the same name. This is the first picture on her new million dollar contract as a special First National attraction.

Somehow, the comedy king in "The Grocery Clerk" and Tom Mix in "The Heart of Texas" Ryan. The plot of "A Daughter of Two Worlds" is founded on a famous forgery case in New York City, according to Le Roy Scott, author of the novel. The two participants in the forgery each served ten years in Sing Sing. Black Jerry Malone, keeper of a notorious underworld cabaret, father of Jennie, whose part Miss Talmadge plays, is also a character from real life. In the screen version of the forgery Jennie is arrested for it unjustly. Her handwriting had been copied by the real crook and imitated in forging the check. Jennie, under the advice of her father and Uncle George, jumps her bail, enters a fashionable boarding school and soon finds herself in the upper world, where she meets the man of her heart. The stigma of the underworld follows her, and she is ostracized and isolated in the aristocratic world. Jennie is confronted with the alternative of giving away her true identity at the risk of losing her place and her place in society, or continuing to live at the cost of the life of a friend of the other world who has been wrongly convicted of murder.

"PARLOR, BEDROOM AND BATH," ATTRACTION AT OPERA HOUSE FOR EASTER WEEK

"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," the highest carnival of laughs that ever came to town, will be the Easter week attraction by the Lowell Players at the Opera House. This amusement, no doubt, will be received with a marked degree of satisfaction by the general run of theatre folk of Lowell and vicinity, for the reason that comedy offerings of the Players have invariably given genuine pleasure to all. "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," ranks with the best products of the comedy stage in seasons. It is a record attendance during its New York engagement, and while in Boston it played to crowded houses for six months. The piece offers as novel and original as the best presented in this theatre in seasons. It is a broad satire on the sentimental side of feminine nature. The story deals with the escapades of a mild and innocent young husband whose wife loves him because she thinks he is a gay Lothario. The young man is desperately in love with his wife, but as innocent as a dove, he is the proverbial lamb. Nevertheless he is compelled to sustain his wife's illusions and reluctantly goes the way of folly. Things begin to happen to him. He finds himself in a lonely wayside inn, which, through a combination of unforeseen circumstances is turned into a veritable temple of trouble. To reveal more would be betraying the essential interest in the author's story. A festival of fun is promised in the developments that ensue.

It is safe to predict that the Players' Easter week is unusually clever, and amusing comedy in the same manner in which they have treated all of their past efforts, and the patrons should feel assured of a feast of fun. Miss Marguerite Fields' versatility extends quite as well to humor-making as it does to the more serious and strong dramatic efforts, and she is sure of securing another of her big hits in the leading female role—that of the young wife, Hooper L. Aichey as the innocent husband will surely be extremely funny; while Jack Bennett, Miss Fields' partner, and the rest of the cast will be found in congenial parts. Director Kirk will stage the piece in a manner that will meet with the approval of the playgoers, an accomplishment that is his to a marked degree.

In preparing this recent release for stock exchange, Messrs. Kinckley and Schucke again reflect their desire and purpose of giving not only the best but the very newest attractions to the patrons of this theatre. From the very opening of the season the management have the assurance of the superior brand of entertainment, in a varying and satisfying manner, and they have secured a most successful success in a manner already produced, and these scheduled for presentation is sufficiently convincing of this fact.

The advance sale of tickets for the coming week's production indicates capacity audiences at all performances. Such being the case it behooves patrons to make their reservations early and avoid possible disappointment. The box office is open daily from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m.

LARRY CRANE A FEATURE OF KEITH'S THEATRE NEXT WEEK —EASTER HILLS

The special Easter bills at the B. P. Keith theatre, tomorrow, will be more than ordinarily radiant with good acts. Billy Wilson will deliver over some of his choicest songs and comedy stories, and Grey & Hyron, who are prime entertainers all of the time, will also be present and towarz, the vaudeville artist. Newcomers for the day will be Leo Ayer, Three Gillespie Sisters, Dolly Ward & Co. and Morgan & Sheehan. James and Sadie Leonard will give their first rate travesty called "When Caesar's Her," as the headline attraction for the coming week. Travesty is, idiosyncrasy under a magnifying glass—the Melpomene in the garb of Momo, according to the authors of the skill. James Leonard has made travesty his theatrical work and in the pursuit of this labor, he has given vaudeville its most delightful burlesques, but none of them is as pleasing as "When Caesar's Her." He is most capably assisted in his work by Sadie Leonard and Richard Anderson.

COMING MONDAY TO THE OWL, NORMA TALMADGE IN "A DAUGHTER OF TWO WORLDS."

Jimmy Duffy and Mr. Sweeney are billed as "Russian Entertainers." This is undoubtedly a little bit of humor on their part, for in reality the pair are experts in the strictly American type of entertainment, the kind that is commonly called "kidding." They have a splendid sense of humor. It is said that they plant "cultivated laughter."

Back to us, after a long, long absence, comes our fellow townsman, Lawrence Crane, known everywhere as the "humorous illusionist." Larry Crane has wandered all over this broad globe, giving his deft illusions, with touches of humor brought in here and there. He is assured of a royal welcome here, for his work has been carefully followed for many years. He will be assisted by Grace Andrews.

Olida Morris, who covered the gamut of musical comedy work, will add zest to the show with her thumb nail sketches, set to music. Her's is an unusual act as can be found anywhere, and she is a consummate portrayal of incidents, rather than types. Rome and Cullen are eccentric terpsichorean pantomimists—and they live right up to that long title. They are very generally known over all of the big circuits. The Marco Twins are not as alike as one sees in a post, for one is very tall and the other is very short. Comedy and contention are their strong points. The Three Blighty Girls are Scottish who sing and dance in the approved Scottish manner. This is their first American appearance. Kinograms, Topics of the Day, and a Bruce Seane complete the bill.

LOWELL DROPS ANOTHER TO FALL RIVER

While it is an established fact in polo that when a team wins the rushers get the credit and when it loses the goal tend is made the "goal," it can truthfully be stated that Pierce's dereliction last night had an important bearing on the Lowell defeat by Fall River by the score of 6 to 2.

Pierce usually one of the best goalies in the business had an off night and while Fall River deserves credit for its victory, the result would have been much different had Pierce been up to his usual mark. Three of the eight goals scored by the visitors were of the "fish" variety, while the others came as the result of real polo artistry.

One of the Fall River goals, the one that turned the tide in the final period, with Steve Pierce the hero, will be long remembered. The score was tied at four all, when Cusick hit a high one from the end of the rink. It was traveling fast, about ten feet in the air. Pierce was standing at the mouth of the goal, and he elevated his stick and headed the little red ball into the Lowell cage. This maneuver gave Fall River the edge and later one more was added for good measure.

Goal Tied. The game was in rare form. He had an extremely busy night, and only for his high class work, he instead of the Lowell man might be on the "man" in the end of the rink. From all angles, especially in the final period, but he stood up under the fire and emerged from the battle on top. In all, Pierce kicked out 37 Lowell drives. Harkins and Davies worked like trojans in an endeavor to pull out a victory. They employed all their cunning, but their efforts were fruitless. Hart and Pierce, the Fall River sharpshooters, also played a high class combination game, while "Big" Jean put up his usual effective exhibition.

Goals poured into the cages in the first session, Lowell getting five and Fall River four. It looked like a Lowell night, but the worst later turned. George Hart jammed through a brace as play opened. Harkins then followed with two. Hart landed another, after which Davies shot in three for Lowell. Pierce came through with one and a few minutes later the period ended.

In the second chapter the teams settled down and played a strong blocking game, with the result that but one goal was scored, this by Hart and it created a tie. In the third chapter, in another, but two minutes later Davies again equalized matters. Then came Pierce's feature goal of the night, which was followed by Hart's sixth, the final score of the night. The line-up and score:

PROVIDENCE BEATS WORCESTER
PROVIDENCE, April 2.—In the local rink last night, the Providence team won easily from Worcester and emerged the victor on a 4-2 score. The Worcester end of the game was marked by excellent team work and both goal tends performed creditably.

WHATEVER TRIM WITCHES
NEW BEDFORD, April 3.—In a game marked by unusual roughness here last night, the New Bedford team won over Salem, 5 to 4. The final goal was slammed in on overtime by Duggan. Salem had hard luck with the ball, having jumped out of the net three times. The team also lost a goal on fouls. Hardy and Morrison were the offenders.

POLO NOTES
Salem here next Tuesday.
Davies and Harkins played great polo all the way. They were Blount a busy session, but the blond goalie was on the job every second.

Few first periods were productive of more goals than last evening's opening session.
Pierce and Hart worked like a machine and put up a high class exhibition of combination endeavor.

CHARLES STEINMETZ

EXPERT INVENTS NEW TYPE OF ELECTRIC

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Patents have been issued to Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz, acknowledged as one of the greatest electrical scientists of the age, for a new type of electric vehicle which, it is claimed, requires 30 per cent less battery than other vehicles of like capacity, is 25 per cent lighter in weight and can be manufactured for one-third less.

Steinmetz, who for 25 years has been chief consulting engineer for the General Electric Co., has been working for more than 15 years in developing the motors and drives that feature his new car. The General Electric, however, is not to benefit by his invention, as a new corporation is being formed under the name of the Steinmetz Syndicate to produce it for the market.

In describing the unusual features of his invention, Steinmetz says: "The method of motor control, by a storage cell floating on the field circuit, gives compound characteristics which result in ability to maintain speed on heavy upgrades and with heavy loads, a quicker set-away in starting and limits the maximum speed so a careless driver, even on down-grades, cannot race the car.

"On down-grades and in stopping, the motor automatically becomes a generator, acts as a brake and feeds electric current back into the battery. Therefore the car is perfectly safe when on heavy down-grades, without relying on the brakes. The brakes are used only for stopping the car, but never on down-grades, as the motor checks the speed and holds it to a safe limit. Incidentally this saves the wear of the brakes and recharges the battery, resulting in a better maintenance of mileage to hilly territory."

This motor arrangement in the Steinmetz car wholly eliminates the differential, makes possible a simpler and more compact power plant and reduces both the weight and the manufacturing cost of the car.

The company being formed to build the Steinmetz cars—which for the present will be confined to industrial trucks and light delivery cars—will have its general offices at Baltimore. Two million dollars of preferred stock will be issued at par and 100,000 shares of common stock with no par value. Washington and Baltimore capitalists, including William F. Ham, president of the Washington Railway & Electric Co., and Herbert A. Wagner, president of the Consolidated Gas, Electric Light and Power Co., of Baltimore, are directors in the new Steinmetz Syndicate.

FOLLOW THIS TEST TO KEEP CAR RIGHT

NEW YORK, April 2.—Students at the auto school of the West Side Y.M.C.A. here are not considered graduates before they know thoroughly the various ways to test an automobile and be certain it is in good running order. A concise table has been prepared by the instructors, which would be of good use not only to the pupils but to every motorist in the country.

Here is the course to follow, as presented at this Y:

1. GASOLINE
Is tank full?
Are pipes clean?
Is carburetor clean?
If carburetor needs adjusting, do it, otherwise leave it alone.
Does manifold leak?

2. COMPRESSION
To test: Open all petcocks except on cylinder to be tested.
Crank engine, noticing how strong compression is on each cylinder in turn.
You must turn the crank over twice for each cylinder.

3. IGNITION
A—Test for sparks by taking wire off any plug, hold wire about 1/4 inch from plug; crank engine with switch on. Spark should jump to plug. Make sure about switch being on for test.
B—Are batteries run down? Does vibrator (if any) buzz? Is timer clean? Does timer rotor make good contact?
C—Are any wires loose, burnt, wet, broken or short-circuited? Are spark plugs clean and point 1-50 inch apart?
D—Does magneto armature revolve? Is safety spark gap clean? Are interrupter points clean and adjusted right? Do all brushes make good contact? Is distributor clean? Is distributor rotor loose, broken or making poor contact?

F—Check all magneto wires as per "C."
G—Loose wires and terminals, neglected batteries and dirty gasoline cause much trouble. The above covers everything needed to start a gasoline engine. To keep it running, cooling, lubrication and a free exhaust is necessary.

PRIZE MOTOR ESSAY WRITTEN BY CHILD

Ten commandments for safety, composed by 11-year-old Beulah Garland, took the prize offered by the Cobourg, Ont., Motor club for the best essay on "How Children May Help to Avoid Motor Accidents." They are:

1. Thou shalt not play upon the street.
2. Thou shalt not cross the street, only at crossings, as there thou hast the right of way.
3. Thou shalt look before crossing the street.
4. Remember, after getting out of a car thou shalt not cross the street behind a car.
5. Thou shalt not get in or out of a car when it is moving.
6. Thou shalt not interfere with cars as thou mayest put them out of order and cause accidents.
7. Thou shalt not drop nails, glass or pins upon the road and cause motorists to have blowouts and perhaps accidents.
8. Thou shalt not light matches near gasoline.
9. Thou shalt not light matches near gasoline.
10. Thou shalt keep the motor rules when riding on a bicycle.
11. Thou shalt help old people across the street.

CAR SPRINKLERS START TOMORROW

Another definite sign of spring will greet Lowell people when they come downtown tomorrow morning for the street sprinkling cars will have started their annual mission of keeping Lowell's streets in splotch and span order.

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy, of the street department has given the word to the Worcester Street Sprinkling company to put their two cars in operation here tomorrow and Easter promenade will be assured of a complete absence of dust when they begin showing their spring finery.

Employees of the water department were engaged today under the direction of Supt. Robert Gardner in getting the hydrants in readiness for the sprinklers. From now on they will run daily until the late fall.

PRES. WILSON'S NOTE SHOCK TO TURKS

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 1.—(By the Associated Press)—President Wilson's note to the allies, intimating that the Turks must get out of Europe, came as a shock to all Turkish parties. Several brief dispatches asserting Mr. Wilson's note to that position, had been printed under Paris and London date lines, but until part of the actual text of the note appeared in local newspapers Turks were unwilling to believe it. Mr. Wilson's note appeared in a slightly censored form, which made the position of the United States seem harsher on the Turks than it appeared in the full text of the communication.

The note was equally displeasing to the Greeks who were much offended at the American president's apparent unwillingness to grant their claims to a large district about Smyrna, and his insistence that Adrianople be given to the Bulgarians. Italians and French have both emphasized in the local press their friendliness in working for the maintenance of the Turks in Constantinople. American business men here are apprehensive over the effect of the president's stand and there is considerable uneasiness as to the effect it will have in Asiatic Turkey, where 500 American-born teachers and relief workers are considered to be in considerable danger if the protection of Turkish forces should be withdrawn.

CRESCENT HILL PLANS STRONG NINE

The Crescent Hill association, one of the strongest of recently developed social and athletic organizations in the city, is laying plans for an active baseball season this summer, with a club in the field capable of meeting all comers. The athletic committee of the association is very anxious to develop one of the best teams in the city and to this end has made an early start.

The committee, with T. J. Casey as secretary, desires to meet the following men at club headquarters, 319 West Sixth street, next Monday evening at 8 o'clock: Ray Harrison, Twohey, M. Murphy, P. Murphy, Nichols, J. Manning, O. Verney, R. Falls, W. Pomfret, McPherson, J. Garvey, McCarthy, McGarr, T. Casey and J. Descoeau.

FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Stainer's "Crucifixion" was beautifully sung at the First Congregational church last night, by the chorus choir under the direction of Harry Hopkins. The principal soloists were Mrs. Olive Russell Dawley and Andrew McCarthy. After the cantata, Rev. Mr. Hawkins extended the right hand of fellowship to 74 new members.
